PORTAL SUIT JUDGE QUOTED, 'I AM STRICTLY PRO-LABOR'; SENATOR DEMANDS INQUIRY

EASTLAND TALKS OF IMPEACHMENT IF PICARD SPOKE AS WITNESS SAYS

Chrysler Corp. Lawyer Testifies Jurist Tried to Get Jury to Change Verdict That Upheld the Company.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—Senator Eastland (Dem.), Mississippi today suggested the House of Representatives investigate, "with a view to impeachment," United States District Judge Frank Picard, whose original decision, upheld by the Supreme Court, touched off the recent series of portal-to-portal pay suits.

Eastland advocated the inquiry at a hearing of the Senate judiciary subcommittee, which is considering measures to outlaw more than four billion dollars in back portal pay claims. He spoke up after hearing testimony concerning remarks which the Detroit judge is alleged to have made in the course of a hearing on a portal pay suit filed against the Chrysler Corp.

The witness who told of the alleged remark was Theodore R. Iserman, a New York attorney, who represented the Chrysler Corp. in the portal suit.

Tells of Remark.

Iserman testified that Judge Picard heard a suit for $250,000 brought against Chrysler by plant guards. He said that in the trial Picard said he wanted it "understood that I am strictly pro-labor—I want these men (the guards) to get every penny that is coming to them."

Iserman told the subcommittee that Picard later ordered this remark stricken from the record. The attorney testified he later had obtained a copy of the remark from the court reporter.

Eastland asked Iserman if the latter believed the alleged remark by Picard to be unfair.

Says it Was Unwise.

"I think it was very unwise, if not unfair," Iserman replied.

Eastland then said, "I think the House of Representatives should investigate the fairness of the remarks of the judge with a view to impeachment."

Iserman testified that the jury in the Chrysler case returned a verdict in favor of the corporation. He said Picard twice suggested that the jury change this

VANDEVENTER PLACE PICKED FOR VETERANS' HOSPITAL

East Half of Historic Street in 16-Acre Tract Approved by Truman for $15,000,000 Institution.

The east half of historic Vandeventer place has been selected as the site for the $15,000,000 veterans' hospital to be erected in St. Louis, the Veterans' Administration announced today.

President Truman has approved selection of a 16-acre tract bounded on the east by North Grand boulevard, on the north by Bell avenue, on the west by Spring avenue and on the south by Enright avenue.

Architects have been instructed to complete plans for the 1000-bed general hospital in six months. Such an undertaking usually requires eight months or more.

The tract takes in 14 mansions and a number of commercial establishments involving 26 owners. It will be necessary to resort to court action to void restrictive covenants now in effect on part of the property, it was pointed out.

A committee of medical experts appointed by the Veterans' Administration and the Mayor's Hospital Committee had recommended that the hospital be located within the 88-acre tenement area bounded by Grand boulevard, Compton avenue, Laclede avenue, Olive street and Lindell boulevard. The Veterans of Foreign Wars had urged it be erected in Forest Park.

The Veterans' Administration said the site selected is not far from the medical schools of St. Louis and Washington Universities, in keeping with the policy of locating its hospitals near medical schools.

Erection of the hospital will wipe out the stone gates at Vandeventer place and North Grand which for 76 years have guarded the east end of the two-block-long subdivision.

The place was laid out in 1870 by Peter Vandeventer, and ironclad restrictions enabled it to retain its character of residential reserve long after the forces of change engulfed much of the surrounding area.

GREEK SHIP SINKS AFTER EXPLOSION; 392 PERSONS LOST

ATHENS, Jan. 20 (AP)—The Merchant Marine Ministry announced tonight it was investigating the possibility that a time bomb sank the Greek steamer Chimarra 20 miles east of Athens Sunday, causing the worst maritime disaster in modern Greek history.

The ministry revised its estimate of deaths downward to 392 after additional persons were found alive. It reported 245 survivors.

The possibility that a mine sank the 1800-ton steamer as was first reported, was by no means ruled out. The ministry said it also was inquiring into the chance that some passenger might have been carrying munitions. Some 192 soldiers were aboard.

The ministry said 550 persons and a crew of 87 were on the ship. Of these 229 were reported saved and 16 others, first believed to have been lost, were found to have disembarked at Chaklis three hours before the pre-dawn explosion in the Gulf of Pentalion. The ship was a few miles off Rafina at the time.

Aristides Mytakis, a 44-year-old school teacher who survived the sinking, estimated that almost 200 of the casualties were women and children.

"I am afraid every child aboard was lost and 95 per cent of the women," he said.

Mytakis related that the ship sank so quickly that only two lifeboats could be launched. The decks were filled with a "solid wall of cursing fighting men"

N.A.M. OFFICER OPPOSES FORCED ARBITRATION

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP) — Walter B. Weisenburger, executive vice president of the National Association of Manufacturers, calls compulsory arbitration of labor disputes "unconstitutional, unfeasible and impractical."

Weisenburger said last night organized labor also is "understandably opposed" to compulsory arbitration because many of the primary functions of a labor union would be taken over by the courts. He presented his views in a prepared statement.

Plans for compulsory arbitration, Weisenburger said, "may be disguised by varying terminology, but all of them are substitutes for voluntary collective bargaining and, in greater or less degree, impose settlement by judicial decree or by board fiat."

He said that, "If an arbitration board's decisions were unsatisfactory to the union, there would be unrest and strikes against the government, with the possibility of large-scale industrial warfare.

"Compulsory arbitration would also sound the death knell of the free-enterprise system, as well as of collective bargaining, by putting the government in control of wage rates, and thereby in a position to set prices.

BABY SITTERS NOW ORGANIZED

NEWTON, Mass., Jan. 20 (UP) —A group of "unionized" Newton baby-sitters agreed to terms yesterday with housewives in the Auburndale section. The agreemnet includes a standard hourly pay rate of 25 cents, a night differential after midnight, authorization to entertain visitors and a clause on "overtime"—the difference between the time the parents promised to return and the time they actually checked in.

HARRIMAN PLANS TO HELP GEAR ECONOMIC COURSE TO FOREIGN POLICY

Commerce Secretary Here for Mississippi Valley Conference — Expects to Work Closely With Gen. Marshall.

United States Secretary of Commerce W. Averell Harriman, in St. Louis to address the Mississippi Valley Association, said today that he expected to work very closely with Secretary of State designate George C. Marshall in gearing economic policy to the nation's foreign policy.

The forced departure of Harriman's predecessor in office, Henry A. Wallace, was occasioned by a public disagreement over foreign policy with Secretary of State James F. Byrnes.

Harriman, however, pointed out that he was "in very close touch with Gen. Marshall during the war." He praised the appointment of Gen. Marshall in the highest terms and said he expected to work with him very closely on foreign policy.

Because he had not had an opportunity to confer with Gen. Marshall since Marshall's appointment, Harriman was cautious in discussing foreign policy. Harriman has served as American Ambassador both in London and in Moscow. In his new post he will serve as a member of the National Advisory Council passing on foreign loans.

Such loans, he said, should be reviewed carefully, but granted in instances where it will help a foreign nation to stand on its own feet, so that American relief can be discontinued. A considerable expansion in foreign trade can help serve the same purpose, he said without interfering with the American economy.

Views on Loan to Russia.

As Ambassador at Moscow, Harriman pointed out he had recommended that a loan be made to Soviet Russia, "on the basis of reaching an economic understanding with Russia parallel to that reached with Britain as a basis for the British loan. . . . But the Russians didn't seem to care to discuss this matter, and the question has made no progress."

Despite this, Harriman said he was in favor of expanding our trade with Russia. The United States, he said, is in need of many Russian exports, such as lumber, pulp wood, chrome ore, bristles and furs, "but the question is whether Russia can get these things out." Russia, on her part, needs American machinery, he said.

Harriman said he favored the American policy looking toward the economic unification and peacetime rehabilitation of Ger-

COMMUNIST BLOC TAKES BIG LEAD IN POLISH VOTING FOR PARLIAMENT

Mikolajczyk Says He May Ask Supreme Court to Nullify Election as Fraud — Eight Persons Killed.

WARSAW, Jan. 20 (UP)—Official returns from 394 districts in yesterday's election, including 49 in Warsaw, gave the Government bloc 560,278 votes to 53,146 for Stanislaw Mikolajczyk's Peasant party.

WARSAW, Jan. 20 (AP) — The Communist-dominated government bloc parties appeared tonight to have won up to 80 per cent of the seats in the Sunday parliamentary election.

Landslide votes were cast in the big cities and heavily populated industrial areas where Vice Premier Stanislaw Mikolajczyk's opposition Polish Peasant party (PSL) was at its greatest disadvantage.

It appeared that the PSL and its offshoot, the New Liberation party, were likely to share the remaining 20 per cent of the 444 seats in parliament.

Mikolajczyk virtually abandoned hopes for victory by announcing he probably would ask the Supreme Court to nullify the election, charging irregularities and violations of secrecy.

The first 18 precincts in Warsaw gave the government bloc candidates 20,633 votes to 5,576 for the PSL, 4222 for the independent Labor party and 1409 for others.

12,000,000 Votes Cast.

More than 100,000 volunteer militiamen aided the security police in guarding the ballot boxes against possible attack from the underground. It was estimated that 12,000,000 votes were cast. The government asserted the election was legal and orderly throughout Poland. Eight persons were killed in two election incidents.

Complete unofficial returns are expected within 48 hours. The official result will be announced Jan. 31.

The bloc parties—the Communist-backed Workers party, Socialists, Democrats and Independent Peasants—rolled up big majorities in all sections, election counters said.

The territories which Poland absorbed from Germany were reported to have given tremendous majorities to the bloc candidates.

Government informants said unofficial returns showed that lower Silesia gave the bloc 91 per cent and the PSL 6 per cent. The same sources said that partial returns from Krakow, one of Mikolajczyk's strongest centers, gave

TALMADGE REJECTS DEMAND HE YIELD TO THOMPSON; WILL LET COURTS DECIDE

Talmadge Refusing to Vacate —Associated Press Wirephoto.

HERMAN TALMADGE (left) telling LT. GOV. M. E. THOMPSON (right) today that he has no intention of vacating the office of Governor of Georgia to which he was named by the State Legislature. Thompson now claims to be acting Governor.

CLAIMANT TURNS BACK HIS RIVAL FACE-TO-FACE IN GEORGIA CAPITOL

ATLANTA, Jan. 20 (AP)—Herman Talmadge, in a brief face-to-face encounter in the executive chambers, today refused to recognize Lt. Gov. M. E. Thompson as Acting Governor of Georgia, but renewed a promise to abide by a court decision in the controversy.

Thompson then set up an Acting Governor's office in the suite of the floor above normally occupied by the President of the State Senate.

Meanwhile there were these other developments in the dual control of the state's government:

1. Students of five Atlanta colleges and the University of Georgia at Athens, 70 miles away, planned a march on the Capitol tomorrow to protest against Talmadge's assumption of the executive office.

2. The State House of Representatives, by an 88 to 64 vote, decided to invite Talmadge to address a joint session of the Legislature tomorrow as Governor. The Senate later adopted the resolution, 29 to 20. Efforts to have Thompson's name added to the resolution failed.

3. Attorney General Eugene Cook announced that he recognized Thompson as the Acting Governor and would substitute his name for that of Ellis Arnall in a court suit challenging Talmadge's occupation of the Governor's office.

Thompson Takes Oath.

4. Thompson, before the State Senate, took the oath again as Lieutenant Governor and added the words, "I will faithfully exercise the executive power of the State of Georgia." Thompson's addition of the executive power words to the regular oath brought a move to have it stricken from the Senate journal, but the move was ruled out of order.

5. Marvin Griffin, who is serving as Talmadge's Adjutant General, accused Col. R. W. Collins, Thompson's military chief, of delaying more than eight hours the dispatching of a convoy of National Guard trucks for flood relief at Rome, Ga. Collins was not available for a statement.

6. The House of Representatives received a bill to establish a white primary in Georgia. Both Talmadge and Thompson have agreed to such a bill.

Talmadge Called a Squatter.

In the House debate over the joint session resolution, Representative Aidy Durden of Albany, Ga., asserted: "Talmadge has no more than squatter's rights on the Governor's office. Not a man here can say he is legal Governor of Georgia. Therefore, I do not want to be a party to inviting him here until the courts have settled the issue."

Talmadge, at the first of his two daily press conferences, said that meetings being held in protest to his assumption of the executive powers were "the same crowd who tried to destroy the county unit and the white primary systems."

Georgia's Democratic primaries are held under the county unit system which is similar to the United States electoral college, with counties having unit votes based on population.

Rivals Shake Hands.

Talmadge told Thompson, "You have no right to claim this office. There is no vacancy. The General Assembly of Georgia has elected me as Governor."

Thompson, wearing a brown overcoat and clutching a brief case, said, "I take issue with you on that. If the courts decide that I am lawful Governor, I call on you to co-operate with me fully in the best interests of the state. By the same token, if you are declared Governor it is my purpose to co-operate with you."

Talmadge made no reply to this.

Thompson asked: "Then there is no argument between us but that this shall go to a decision in the courts?"

Talmadge answered in the affirmative and Thompson arose to leave, saying he would occupy offices of the Senate president.

Talmadge rose and said, "There will be no objection from me."

MARSHALL'S PLANE GROUNDED, TAKING OF OATH DELAYED

(Picture in Everyday Magazine.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—The swearing in of Gen. George C. Marshall as Secretary of State was delayed until tomorrow when bad weather forced his plane to land at Chicago today on a flight from the West Coast to the capital. Marshall continued his trip by train.

The ship put down at Chicago at 7:20 a.m. (St. Louis time), just two hours and 40 minutes before he was scheduled to take the oath in a White House ceremony. The Army's Air Transport Command headquarters reported there was "no possible chance" of Marshall completing the trip by air today.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross, announcing the change in plans for the swearing-in ceremony, said it would be held at 10 a.m. (St. Louis time) tomorrow, 24 hours after it was originally scheduled.

The General and his party, including Mrs. Marshall, went to a hotel, after arriving in Chicago.

"We were flying east of St. Louis, when we ran into bad weather," Marshall told reporters. "The weather was icing."

He did not explain why the plane flew on to Chicago, instead of returning to St. Louis. It earlier had been reported over St. Louis, en route east.

Marshall and his party left Chicago by train shortly before noon and were scheduled to reach Washington early tomorrow morning.

The Airways Communications Station here and the control tower at Lambert-St. Louis Field said they had no record of Gen. Marshall's plane passing over St. Louis. The plane apparently did not communicate with ground stations here, they said.

ITALY PROTESTS AGAINST TERMS OF PEACE TREATY

Note to Big 4 Powers Says Rome Finds It Necessary 'To Formulate Most Express Reserves.'

ROME, Jan. 20 (AP) — The foreign ministry announced tonight that Italy had filed a strong protest with the United States, Britain, Russia and France against the terms of the Italian peace treaty to be signed at Paris Feb. 10.

A note to the Big Four powers said Italy found it necessary to "formulate the most express reserves" to terms of the treaty which reduces Italy's prewar territory and cuts its armed forces and armaments potential.

The precise points of Italian protest against the peace treaty were not disclosed at once. The Italians protested bitterly at the Paris conference, where the treaty was drafted, against many of the terms being imposed by the victors.

600 IN LINE TO ANSWER AD FOR TENANT; EX-G.I. WINS OUT

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 20 (UP) —Margaret Garrett put a small advertisement in a newspaper announcing she had a small apartment for rent and there was "no objection to children." Applicants were to appear in person between noon and 5 p.m. yesterday.

The line began to form before 9 a.m. A bus line rerouted its busses to make doorstep deliveries. Confronted with over 600 applicants, Miss Garrett selected a war veteran, Henry Van Wassen, his wife and 18-month-old son. Another veteran, Robert Groves, rented two rooms on the third floor.

MILK PRICE DROPS ONE CENT AT MOST DAIRIES IN ST. LOUIS

Milk prices in the St. Louis area dropped 1 cent a quart today at most of the dairies. Grade A milk was being sold at 19½ cents a quart.

Butter prices here are dropping steadily, according to a spokesman for the Beatrice Creamery Co. He said that in the last eight days the price of butter at his company has dropped from 84 cents to 72 cents a pound. He attributed the reduction to less demand for high priced butter and the accumulation of a stockpile. Other major dairies are selling butter at 76 cents a pound. A reduction of 2 cents a pound was made Saturday.

The Agriculture Department has forecast a decline in domestic demand for dairy products in 1947 and that exports will be considerably under wartime levels.

Milk production is expected to remain at or near the 1946 levels but the prices for dairy products are likely to decline more than seasonally from January to June 1947.

The department said butter prices will respond to the ending of wartime demands and Government controls by the first seasonal price decline in five years. Cheese is expected to be more plentiful and prices lower than during the last half of 1946.

TWO MILLION IN OVERTIME AWARDED TO WAR WORKERS

U. S. to Pay Bomber Plant Employes for Hours over 40.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 20 (AP)—Twenty-five hundred Northwest Airlines employes were awarded $2,000,000 in overtime pay from the Government in a verdict handed down today by United States District Judge Gunnar H. Nordbye.

The suit was brought by war workers who were employed in Northwest's bomber modification center in St. Paul.

They asked for overtime for all hours worked over 40 hours in the period between the autumn of 1942 and the autumn of 1945. They had received overtime after 48 hours.

COLD WAVE MARKS END OF THREE DAYS OF FOG AND SMOKE

A cold wave preceded by strong northwesterly winds and snow flurries this afternoon will send the temperature to about 18 above zero tomorrow morning, with colder weather to follow tomorrow night, Meteorologist Harry F. Wahlgren said today.

The change in the weather marks the end of three days of fog and smoke that disrupted air schedules and forced at least one airline to use Scott Field for certain flights destined for Lambert-St. Louis Airport. The fog now is reported blanketing the eastern states, with similar adverse effect on airline operations.

The skies over St. Louis will be clear tomorrow morning in the wake of the winds, while the temperature tomorrow night may get down in the neighborhood of 5 to 10 above, Wahlgren said.

BILBO UNDERGOES OPERATION; CONDITION REPORTED AS GOOD

Part of Bone in Jaw, Two Glands Removed in Second Phase of Surgery.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 20 (AP) —Theodore G. Bilbo, 69-year-old Democratic Senator-elect of Mississippi underwent his second operation here today for removal of a malignant growth from his mouth. He remained in the operating room at Touro Infirmary for about two hours.

Hospital officials said afterward that he was "in good condition and stood the operation very well." Today's operation was described as "not a major one," but it was said to be one requiring technical skill. It consisted of the removal of a piece of dead bone from the jaw, along with two glands.

In a previous operation last August the doctors removed the growth which Bilbo said was caused by a bad-fitting dental plate.

Report Cards for Parents, Rating Themselves, Urged by School Head

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 20 (UP) —Report cards for parents as well as for pupils were advocated today by Richard H. McFeely, headmaster of Friends' Central School.

"I have learned that there are times when a child's poor work may be attributed to conditions at home over which the parent has more control than the child," McFeely said.

He said the parents' report cards should be rated by the parents themselves, based on the following questions:

1. Do I provide a quiet study room for my children away from family, telephone and radio?
2. Do I insist on a regular study time?
3. Do I fail to consult with the child or his teacher when a poor report card is brought home?
4. Do I require my children to stay at home and study on evenings before a school day?
5. Do I insist that my children get adequate sleep?
6. Do I avoid criticism of teachers and school before my children?
7. Is the homework help I give my children such that they do not become dependent on me?
8. Do I refuse to permit my children to do things of which I do not approve, even when they tell me "everybody else does?"
9. Do I refuse to permit my children to have unchaperoned parties in my home or to go to such parties held in the home of others?
10. Do I listen to my children's versions of their successes and failures?
11. Do I bear in mind my child's aptitudes as I read the report form?
12. Do I praise the good things before I criticize the poor things?

Listening to Shrimps the Job Of Two on Antarctic Expeditions

By FRED SPARKS
The Chicago Daily News-Post-Dispatch Special Radio. Copyright, 1947.

ABOARD THE U.S.S. MT. OLYMPUS, off Little America, Jan. 20—While the four ships of this Antarctic expedieition are being slowly unloaded and the camp at Little America begins to take shape, there are other things going on in the area. For instance, two men are listening to shrimps. Yes, listening to shrimps.

They have special radio gear that they drop over the side of the icebreaker Northwind. Through earphones they can hear the sounds fish and other sea folk make. They are particularly interested in shrimps. The two men are Richard Taylor and Walter Cheney of the Naval Research Laboratory.

During the war submarines sitting on the bottom of Tokyo Bay, punching holes in passing Jap ships, had trouble hearing anything on their radios. Study proved that interference came from shrimps. Further analysis showed that shrimps, lobsters, clams and other crustaceans are the noisiest people that live in the ocean. They are forever clacking their claws or shells together. Some of this racket apparently gives off radio waves and intereferes with reception.

By learning just how much noise and what kind the shrimps make, Taylor and Cheney hope to suggest adjustments to improve submarine radio gear.

BRITAIN ASSURES STALIN 20-YEAR TREATY OF MUTUAL AID STILL STANDS

Statement of Pravda That Bevin Considered U.N. Had Superseded Anglo-Russian Pact Formally Denied.

LONDON, Jan. 20 (AP)—Britain formally denied last night that it had repudiated its 20-year treaty of alliance with Soviet Russia, as charged by Pravda. The Government sent word to Generalissimo Stalin that it considered Pravda's assertions "most misleading," and served notice that Britain does not consider that the United Nations has superseded the treaty signed in 1942.

Pravda, in an article Wednesday, had cited Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin's Dec. 22 statement that Britain "does not tie herself to anybody." The Communist paper said it was obvious that Bevin was "repudiating the Anglo-Soviet treaty of mutual aid."

The reply was rare for the foreign office, which usually does not respond on diplomatic level to comments in foreign newspapers. It instructed the British ambassador in Moscow, Sir Maurice Peterson, to convey to Stalin a statement saying:

"The fact that both governments wish to make the United National organization into an effective buttress of international security does not mean that the treaty lapses merely because United Nations organization has come into being.

"Moreover, no security agreements have yet been adopted under article 43 of the charter such as could possibly be held to justify its supersession."

Text of London Reply.

Text of the British statement:

"His Majesty's ambassador in Moscow has been instructed to communicate to Generalissimo Stalin the following statement of the views of His Majesty's Government regarding an article which was published in Pravda on Jan. 15:

"His Majesty's Government were surprised at a suggestion which was elaborated in the most misleading manner by Pravda in an article of Jan. 15 that the Anglo-Soviet treaty of alliance and post-war collaboration might be regarded in London as suspended by the United Nations Organization.

"The Foreign Secretary on behalf of His Majesty's Government has several times urged an extension of the treaty and has expressed regret that His Majesty's Government's proposals to this effect have not found acceptance by the Soviet Government. His Majesty's Government's attitude has not changed and it has never occurred to them to consider that the treaty could have been superseded or suspended. Article IV of the treaty binds both countries to come to each other's assistance in the event of renewed aggression by Germany, and the text states that this article is to remain in force until both parties agree to supersede it. This seems to be perfectly clear and satisfactory.

Explains Bevin's Comments.

"The fact that both Governments wish to make the United Nations Organization into an effective buttress of international security, does not mean that the treaty lapses merely because United Nations Organization has come into being. Moreover no security agreements have yet been adopted under Article 43 of the Charter such as could possibly be held to justify its supersession.

"Pravda also quoted Mr. Bevin's broadcast of Dec. 22 as evidence that in his view the alliance was dead. There is no question of this. The broadcast was intended to show that Britain's foreign policy was not aligned in an anti-Soviet direction but on the contrary favored co-operation among all the United Nations and especially with Soviet Russia and the United States of America with the object of preserving peace and aiding reconstruction.

"Mr. Bevin's words that Great Britain 'does not tie herself to anybody except in regard to her obligations under the Charter' were quoted by Pravda on Jan. 15 out of their context, for he had just explained that he was answering the allegations that British relations with Soviet Russia were not so close as they should be and he went on to express His Majesty's Government's great desire for complete understanding and their readiness to co-operate with the Soviet Union. The logical conclusion of Pravda's interpretation of Mr. Bevin's remarks would be that all treaties and agreements between states are automatically superseded by the existence of United Nations Organization, which would obviously be absurd."

Iserman said Picard then set the verdict aside. He said Chrysler settled out of court for $35,000 rather than go through a new trial.

Eastland asked Iserman if Picard had "coerced the company into settling the claim."

"Yes, definitely," Iserman said.

Under questioning, Iserman told Chairman Donnell (Rep.), Missouri, that Picard made these statements in the presence of the jury and before a few court spectators.

At Donnell's request, Iserman agreed to obtain a verbatim copy of remarks he attributed to Picard, and submit it to the subcommittee.

Iserman said the case to which he referred was docketed as "Ackroyd versus Chrysler."

Earlier, Iserman testified that "about 12 to 13" portal pay suits aggregating $130,000,000 to $145,000,000 are pending against Chrysler. He told the subcommittee that while he was not speaking "on behalf" of any of his clients, including Chrysler, "I do speak with intimate knowledge of their problem."

Prior to Iserman's testimony, Roland Rice, general counsel for the American Trucking Association, told the subcommittee that the industry was in the "gravest jeopardy" because of Wage-Hour Act "uncertainties."

Rice urged legislation to prevent the portal suits, but testified that this was only one of several provisions which threatened "bankruptcy" to some trucking employers.

James P. Rogers, executive secretary of Western Woods Employers, Portland, Ore., said the Supreme Court's portal decision had made "confusion twice confounded" and involved "unrealistic guessing games."

"It is our profound belief," he went on, "that the present situation is a disaster not only to industry but to labor and to the whole national well being."

Meanwhile, after a nine-day lull in the rush of proposals for changing labor laws, the introduction of new bills was to begin again today.

Representative Landis (Rep.), Indiana, was ready with a measure designed to prevent serious industry-wide strikes through a series of steps climaxed by Government seizure.

Landis described his bill as "about half way between free collective bargaining and compulsory arbitration." It would apply to disputes in Government-licensed public utilities (except railroads) and in interstate companies affecting national health or safety. Landis includes coal and steel in that.

If collective bargaining failed, the parties would be given five days to pick a five-man board to make a finding. The board would have two men chosen by the union, two by the management and a fifth by the other four. There would be a 60-day cooling-off period while the board made its finding.

Rejection by Either Side.

Either side could reject the finding, but a rejection by the union would have to be approved by a majority vote of the members.

If either side refused to participate in the board, or rejected the finding, and if a strike or lockout resulted, the President could seize the properties, stating which side caused the stoppage.

If the union caused it, the company would continue to get the profits and assume the risk of the business. If the company caused it, the Government would get the profits and assume the risk, and would be free to put wage increases into effect. If the business lost money for 60 days, the property would be returned to its owner. Employes would be forbidden to strike. If they did, the Government could fire them, but no other penalties are provided.

Senator McCarthy (Rep.), Wisconsin, was ready to introduce a bill to leave [illegible] issue to a two-thirds vote of the employes in each plant.

Senator Ferguson (Rep.), Michigan, has just about finished writing a bill to establish a separate system of labor courts.

A group of Senate Democrats, including Senator James Murray (Montana), are working on legislation to carry out all of President Truman's labor proposal to Congress, including the barring of many jurisdictional strikes.

Senator Ball (Rep.), Minnesota, will introduce another in his series of bills—perhaps Friday. This one would amend the Wagner Act.

Meanwhile, Ball cleared up a point about which there had been some uncertainty: Whether the Ball-Taft-Smith bill in the Senate would have the effect of outlawing the checkoff. Under the check-off system, an employer collects dues for the union by deducting the money from pay checks.

This stems from a provision which says an employer cannot turn over any money to union representatives, though he can make payments into welfare funds jointly managed by the company and the union.

Statement by Judge Picard on Testimony.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP)—United States District Judge Frank Picard said today that his "decisions have never at any time been influenced" by his pro-labor or pro-capital views.

Picard, now a visiting judge sitting in the Southern District of New York District Court, made the comment when asked about testimony by an attorney at a Senate hearing to the effect that at a trial Picard said he wanted it "understood that I am strictly pro-labor"—a remark which he later ordered stricken from the court record.

Picard commented today: "Certainly I am pro-labor, but most certainly I am also pro-capital, and my decisions have never at any time been influenced by those feelings and I am certain my decisions speak for themselves. Can it be that someone is trying to influence my coming decision in the (Mount Clemens) Pottery (Co.) case? Well, they won't."

Picard denied Attorney Theodore R. Iserman's testimony before the Senate subcommittee that Picard twice suggested that the jury in the Chrysler case change its verdict in favor of the corporation, and that it refused.

Picard said: "That is not true. I sent it back to the jury to have them clarify their verdict."

RIGHT TO APPEAL OPA EVICTION ORDER UPHELD

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (UP)—The Supreme Court ruled today that a tenant faced with OPA-approved proceedings still may protest to OPA and challenge the eviction in the United States Emergency Court of Appeals.

The 6-to-3 decision was written by Justice Black. Chief Justice Vinson and Justices Frankfurter and Burton dissented.

The decision reversed rulings by the OPA and by the Emergency Court of Appeals itself. It was in a case brought by 15 New York tenants who were ordered to vacate their apartments by a group of new owners who bought individual apartments by forming a co-operative and purchasing shares of stock from two original owners.

The regional OPA turned down the eviction requests, but later National OPA officials approved them. The OPA then dismissed a protest by the tenants. The tenants appealed to the Supreme Court after the United States Emergency Court of Appeals agreed with the OPA.

The ruling does not mean the tenants may not have to move. It means merely that the Emergency Appeals Court must consider their protest.

PEACE LARGELY UP TO RUSSIANS, SAYS VANDENBERG

Senator 'Cautiously Hopeful' but Asserts U. S. Should Not Relax Vigilance.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—Senator Vandenberg (Rep.), Michigan, says he is "cautiously hopeful" over the prospect for improving relations with Russia "but I would never relax our vigilance for one split second."

The statement of the Senate Foreign Relations chairman drew on enthusiastic "amen" from William R. Castle of the United States Chamber of Commerce and Albert S. Goss, master of the National Grange.

Nelson Cruikshank of the American Federation of Labor, taking part with the other three in a radio broadcast yesterday, had nothing to say on the point.

The general subject of their half-hour discussion was the question, "Are we making progress toward world peace?" All four agreed that progress is being achieved. They laid stress on the unity of purpose shown in subsidiary organizations of the United Nations.

U.N.'s Achievements.

Vandenberg said the U.N. itself already has "tempered" several situations that easily could have started war under the old order and has initiated movements "which promise vital contribution toward the substitution of justice for force in our pursuit of a free world of free men."

The Senator called Russia "the world's greatest conundrum." He said the question of future Soviet relations "is the issue upon which everything else hangs."

"We can neither condone nor appease conquest," he said. "We must require reciprocal fair play on a two-way street. There is a deadline beyond which we will not compromise our ideals. The answer to this question is largely in Moscow's hands.

"But I think our present policy of firm but friendly candor is making headway."

Comment by Others.

The Senator's description of Russia as a "conundrum" summed up comments by Cruikshank and Goss who said business and agriculture both want to deal with the Soviet Union but are unable to get the Russians to deal or to state their position.

Vandenberg expressed the opinion that "there is no longer any partisan politics in the fixed and united American foreign policy." He said, however, that he expects the newly-dominant Republicans in Congress to "ask more questions" on issues of economic co-operation.

"We are bound to inquire of the world to what extent we are to be required to face state monopolies abroad; in trading, for example," he said.

"We are bound to inquire to what extent other countries are going to continue to make bilateral trade agreements for political purposes, instead of multilateral agreements such as we are committed to undertake."

JOHN L. LEWIS VISITS MOTHER

The AFL United Mine Workers president planned a short visit at his mother's home here, friends said.

ITALIAN PREMIER DE GASPERI QUITS IN POLITICAL MOVE

President Expected to Ask Him to Resume Post in Forming New Government.

ROME, Jan. 20 (AP)—Premier Alcide de Gasperi's Government resigned today. President Enrico de Nicola accepted the resignation, but scheduled a conference with De Gasperi tomorrow in the first of the consultations that will lead to a new government. De Gasperi generally was expected to be asked to resume the premiership.

The cabinet crisis came only a few days after De Gasperi's fruitful trip to the United States in quest of financial and economic aid. His four-party Government has served six months but has recently shown signs of breaking up.

De Gasperi said he sought to clarify the situation. He mentioned specifically the division in the Socialist party, headed by Foreign Minister Pietro Nenni. One branch of the party has broken off, protesting that Nenni had collaborated too much with the Communists. Nenni offered his resignation as Foreign Minister Saturday. De Gasperi adheres to the Christian Socialist party.

The Premier had announced his resignation in a statement whose tenor led many of his hearers to believe he was confident of coming out on top in the crisis.

Police yesterday broke up an hour-long riot of some 1000 former Fascists and anti-Fascists who met on the campus of Rome University for a forget-and-forgive ceremony. Ten persons were injured.

The gathering was the latest in a series of Sunday goodwill meetings at which the two extremes in Italian politics have tried to forget their differences for the good of the country.

An eye-witness reported the trouble started when a heckler interrupted the first speaker, a former Fascist. A fist fight developed between the heckler and the speaker's supporters, spreading throughout the crowd.

$33,911,000 LOSS ON HOUSING PROBLEMS OF WORLD WAR I

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—The Government closed its books today on 28 years of housing woes left over from World War I. The final check-up showed a loss of $33,911,000 on an original investment of $66,500,000.

A report to Congress by Commissioner John H. Fahey of the Federal Home Loan Bank Administration, told of the final liquidation of the United States Housing Corporation. It was created in 1918 to provide quarters for war workers.

While the bulk of the housing was sold in the first few years after the Armistice, some 450 houses were left. They became involved in long-drawn court battles over taxes and property rights with the result that for many years they were occupied practically rent free.

HELICOPTER LOST IN SEA IN ANTARCTIC; 2 RESCUED

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

LITTLE AMERICA, Jan. 19 (Delayed) (AP)—Capt. George Dufek of Rockford, Ill., commander of the eastern Antarctic task group, and his pilot, were rescued uninjured today from icy polar waters after their helicopter crashed into the sea. The plane was lost.

R. Adm. Richard H. Cruzen gave no details of the rescue other than to say the pilot, whom he did not further identify, and Dufex, a passenger, escaped injury. Both men wore life preservers.

Cruzen said the plane, its rotor blades coated with ice, dropped into the sea while attempting to land on the platform of the seaplane tender Pine Island. The plane was not equipped with floats.

It was the eastern group's second plane crash in three weeks. A PBM flying boat crashed three weeks ago, killing three of nine crew members.

An accident also was reported in the central group, now at Bay of Whales near the Little America base. Jack E. Perkins of Pungo, Va., broke an ankle while being towed on skis behind a weasel, an amphibious tractor. He was en route to the Little America base with a large party.

The group went to the base, established by another expedition in 1940, to give Navy photographers a chance to make pictures and to afford scientists an opportunity for further studies.

The base was first visited by members of the present expedition three days ago. Buildings are buried under several feet of snow.

Submarine Gives Up.

Meantime, Cruzen announced that the submarine Sennet will give up its attempt to cut through the ice pack encircling Little America and will start home about Feb. 1.

The Sennet is now in the vicinity of Scott island, outside the pack. It was escorted there by the icebreaker Northwind after making a futile attempt to get through.

"There's just too much ice," Cruzen said.

The Sennet is now making under water studies of temperatures, salinity and microscopic life in the vicinity of Scott Island. Cruzen said it will make no under-ice tests because they are "not particularly worthwhile in that neck of the woods."

Crews Unloading Supplies.

Here at Little America the work of unloading 4224 tons of cargo from the cargo ship, Yancey is progressing, with men working around the clock. Yesterday a tractor pulled the first sledload of supplies up the snow ramp leading to the supply depot on top of the glacier. Cruzen said he could not estimate the time required to complete the job.

The wind is blowing the ice floes out of the bay where the ships are anchored, making the harbor more tenable. Reports from the eastern and western task groups on the rim of the Antarctic say the weather is still bad and they are unable to send aircraft out on photographic reconnaissance flights.

The supplies are for the tent town which will be built atop a glacier which, in fact, is resting on the Ross sea. The town will be established for workmen who will lay out the first air strip. The tent town will be named "High Jump Base" and that is a suitable name, since it is like a pole vault from the low flat bay on to the glacier 120 feet high.

When the Yancey tied up alongside the ice Saturday morning, 10 men went ashore and moored the ship after chasing away the birds. A loudspeaker aboard ship directed the men ashore, who began assembling a snowplow, a weasel (power sled) and sleds. The temperature rose to 29 during the day. One of the crew on the ice worked in shirt sleeves.

The expedition brought along two six-wheeled trucks and four jeeps equipped with oversize low-pressure tires, but it was found that their wheels merely dug down through the sandlike snow until it struck hard but hopelessly slippery ice.

The granulated surface on which the crews are working is the South Pole's noted—or notorious—"neve." R. Adm. Richard E. Byrd has described it as "not snow and not ice—just neve."

The Mount Olympus and the cargo ship Merrick, just outside the bay, are waiting to enter behind the Northwind, probably Monday.

The ice-breaker Burton Island sailed Friday from San Diego Calif., to aid the expedition group on its departure trip next spring.

Weather Delays Progress.

Delays caused by bad weather and heavy ice already have put a crimp in the expedition's plans. Arrival in the Bay of Whales had been scheduled for Jan. 5 but 15 days were spent negotiating the icepack and ships of this group had to lie outside the bay since Wednesday.

Officers believed the six Douglas transports aboard the carrier Philippine Sea can land on the airstrip without special preparation except smoothing the ice.

The Northwind presently is scheduled to leave here Jan. 20 to rendezvous with the Philippine Sea Jan. 25, but everything is uncertain. The icebreaker cannot go until it is certain that the three thin-hulled ships of this group—the Yancey, the cargo ship Merrick, and the flagship Mt. Olympus—are safe.

Wheat Ships Turn Toward Italy.

'COMMON CAUSE' GROUP SEEKS NEW BIRTH OF FREEDOM

Organization Outlines 7 Points of Democracy to Oppose Communism, Fascism.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (UP)—An organization known as "Common Cause," designed to promote Democracy in opposition to Communism and Fascism, began functioning today. The organization called for "a new birth of freedom in America through a militant reaffirmation of Democratic faith that will transcend class, religious and racial allegiances."

A committee composed of Dr. George S. Counts, Adolf A. Berle Jr., Mrs. Henry Breckinridge, Dr. Harry J. Carman, Russell W. Davenport, Edmund Ezra Day, George Fielding Eliot, Christopher T. Emmet, Mrs. Ramsay Hunt, Isabel Leighton, Lois Mattox Miller, Bishop Austin Pardue, Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., Dorothy Thompson and Sumner Welles, outlined what it said were the seven points of Democracy: (1) Personal worth; (2) Freedom; (3) Equality; (4) The rule of law; (5) Individual opportunity; (6) Public morality and (7) Individual responsibility.

An advisory council of the group is composed of Brooks Atkinson, Dr. L. M. Birkhead, Edwin Foster Blair, Follett Bradley, Lyman Bryson, Carl Carmer, Hodding Carter, Bishop Wallace E. Conkling, Gano Dunn, Max Eastman, Charles Edison, Louis Fischer, Wilbur Forrest, Dr. Clark G. Kuebler, Rabbi Louis L. Mann, Anne O'Hare McCormick, Newbold Morris, Malcolm Muir, William I. Nichols, Bishop G. Ashton Oldham, A. Philip Randolph, Ruth Bryan Rohde, Mrs. William Dick Sporborg, Charles L. Sillman and Edgar Ansel Mowrer. Mrs. Natalie Wales Latham, who founded the "Bundles for Britain" campaign, is chairman of the group.

GANDHI SAYS HE WON'T LEAVE BENGAL ALIVE IF MISSION FAILS

ATAKHORA, Bengal Province, India, Jan. 20 (UP)—Mohandas K. Gandhi, who is walking from village to village in this province in an effort to bring peace to the Hindus and Moslems, said last night that if his mission failed he would not leave Bengal alive.

After a prayer meeting, Gandhi declared he did not ascribe superior powers to himself, but predicted that if he succeeded in overcoming Moslem distrust of Hindus in Bengal the effect would be noticed all over India.

Possibly, he added, peace in India would affect world peace.

'GAG RULE' CHARGE BY DEMOCRATS IN BUDGET REVIEW BY A SUBCOMMITTEE

Keefe Says Senator O'Mahoney Is 'Crazy as a Bedbug' for Protest — Byrd for 32 Billion Top.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—Congress' first formal effort at review of President Truman's $37,500,000,000 budget wound up today with some Democrats crying "gag rule" at Republicans.

Under the Congressional Reorganization Act, study of the budget is a matter for a 102-member group composed of members of committees handling appropriations and taxation legislation.

This group met and decided to turn the job over to a 20-member subcommittee headed by Representative Taber (Rep.), New York.

He asserted members of the larger group would have no opportunity to voice their views to Taber's committee.

Republican's Comment.

Representative Keefe (Rep.), Wisconsin, commented: "O'Mahoney is crazy as a bedbug if he says this is a gag rule."

Taber, who is chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, has promised to use a "sledge hammer and meat ax" on Truman's budget.

O'Mahoney contended powers of a "closed corporation" were given the 20-man subcommittee and "the gag has been applied" to others of the full committee.

A motion "to permit members of the four committees to appear at hearings of the subcommittee was made by Representatives Eberharter (Dem.), Pennsylvania, and Hendricks (Dem.), Florida, and defeated by the Republican majority, O'Mahoney said.

Then, O'Mahoney said, he moved that all committeemen be notified of every subcommittee meeting and the subjects to be taken up. This also was defeated, he said. O'Mahoney said:

"As the situation now stands, the subcommittee has full authority. Although it must report to the full committee, it can do that when its labors have been completed and there could be no effective opportunity for other members to present their views or shape decisions.

"We know it can easily become a closed corporation.

"Inasmuch as a purpose of the act was to make a more effective Congress, we've got to decide now whether this Congress will be a popular institution or a Congress managed by a small group into whose hands power shall gravitate."

Byrd's Position on Budget.

Senator Byrd (Dem.), Virginia, topped some Republican demands for cuts with an assertion that spending can be held to 32 billion dollars and all needed Government functions carried out.

Senator Taft (Rep.), Ohio, told reporters that "after a second look at the President's budget, I still feel we can reduce it by three to four billion dollars.

Senator George of Georgia, Democratic tax manager of the Senate, said, "It will be difficult to reduce the budget by more than $2,500,000,000.

"I do not believe we should at this time plan to cut taxes," George said. "The important thing is to balance the budget and make a payment on the nation's debt."

Taft, who is supporting the idea of a 20 per cent cut in personal income taxes, said he believed Democratic arguments that the reduction would mean a $3,500,000,000 loss in revenue "are fallacious." He said tax cuts might actually stimulate business to such an extent that revenue losses would be much lower than that.

Question of Revenues.

He said also it is possible that the President's budget message underestimated the revenues for the fiscal year beginning July 1. The President told Congress that revenues are expected to be sufficient to balance the budget of 37½ billion dollars and have $200,000,000 left over for payment on the national debt.

Representative Knutson (Rep.), Minnesota, another member, said the bill continuing excise taxes at their high, wartime rate indefinitely probably will not come to a vote in the House until next week. Unless Congress enacts it, the taxes on liquor, furs, transportation, luggage and various other items will drop automatically July 1.

Predicts Easy Sailing.

George predicted this bill, recommended by Truman to prevent a $1,200,000,000 annual loss in revenue, will sail easily through the Senate and House.

Although recommending extension of these taxes, Truman based his budget on the possibility they would not be continued. Thus, their extension would add $1,200,000,000 to the $200,000,000 surplus of revenues over spending under his calculations.

His budget, however, figured on no cut in income taxes, whereas Republican leaders are committed to make a cut.

Conference Speakers

many. Without such a measure, he said, Germany could not be self-supporting. Rehabilitation of both Germany and of Japan to the point where these nations can resume export trade is necessary for stable economies in the two defeated nations, he said. The economic unification of the British and American zones in Germany he termed "a step in the right direction."

Harriman declined to comment on the question of a loan to Czechoslovakia, held up because of Czech criticism of alleged American "dollar diplomacy." He praised British unity, in its efforts to re-establish her export trade, but declined to comment on the stability of the Labor Government. He asked not to be quoted on other phases of international politics.

Plans for Small Businesses.

Harriman volunteered an exposition of the Department of Commerce plans for helping small business plans developed under Wallace. He noted work by the Department in making German business developments available to American businessmen.

The Secretary of Commerce wore a neat pinstripe suit at his press conference. When he arrived by plane yesterday he wore a pair of trousers that were baggy in the knees, members of the Department staff in St. Louis said. They expressed private surprise that their new boss, a multi-millionaire, "talks to you just like any other guy."

Address by Lachlan Macleay.

As the Mississippi Valley Association meeting opened today, Lachlan Macleay of Webster Groves, president, told the group that there is a permanent trend of industry toward the midwestern area and away from the "congested East." The convention is being held at Hotel Statler.

The association president reported on an economic survey made by the association last year. It revealed, he said, that "during the war more than 58 per cent of the 17 billion dollars spent by the Federal Government for the construction of industrial facilities was expended in the mid-continent area."

In tracing the postwar disposition of these facilities, he said the association found that "through August of last year, 259 of the war-built plants in the mid-continent area had been purchased outright from the Government—an investment by private capital of $306,705,000. An additional 69 plants had been taken over by private industry under lease. These plants represent an investment of $618,000,000, in round figtures. Of all sales of Government-owned plants to the end of August, 57 per cent were in this area as well as 68 per cent of the leases to private business."

Rise in Employment.

Besides taking over Government plants, Macleay said that private industry has expanded its own facilities in this area. "Industrial employment throughout the area greatly exceeds the total of 1940," he said. He added that the survey "indicates a definite march of permanent industrial progress away from the congested East out here to the nature resource storehouse and food shop of America."

St. Louis postwar manufacturing employment was 76 per cent greater last year than in 1940, Macleay declared.

A greatly expanded trade between the Mississippi Valley region and Latin America was seen by Mayor de Lesseps S. Morrison of New Orleans, here to talk to the convention, today. Mayor Morrison said New Orleans already is second only to New York as a port — in gross deadweight tonnage, and is growing. "While Europe and Asia are devastated by war," said the 35-year-old Mayor, "Latin America is eager to do business with us, and our trade can be a natural two-way proposition."

He told of efforts by New Orleans to stimulate north - south trade. Mayor Morrison has made five goodwill trips to 13 Latin American countries in the last year. New Orleans has 21 local trade representatives in Latin American cities. The city has a Department of International Relations, and business men support an International House, which entertains foreign visitors and conducts research for foreign trade ventures.

Macleay, in addressing the convention today, stressed the fact that supporters of the Missouri Valley Authority plan have received little encouragement in the last 12 months. The year 1946, he said, saw "new setbacks for those who would impose upon this country the socialistic and bureaucratic straitjacket of regional authorities."

Flood Control Work.

Lt. Gen. R. A. Wheeler, chief of the Army Engineers, outlined some plans for flood control. Since the end of the war, he said, "Congress has appropriated about $320,000,000 for resuming work on the flood control program. These funds provide for work on 134 projects throughout the country. Of this number, construction is now underway on 86 projects, and the remaining 68 are scheduled to be started this spring or early summer."

Other speakers today included Chester C. Thompson, president of the American Waterways Operators in Washington; Congressman Walter C. Ploeser of St. Louis, Congressman Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas, Adm. J. F. Farley, commandant of the United States Coast Guard, and Missouri Conservation Commission Chairman E. Sydney Stephens. An address by W. C. Johnson, vice president of Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co., was read to the group. Johnson was unable to attend.

Convention officials said this meeting, the twenty-eighth annual convention of the association, devoted to the promotion of business and agricultural interests in the Midwest and South, was the largest since the association was founded. Harriman and Mayor Morrison were to speak tonight. The convention ends tomorrow.

FINED $100 FOR SHOOTING DOG WITH CHARGE OF ROCK SALT

William F. Farley, a laborer, was fined $100 by Police Judge George. J. Grellner today on a charge of cruelty to animals, after he admitted shooting a stray dog with a charge of rock salt.

Farley testified the stray dog had persisted in bothering his police dog and he shot it yesterday when it refused to leave the yard of his home at 1452 East College avenue. Sgt. Harold Present, field superintendent of the Humane Society of Missouri, testified the animal suffered six wounds of the right hind leg.

SELF-INFLICTED BULLET WOUND FATAL TO PATROLMAN'S WIFE

Mrs. Elizabeth Gierse, wife of Patrolman Henry Geirse, 4118A Shreve avenue, died at Christian Hospital yesterday of a bullet wound self-inflicted in their home Saturday morning.

Gierse told police he had retired after returning home from work Saturday morning and was awakened by a shot in time to see his wife collapse. She had fired four shots from his service revolver but only one bullet took effect.

Mrs. Gierse told police she had shot herself because of despondency over her ill health. She was 60 years old.

HEARING BY STATE SUPREME COURT ON POLICE UNION

By BOYD F. CARROLL
Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 20—A hearing on the legality of the controvarsial St. Louis police union concluded today before Division No. 1 of the Missouri Supreme Court and the case was taken under advisement. There was no indication when a decision might be handed down.

The case hinges not only on validity of a St. Louis Police Board rule barring unionization of Police Department personnel, but also involves the question as to whether Circuit Judge Eugene J. Sartorius had jurisdiction in the dispute.

Judge Sartorius last April 15 dismissed a suit in which the police union, Local 549, AFL American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, had sought a declaratory judgment on validity of the rule against unionization and an injunction to prevent enforcement of the rule.

Union's Appeal.

Judge Sartorius ruled he lacked jurisdiction and the union appealed from this decision.

Attorney Gen. J. E. Taylor, representing the Police Board, contended the trial court had no right to interfere with the boards' enforcement of the rule, and the proper procedure for the union would have been to seek a review by the State Supreme Court through certiorari proceedings.

S. D. Flanagan, attorney for the union, argued the rule against unionization is unreasonable, arbitrary, a violation of policemen's right to organize for collective bargaining, and a violation of both state and federal constitutional guarantees of freedom of speech, assembly and petition.

The case grew out of the board's dismissal of Richard T. Miller, former president of the union, and Bernard T. Casserly, former treasurer. The suit was filed in the names of nine other policemen on behalf of all the members.

Flanagan argued the trial of Miller and Casserly "would have been a disgrace to a military court." He said policemen found "jealousies and conditions in the department intolerable" and the only remedy lay through organizing.

One of Primary Points.

One of the major points in the appeal is the effect of a new provision in the 1945 Constitution, concerning organization of employes and collective bargaining. The provision has not been construed by the courts.

The provision, Sec. 29 of Article 1 (the bill of rights), is "that employes shall have the right to organize and to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing."

Counsel for the police union declared the board rule against membership is in conflict with this provision. They contended the provision applies to employes of state and municipal governments, and that the word "employes" is broad enough to include St. Louis policemen, even though they are officers of the city and state, by law.

State's Argument.

Attorney General Taylor asserted this section was not applicable because the state and its political subdivisions are not enumerated in the section. The St. Louis police force is established by state law and operates under state control.

Taylor said it was a fundamental rule of statutory and constitutional construction that unless an act or constitutional provision specifically mentions the state or its political subdivisions, the act or constitutional provision shall not be construed to include them.

"Particularly is this true," Taylor said, "when to do so would affect the sovereign rights of the state, or affect its capacity to perform State functions."

In this connection he said police officers were especially designated as officiers of the state as well as officers of the city. The constitutional provision did not apply to the St. Louis policemen, he said, because "by its very terms it applies only to employes."

Cancer Hospital Resignations.

HANNIBAL, Mo., Jan. 20 (AP)—Frank T. Hodgdon, chairman of the State Cancer Commission, said today he had called a commission meeting for Wednesday in St. Louis to consider the resignation of Dr. Everett D. Sugarbaker as superintendent and Velma Finney as superintendent of nurses at the State Cancer Hospital in Columbia.

EX-CONVICT BEATS AND ROBS WOMAN; HELD AFTER CHASE

Tells of Hiding in Tavern and Hitting Owner When She Denies Having Any Money.

Mrs. Katherine Steele, 67 years old, is in City Hospital today with scalp wounds and a contusion of the jaw received early Sunday when she was beaten with a hammer and robbed in her tavern at 3831 Olive street by a former convict, who hid in the place after closing hours. She occupies living quarters in the tavern.

The former convict, Morton S. Davidson, was captured after a brief chase and scuffle by acquaintances of Mrs. Steele, to whom she called for help as the robber was leaving. Police found $186.95 in his pockets, but were unable to find an additional $600, which Mrs. Steele said she handed him wrapped in newspaper.

Mrs. Steele told police she closed the tavern about midnight Saturday and retired to her living quarters on a balcony. She was awakened shortly before 2 a.m. when Davidson flashed a light in her face and demanded money. She replied she had no money, and Davidson struck her on the head with a claw hammer and hit her on the jaw with his fist, she said.

Pleads With Assailant.

Pleading with her assailant not to beat her, Mrs. Steele accompanied him downstairs, where, she said, she gave him $600 wrapped in newspaper, which she obtained from a box in the rear room of the tavern. Returning to her living quarters, Davidson took about $200 form her purse, tied a stocking over her mouth and bound her arms with strips torn from a blanket and a sheet.

He then forced her to accompany him to the front door to let him out, Mrs. Steele related. When she opened the door she saw Fred Harper, 518 North Vandeventer avenue, an acquaintance, passing. She called to Harper, who grappled with Davidson and pursued him east in Olive street when Davidson slipped out of his overcoat, which Harper was clutching. Bradus Oliver, 3758 Olive street, attracted by the struggle, joined in the chase and he and Harper caught Davidson in front of 3810 Olive street.

Admits Beating Victim.

At Lucas Avenue Station Davidson admitted orally that he slugged Mrs. Steele and took the contents of her purse, but he denied that she handed him $600. The money has not been found. Police said Davidson was sentenced to 15 years in the Missouri penitentiary in 1932 for robbery. He escaped in 1937 and was recaptured in 1940. After his release from prison last July he went to Pasadena, Calif., where his parents live.

Davidson told police he came to St. Louis a week ago. He said he planned the robbery for several days, during which he visited the tavern. He entered the place Saturday night and hid in the washroom until Mrs. Steele closed up, he said. He is held for action by the Circuit Attorney.

IDENTITY CHANGED FOR ONE MARINE IN IWO FLAG PICTURE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—A change in identity of one of the marines who raised the Stars and Stripes over Mount Suribachi on Iwo Jima was officially disclosed today.

Representative West (Dem.), Texas, made public a letter from Gen. A. A. Vandegrift, Marine Corps commandant, saying the change was made as the result of an investigation requested by West. The revised list, Vandegrift said, includes the name of Cpl. Harlan H. Block of Weslaco, Tex., in place of Sgt. Henry O. Hansen of Somerville, Mass.

The famous photograph was taken Feb. 23, 1945, by Joseph Rosenthal, Associated Press photographer. West asked for the investigation last September when E. H. Block wrote to him saying he had identified one of the marines in the picture, whose back was to the camera, as his son, Cpl. Block.

Sgt. Hansen was one of three men previously identified as having appeared in the picture who were killed. Pfc. Rene A. Gagnon, Manchester, N. H., and Pfc. Ira Hamilton Hayes, Bapchule, Ariz., escaped injury; Navy Pharmacist's Mate (Second Class) John H. Bradley, Appleton, Wis., was wounded. Killed, in addition to Hansen, were Sgt. Michael Strank, Conemaugh, Pa., and Pfc. Franklin R. Sousley, Ewing, Ky.

JOHN R. STEELMAN'S BROTHER KILLED IN HUNTING ACCIDENT

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., Jan. 20 (AP)—W. Frank Steelman, brother of Reconversion Director John R. Steelman, was killed yesterday by the accidental discharge of a shotgun into his head when he slipped and fell on a river bank about 20 miles southwest of here. He was 42 years old.

Steelman, owner of an automobile supply store at Portageville, and two companions were visiting their clubhouse on the Black River. Steelman had gone out alone, carrying a 12-gauge shotgun, to hunt rabbits.

His companions found Steelman's body after hearing a shot. The county coroner said no inquest was necessary. Steelman is survived by his wife.

DOUGHERTY CASE CONTINUED AT DEFENSE REQUEST

A request for a writ of attachment for James J. Sneed, important witness against Sheriff John F. Dougherty, who is charged with feloniously leaving the scene of an automobile accident, was withdrawn after a preliminary hearing of the Dougherty case was continued to next month at defense request.

The request for an attachment was made by Assistant Circuit Attorney Harry Levi, prosecutor in Judge David W. FitzGibbon's Court of Criminal Correction, when Sneed, a chauffeur for the Yellow Cab Co., failed to appear in court today. Sneed was personally served as a witness Jan. 8, court records show.

At his home, 3505 Chouteau avenue, a reporter was told by Mrs. Anna Sneed, his mother, that he left home at 9:30 a.m. after telling her he was going to court. Mrs. Sneed said she was at a loss to account for her son's failure to appear.

In announcing that Levi's request for an attachment would be withdrawn, Circuit Attorney James W. Griffin told the Post-Dispatch there was no reason to antagonize Sneed, who is still under a physician's care as the result of injuries suffered in the accident. Griffin pointed out that the case was continued and there is no necessity for his appearance at present.

The hearing was continued to February 17 at the request of Paul Dillon, defense attorney, who is in Washington. Dillon requested the continuance in a telegram to the court, and was represented by an associate attorney, who also made the request.

Judge FitzGibbons ordered that all subpenas for the Feb. 17 hearing be served by the Coroner, because of the interest of Dougherty in the issue before the court. Missouri law provides the Coroner may fulfill the duties of the Sheriff in suits in which the Sheriff is an interested party.

End Insert.

Sheriff Dougherty was in court, as was Miss Irene Schmich, 3822 Kossuth avenue, who was injured when the Sheriff's automobile struck Sneed's cab at Kingshighway and Easton avenue last Dec. 15.

VETERANS IN HOUSE DEMAND HOUSING PROGRAM, NO BONUS

Many Favor Cash Terminal Leave Pay for Former Enlisted Men.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—A sample survey among House members who were in uniform in World War II today disclosed a heavy demand for veterans' housing and strong sentiment against a bonus.

Many also felt that:

Terminal leave bonds of former enlisted men should be cashed at once. Under present law, they mature five years after the issue date.

Ceilings on allowances to students and those learning jobs by working at them should be lifted or removed. The ceiling now is $175 a month for single men and $200 for the married.

More hospital facilities are needed.

Former soldiers should be given more time to pay back income taxes.

Those ideas came from House members with war records, questioned at random by a reporter. They represent every branch of the service, every section of the country and both major parties.

They are among the 60 or 70 representatives who served in the last war. There are upward of 200 House members who are veterans of all wars.

This is the season for resolutions—good ones—we hope. This recorder, being no exception, has made several resolves which he hopes to carry out all through 1947. If he succeeds in making them "stick" for an entire year, he thinks they'll get on "steady". Most of our resolutions are strictly private—between me and myself—and we're not going to talk about them.

But we are going to talk about one business resolution which we guarantee to keep! We found our inspiration for it in a men's clothing advertisement which appeared in one of our daily papers—sponsored by one of our favorite stores. The advertisement mentioned the excellent tailoring in the store's clothing for men and then stated that the fabrics were "all-wool domestic weaves". Please note that word "domestic".

And here is the resolution we are going to make "stick". Resolved—that we are going to say and write the word "American" instead of "domestic". We believe that there are no finer material and workmanship than—American. We believe that the words "Made in America" or "Made in the U.S.A." have a greater significance all over the world today than ever before (ask the people in Europe and Asia). So from now on it will be—"American" instead of "Domestic"!

There is no disparagement of foreign products intended—and we're not "waving the flag". But on second thought . . . where is there a better flag?

GROUPS IN SENATE MAY SCRAMBLE FOR MERGER BILL

Potshots Taken at Army-Navy Unification Plan in House — Changes Proposed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—President Truman's plan for unifying the armed forces is hitting bumps on both sides of Capitol Hill today even before any formal drive to carry it out.

In the Senate there are reports of a possible scramble by rival committees to handle the bill, once it arrives from the War and Navy Departments.

Chairman Gurney (Rep.), South Dakota, of the Armed Services Committee told a reporter he expects the legislation to be handled by his group.

Senator Taft (Rep.), Ohio, who has a big voice in G.O.P. policy making, said there has been "some talk" of sending the merger bill to the Committee on Executive Expenditures headed by Chairman Aiken (Rep.), Vermont.

Reorganization Act Cited.

Chairman Andrews (Rep.), New York, of the House armed services group has taken several potshots at the unification plan outlined at the White House.

House leaders, however, already have decided that merger legislation there will be handled by the Executive Expenditures Committee where Representative Wadsworth (Rep.), New York, veteran advocate of unification, is expected to push it along.

Changes to Be Proposed.

Senator Robertson (Rep.), Wyoming, who helped lead the successful Navy fight against merger last session, served notice he plans to offer a number of changes. Robertson thinks a single Cabinet secretary directing land, sea and air forces would hold "too much power for one man."

Robertson said he favors a broader council of national defense to keep Congress in "intimate touch" with "Russia's intentions and world conditions."

This council, he said, should be composed of the secretaries of State, War, Navy and Air Forces together with chairmen of the Senate and House Foreign Affairs and Appropriations Committees.

Any revision of national defense plans, Robertson said, should provide a permanent plan for keeping Congress constantly informed of all world conditions.

Question of Succession.

Congressional leaders said the law which provides for Cabinet officers to succeed to the Presidency would have to be revamped if the Army-Navy merger plan is enacted.

When Gen. George C. Marshall is sworn in as Secretary of State he will be next in line to succeed President Truman under the law passed in 1886, since there is no Vice President.

Under that law the next in the Presidential succession line, in order, would be the Secretaries of the Treasury and War, the Attorney General, the Postmaster General, and the Secretaries of the Navy and the Interior. This is the order in which their departments were created. Agriculture, Commerce and Labor are not affected since they were established after the law was passed.

New Cabinet Post Proposed.

The Army-Navy unification plan, however, provides for a new Cabinet post, that of Secretary of National Defense. It eliminates also Cabinet rank for the Secretaries of War and the Navy, held since 1789 and 1798, respectively, and withholds Cabinet status for the proposed new Secretary for Air.

Andrews said he will propose a joint meeting of the House and Senate Armed Services Committees to hear a review of foreign policy by State Department officials. He said that on this review will depend his committee's decisions on some of the most ticklish questions confronting Congress, among them the size of the armed forces; whether the expiring Draft Act should be extended, the amount of military appropriations and the outline of a peacetime security program.

His proposal for a joint hearing, Andrews said, is designed to eliminate duplicating appearances by top-ranking administrative officials.

KOREANS NAME TOWN FOR YANK WHO DIED IN FLOOD RESCUES

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (UP) — The mother of a soldier who died in rescuing a mother and child from flood waters in Korea received official recognition yesterday of her son's heroism from Koreans who are rebuilding a town in his honor.

Mrs. Frank Burns, Deming, N. M., learned six months ago that her son, Sgt. James A. Burns, had died in an accident in Seoul. The full account of his repeated rescues of helpless Koreans during the flood of the valley town, Pyung Tag, was told to her yesterday by Louise Yim, Korean representative at the United Nations.

In a radio broadcast Miss Yim related how Korean women, seeking a way to honor the American, collected 30,000 yen which Miss Yim said is being used to rebuild the valley town in his name. Mrs. Burns, present at the broadcast, received a scroll and a hand-carved jewel box as a token from Korean women.

$561,487,000 FIRE LOSS IN 1946, UP 23 PCT. FROM '45

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Philip B. Fleming, general chairman of the National Conference on Fire Prevention, said yesterday that property losses from fire totaling $561,487,600 made 1946 "the most destructive year in our recent history."

The loss was 23 per cent greater than in 1945. The December 1946 loss of $58,094,000 was the heaviest "for any single month in the last 16 years."

"We need widespread education in methods of fire prevention and control, more adequate laws and their rigid enforcement, and better engineering to make buildings fire resistant," he declared in a statement.

Making telephones better ...since 1877

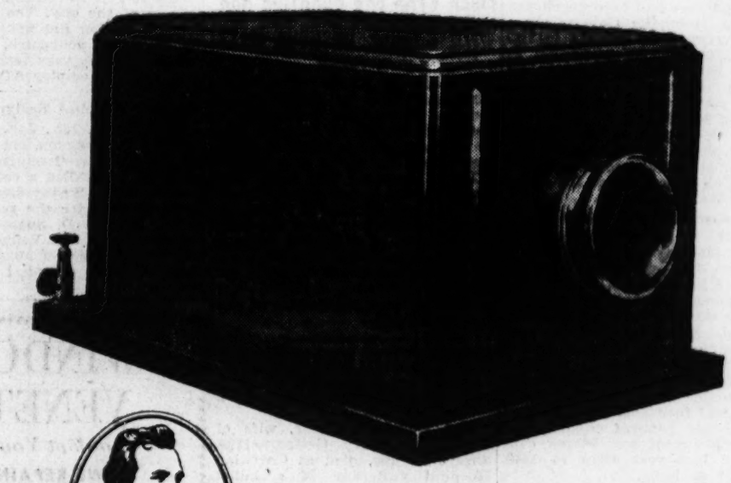

PIONEER telephone subscribers shouted and then listened hard at the single opening in this wooden box telephone. They were gratified when they could understand the faint answering voices.

Alexander Graham Bell, the telephone's inventor, was far from satisfied. Not one of his early telephones talked well enough for his trained ears, schooled in the science of speech.

"How can I make it better?" he asked himself in his little laboratory—a Boston attic. "How can we make them better?" telephone scientists are still asking. Same question, same spirit, in today's Bell Telephone Laboratories of 6,000 workers and their tools of research, spread through acres of buildings.

Now that telephones by the million knit America together, "making them better" means much more to more people. As a part of the Bell System family, the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company serves you better because it shares in the new techniques developed by the System's experts—techniques that stem directly from the work of Alexander Graham Bell himself.

SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE CO.

A HUNDRED YEARS AGO next March 3 Dr. Bell was born. Telephone people are now honoring that centennial, for both the genius that produced the telephone and the restless urge to serve men better that still guides the Bell System today.

ST. LOUIS-BORN TRIGGER MAN FOR DUCE TO BE TRIED

Amerigo Dumini Accused of Matteoti Murder in Italy — Mystery Document Plays Part.

Amerigo Dumini, St. Louis-born trigger man for the late Fascist Dictator Benito Mussolini, is to go to trial in Rome Wednesday, with three other men, for the murder of Socialist Deputy Gicaomo Matteoti in 1924.

Rome newspapers yesterday said that a "mysterious political testament" written by Dumini would be introduced as evidence in the trial. The document, containing Dumini's account of the Matteoti murder, formerly held by Martin Arnold, a lawyer in San Antonio, Tex., was said to have been furnished to the Italian prosecuting authorities, either in the original or a photographic copy, by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington.

Dumini, whose death was reported at various times in recent years, sent to Attorney Arnold, in 1942, the document supposed to be his confession of his part in the Matteoti murder, and to show the responsibility of Mussolini for the crime.

Purpose of Document.

The papers were placed in a safe deposit box by the lawyer, who said he received a $1000 fee for acting as their custodian. Dumini's purpose was to hold the document over Mussolini's head, to protect Dumini's life.

Attorney Arnold said in 1943 that in obedience to a court order, he had permitted FBI agents to examine the Dumini papers, which remained in his custody. He said he had not read the papers, which were in Italian, as he was not versed in that language, though he had traveled in Italy.

Dumini was born at 2818 Franklin avenue, St. Louis, in 1894, the son of an Italian father, Adolphe Dumini, a portrait painter, and an English mother. Amerigo, in boyhood, accompanied his father on the latter's return to Italy. He became a gangster, and served the Fascists in the days when they were attaining power by violence.

Killing of Matteoti.

Matteoti, chief opponent of Mussolini in the Italian Chamber of Deputies, was murdered and beheaded in 1924, and this crime, which the public generally attributed to Mussolini, caused an upheaval which threatened the Duce's power. Under heavy pressure, Mussolini caused the arrest of Dumini and others, and Dumini was sent to prison, only to be released when the threat of retaliation had died down.

Dumini, at liberty, made himself a nuisance by his boastful talk in the cafes of Rome, and Mussolini caused him to be exiled to Derna, in the African province of Cyrenaica. When the British took Derna, Dumini remained behind, preferring to fall into Allied hands rather than to face his enemies in Italy.

At the time of his trial in Italy, Dumini admitted committing assault on Matteoti, saying he had intended only to give the anti-Fascist deputy a beating; but that Matteoti, having a weak constitution, died from his blows. He did not account for the severing of the head, which was found at a distance from the body.

FAILURE OF INDUSTRY TO HIRE MORE NEGROES HERE CITED

Chester E. Stovall, director of industrial relations for the St. Louis Urban League, asserted that additional major industries here had failed to undertake large-scale employment of Negroes in 1946 in pointing out that Negroes were holding employment gains made in the war.

Speaking over Radio Station KWK last night, Stovall said that no Negroes were employed to drive streetcars and busses, to read gas and electric meters, to clerk in large department stores or to work at telephone switchboards. He also criticized local carpenter unions for refusing to accept Negroes for membership "because of their race."

He pointed out that one-fourth of the 20,000 World War II vet-

MORE MALE VETERANS IN U.S. JOBS THAN NON-VETERANS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—Ex-G.I.'s now outnumber non-veteran men working for the Government.

The Civil Service Commission said today 53 per cent, or 781,374, of the 1,477,400 employed in civilian federal jobs at the end of November were war veterans.

Because only 7 per cent, or 38,522, of the 501,621 woman workers served in some branch of the armed forces, non-veterans still hold 59 per cent of the total number of Government jobs in the continental United States.

A table, however, showed that the percentages of veterans increased from 26 in January to 41 in November.

DENVER, Jan. 20 (UP)—A 25-cent pocket-sized edition of Erskine Caldwell's 13-year-old earthy Southern novel, "God's Little Acre," was under suppression by police here today to "keep the book out of the hands of teen-age children." The regular bound edition was not included in the order.

NEW MAYOR IN; GAMBLING ENDS AT CLINTON, ILL.

Dr. Pugh Resigns From Office, Is Fined $1000 — Other Officials Are Freed.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CLINTON, Ill., Jan. 20 — The dice and poker games, which flourished for several years within a stone's throw of the DeWitt County courthouse, are shut down and Clinton has a temporary Mayor today after Mayor B. M. Pugh resigned last week and pleaded guilty to a non-feasance charge.

Mayor Pugh, widely known physician and surgeon, was indicted by the county grand jury last Aug. 20 on charges of non-feasance and conspiracy to accept bribes growing out of the open gambling, which aroused the town's ministers and church members to action last spring. Non-feasance provides for removal from office, but Mayor Pugh saved the court the job of removing him by resigning at a special meeting of the City Council Friday night, after accepting his counsel's advice to plead guilty the following morning. City Commissioner of Finance H. R. Beatty was appointed temporary Mayor.

Dr. Pugh was fined $1000 by Circuit Judge R. S. Griffiths, and the conspiracy charge was dismissed on motion of Special Prosecutor Oliver Mann of Danville. Charges against E. M. Willams, DeWitt county State's Attorney and Chief of Police R. N. Smith, indicted with the Mayor, were also dismissed on Mann's motion when Dr. Pugh entered his guilty plea. Williams had been charged with non-feasance and Smith with conspiracy to accept bribes from the gamblers.

Mann was appointed special prosecutor in the case by the late Circuit Judge Frank B. Leonard on the petition of Frank Stewart, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors. He conducted the gambling investigation and obtained eight indictments against the three defendants.

"Four or five dice and poker games were running above taverns on the courthouse square," Mann related today. "A good outfielder like the Cardinals' Enos Slaughter could have thrown a baseball from the courthouse lawn into any one of them," the special prosecutor observed.

The indictment of Mayor Pugh, State's Attorney Williams and Chief Smith was comparable to the recent indictments of Mayor John T. Connors and the city commissioners of East St. Louis for non-feasance for permitting open gambling. Both the Attorney General and the Circuit Court of St. Clair county have been reluctant to appoint a special prosecutor in the East St. Louis cases.

Dr. Pugh, who was Mayor four years, has indicated he may file a petition for renomination and restoration to office.

WILLIAM CHARLES HALL

ST. LOUIS YOUTH HELD AS MURDER SUSPECT

W. C. Hall Arrested in California in Connection With Virginia Killing.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 20 (AP)—William Charles Hall, 19 years old, of St. Louis, was held here today on suspicion of murder in connection with the death of Frederick Austin Currie, a sailor, near Winchester, Va., last December. Patrolmen reported Hall approached them yesterday saying "I want to give myself up."

He told them that he and a friend named Frank, whose full name he could not recall, were riding with a sailor near Winchester when the car broke down. Hall and his friend tried to fix the car but failed and the sailor then sold it. Hall then demanded pay for work done on the car and, when refused, a fight started. Hall declared Frank tightened a necktie around the sailor's neck, strangling him.

Hall said that he and his friend parted in New York shortly after the fight.

Hall was indicted by a Winchester Circuit Court grand jury on a first degree murder count after a pocketbook containing his name and Navy papers was found near the sailor's body. Several Winchester residents also identified photographs of Hall as those of one of the two men seen with Currie.

Hall is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hall, 908 North Kingshighway. He had been sought since Currie's body was found on Dec. 26.

3 CHILDREN IN FIRE TREATED

Three children of Mr. and Mrs. James DePriest were treated at City Hospital for smoke exposure following a fire early yesterday in a rooming house in which they live at 4038-4040 Delmar boulevard.

They are Pamala, 4 years old; Jackie Sue, 1, and Karylon, 2 months. The fire, of undetermined origin, started in the third-floor quarters occupied by the DePriest family. Damage was estimated at $1000.

TALMADGE REJECTS THOMPSON DEMAND HE GIVE UP OFFICE

that "I will place my case entirely in the courts."

Thompson, in response to question, said "This matter of troops is a lot of hullabaloo. This issue will be settled by the courts."

Talmadge on Radio.

In a radio address immediately after Thompson left, Talmadge declared he was certain of his legal position and was confident the Georgia Supreme Court would uphold his election by the Legislature.

He said that if the courts did not uphold him it would mean that instead of three sovereign branches of Government, Georgia would have only one—the judiciary.

"I am confident of my legal position," Talmadge said, "and I am performing the duties of the executive office. I hope these would-be play Governors will cease to interfere and allow the government and the Legislature to get on with enactment of the Democratic platform."

Insisting there was no vacancy in the governorship, Talmadge declared "when there is such vacancy I would be the first to accede" in the succession of a Lieutenant Governor.

He continued: "Mr. Thompson has stated he will take recourse in the courts. That is his prerogative and privilege to do so. . . . If the courts assume jurisdiction, I will abide by the decision."

Talmadge, 33-year-old son of the late Eugene Talmadge, was elected Governor by the Legislature to take the place of his father, who died following his victory in the Georgia Democratic primary and the general election. Young Talmadge's choice was made under a constitutional provision for election by the Legislature of the candidate with the next highest number of votes for Governor in the event of a vacancy. Talmadge supporters, concerned about the ill health of the elder Talmadge, wrote in the name of Herman Talmadge in the last election in sufficient numbers to put him ahead of any other write-in candidates.

Thompson was sworn in Saturday as Lieutenant Governor and proclaimed himself Acting Governor by virtue of Arnall's resignation earlier in the day.

Arnall, the retiring Governor, contended that no successor had been duly elected and said he was continuing in office until Thompson was qualified as Lieutenant Governor. His resignation, submitted last week, took effect at 10:50 a.m. Saturday, the moment that Thompson was sworn in by a Court of Appeals judge.

In a rapid-fire exchange of statements yesterday, Talmadge, accused Thompson of threatening use of force in gaining the executive chambers, adding that "we are amply able to defend the governor's office and will do so if necessary."

Thompson promptly retorted he had never contemplated using force.

"I am perfectly willing, as always, to trust my case entirely to the courts," he said.

Arsenal Under Guard.

Griffin, Talmadge-appointed Adjutant General, said he had posted personally employed guards around the arsenal in the State Armory here to "prevent withdrawal of any rifles or ammunition by anyone, including myself."

Armed state patrolmen were on duty at the Capitol all night with six stationed in the Governor's reception room at daylight.

Thompson announced yesterday he had instructed the Attorney General to proceed against use of state funds by "illegal officials."

Cook said, however, there was no way in which he could file suits to protect state funds and property.

"It is possible that suits may be filed by taxpayers," Cook said. "But I do not know of any particular taxpayer planning one."

Another suit is expected over approximately $100,000 in executive department funds which were in Arnall's possession. In retiring, Arnall said he would turn the money over to Thompson, as his legal successor. Unless Thompson voluntarily surrendered the money to Talmadge, the latter would have to sue to obtain it.

In a formal statement yesterday, Talmadge said he wished "to emphatically deny" a charge by Arnall that Talmadge had "executed a military coup d'etat and seized the Governor's office without authority."

He again stated his belief that the courts did not have jurisdiction to question his election by the Legislature.

His opponents are boasting, Talmadge said, "of the fact they have stacked the Supreme Court of Georgia against us. . . .

"If the case ever should reach the Supreme Court, I have no fear of the outcome. . . ."

The legislation to restore the Democratic white primary in Georgia by barring Negroes from voting in party primaries deletes the word "primary" from all sections of the Georgia law which specifically mentions primaries. This would make the election a party and not a state affair, and according to the sponsors of the bill would take the primary in Georgia out of federal jurisdiction.

The bill is similar to a law now in effect in South Carolina under which Negroes are barred from Democratic primaries.

Boy Hurt in 25-Foot Fall.

Leon Napulda, 12 years old, suffered a back injury yesterday afternoon when he fell 25 feet in an opening intended as an elevator shaft in building under construction at 3720 Washington boulevard. The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Napulda, 3723 Olive street, was taken to City Hospital.

COMMUNIST BLOC TAKES BIG LEAD IN POLISH VOTING

the bloc nearly four times as many votes as the PSL.

A bitter campaign preceded the election. Mikolajczyk charged government suppression of his party and called for a vote for "freedom of man." Government political leaders accused Mikolajczyk of a tieup with the underground and asked Poles to vote their faith in the government and express their abhorrence of underground violence.

Incidents of Violence.

The underground was reported to have killed seven soldiers at Vamosc, near Lublin, and a member of the Communist-backed Workers' party in southeastern Poland during election hours. Five soldiers were reported killed in the Bialystok area in pre-election violence. The militia was said to have repulsed some 40 underground guerrillas who tried to attack polls.

In most big cities, voters, taken to the polls in tens of thousands by house-to-house campaigners for the bloc, were said in many cases to have made known how they balloted by showing election officials their white No. 3 (bloc) slips before putting them in envelopes designed to insure secrecy.

In many country districts, on the other hand, farmers were said to have insisted on a secret ballot. In Warsaw's 183 precincts the PSL said it had no poll watchers; in the country, however, it reported it had about 100.

Open Voting Observed.

In many Warsaw precincts, foreign correspondents saw citizens throw away the secret-ballot envelopes. Some staff members of the United States and British embassies also reported many instances of open voting.

Two American correspondents reported they had been held in "protective custody" for six hours by the Polish security police. The correspondents, Toni Howard of Newsweek and Kenneth Foss of the New York Post, said that police stopped them in Wodzislaw and took away their credentials, explaining that the road to Krakow was "full of bandits."

After some delay, they were allowed to proceed to Krakow under military escort. There they were questioned for an hour by police before being released.

Voters Turned Away.

A correspondent of the British news agency, Exchange Telegraph, reported that he and two other reporters were asked to leave a ballot counting room. He said long lines of voters who had stood outside the polling places for hours were turned away at closing time after watching Government groups march by to vote en bloc.

Mikolajczyk told newspaper men, "If I had had my observers at the polls, we would have won a definite victory even if the voters were forced to cast their ballots openly."

Britain and the United States, in a series of notes, had charged Poland with failing to prepare "free and unfettered elections" as required by the Yalta and Potsdam agreements. Poland, with Soviet backing, had replied that the election was none of their business.

Election Machinery.

In 10 of Poland's 52 electoral districts, the Government barred the PSL's candidate lists on the ground that the candidates were connected with the underground.

Poland's one-house parliament is called the Sejm. In the 52 electoral districts 372 parliament members are to be chosen. The other 72 were candidates at large.

President Boleslaw Bierut, Premier Edward Osubka-Morawski, Mikolajczyk and other ministers in the Polish provisional government of national unity were candidates for parliament, to which they must be elected to stay in the administration.

U. S. Expected to Disapprove Conduct of Election.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—Authorities said today it is a certainty that the United States will disapprove the conduct of Poland's election.

Indications are, however, that no decisions will be made as to the exact line of action to be taken until full reports are in from Ambassador Arthur Bliss Lane and other observers in Poland and until Gen. George C. Marshall, the incoming Secretary of State, has opportunity to survey the situation.

'Genuinely Democratic Elections,' Says Pravda Correspondent.

MOSCOW, Jan. 20 (AP)—The Polish election held the spotlight in the Soviet press and radio today, with reports emphasizing the high turnout, organized character of voting and the festive atmosphere in which the balloting was held.

A Pravda correspondent reported from Warsaw that the voting was calm and orderly throughout Poland except for "isolated efforts of reactionaries to disorganize and compromise the elections."

"The tallying of votes will show," wrote the Pravda correspondent, "to whom the Polish people have entrusted power in these first genuinely democratic elections in Poland. But the very organized manner in which it was voted, speaks of the people's great, unbreakable faith in its government."

$7,592,370 IS APPROVED FOR MO. PAC. IMPROVEMENTS

Permission to spend $7,592,370 in 1947 on improvements for the Missouri Pacific System was granted Trustee Guy A. Thompson today by United States District Judge George H. Moore.

Thompson's application said the outlay, which will finance construction and repair of bridges, station houses and improvements in roadbed, rail and signals, will be approximately $1,000,000 less than the average expenditure for this type of work during the last five years, largely because of inability to obtain materials.

Of the total expenditures authorized, $5,841,700 will be charged to the Missouri Pacific Railroad, $1,044,230 to the Gulf Coast Lines and $706,440 to the International Great Northern Railroad.

MAN FOUND DEAD IN HOME

Adelbert Bloss, 66 years old, a machinist of 5719 Southwest avenue, was found dead in the kitchen of his home yesterday by police who had been called by a neighbor after mail from Bloss' box had been found in the street and yard.

Bloss had not been seen by his neighbors since Wednesday or Thursday. A brother, Gerhard Bloss, 6422 Hoffman avenue, told police his brother had not been in ill health, as far as he knew. Bloss lived alone since his wife, Mary, became a patient at City Sanitarium. An inquest will be held.

ITALY PROTESTS AGAINST TERMS OF PEACE TREATY

treaties with Italy, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria today.

Chairman Vandenberg (Rep.), Michigan, of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and Senator Connally (Dem.), Texas, who took part in the 16 months of negotiations on the pacts, were at Byrnes's side in the ceremony at the State Department.

Byrnes signed the Italian treaty without changing pens. Several associates called to him to switch pens and in signing the Bulgarian, Hungarian and Romanian pacts he did so, using several. These he distributed among those present.

At the end of the two-minute ceremony Byrnes grinned and said: "If anybody wants to make a speech, he can have about five minutes." Nobody did.

Byrnes did not sign the Finnish treaty because Finland was not formally at war with the United States. There will be a second signing of the treaties at Paris Feb. 10 when the other Allies and representatives of the enemy satellite states will affix their signatures. Then they must be ratified, in this country, by the Senate.

OCCUPANTS OF CONDEMNED BUILDING ARRESTED TWICE

Police, following instructions of the City Counselor's office to arrest occupants of the condemned premises at 6224-26 South Broadway daily until they leave, took Joseph L. Komrska and George H. Leipold into custody twice over the weekend.

The men were arrested Saturday and again yesterday. They were booked, on both occasions, to appear in Police Court Wednesday to explain their presence in a condemned building. Police said they found Komrska and Leipold, a disabled veteran of World War I, living in quarters at 6226 South Broadway.

Two other occupants of the two-story tenement have moved since the Building Commissioner's office reported two months ago that the building was about to collapse and was unsafe. Those who remained said they had no place to move immediately.

LONDON'S AILING ELEPHANTS TO GET CAROLINA PEANUTS

WILSON, N.C., Jan. 20 (UP)—North Carolina peanuts today were being sent to the aid of sick British circus elephants in London, T. F. Bridgers, president of the Farmers Oil Co., reported.

Bridgers said the call came from Bertram Mills circus in London, which reported its elephants were ailing in peanutless England.

The circus's six elephants were reported last week to be suffering from a malady known as fibrositis, which has caused partial paralysis of their trunks. Their keeper said cause of the ailment was unknown, but that the absence of peanuts during and after the war hadn't helped his charges any.

BILL SEEKS TO END SCHOOL RESTRICTIONS ON NEGROES

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 20—A bill to repeal the state law requiring maintenance of separate schools for Negroes in Missouri was introduced in the House today. It is sponsored by Representatives J. Claybourne Bush (Rep.), and Josiah C. Thomas (Rep.), Negro members of the legislature from St. Louis.

Their measure provides that any child of school age shall be admitted as a pupil in the public schools of the district in which he resides. The present statutes requiring spearate schools for Negroes, and authorizing their maintenance by school boards, would be repealed.

The new State Constitution opened the way for removal of the dual school system. It provided that separate schools may be maintained for Negroes, unless otherwise provided by law.

KSD OFF AIR FOR 46 MINUTES

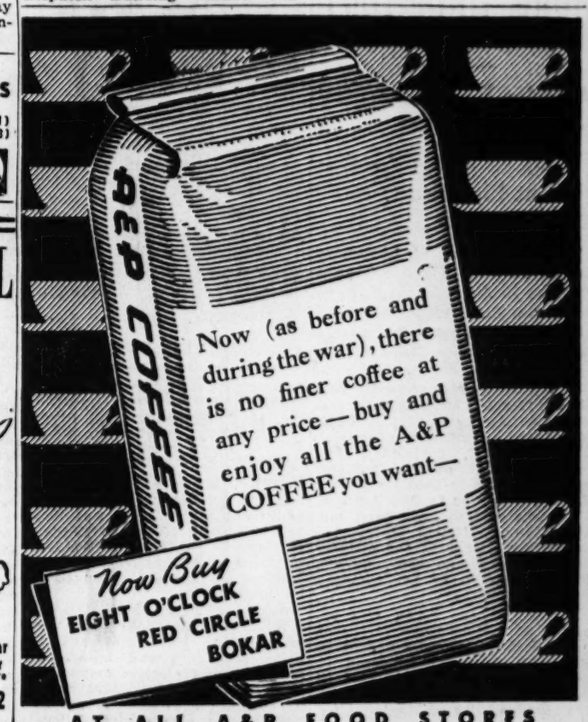

Radio Station KSD was off the air for 46 minutes yesterday afternoon after a rectifier tube, relay and fuse in transmitter equipment on the roof of the Post-Dispatch Building burned out. Service was resumed after repairs were made.

The interruption occurred at 3:11 o'clock in a news broadcast. A transcribed musical program and the Quiz Kids, a network program, were canceled because of the difficulty.

NEW ORLEANS IS PROVIDING A BROAD HIGHWAY FOR THE FOREIGN TRADE OF THE MISSISSIPPI VALLEY
New Orleans, the natural gateway for the great Mississippi Valley, is completing outstanding facilities for the promotion and development of the foreign trade of the entire Mid-Continent area of the United States. With an unmatched peace time port which has proved its value in war, New Orleans is served by nine trunk line railroads, 97 ship and barge lines, three airports and seven major airlines, modern highways and a 13,000 mile network of inland waterways. To these advantages New Orleans has now added the nation's second Foreign Trade Zone, International House and International Trade Mart to further promote friendly trade relations with foreign nations and particularly our great markets in South and Central America. New Orleans invites you to make full use of all these facilities to promote your foreign trade.
THE PORT of New Orleans offers shipside rail service, highly efficient cargo handling facilities, tide-level plant sites with adjacent rail service and frequent sailings to all world ports by more than 50 steamship lines.
MOISANT International Airport, one of the world's largest commercial air fields, and two other large fields especially equipped for cargo and private flying serve New Orleans. Over 100 flights per day connect with principal cities of the Americas and the world.
FOREIGN TRADE ZONE, a duty-free area where imported goods may be stored, processed or packaged and then re-shipped to other countries without payment of import duty. Only on goods brought from the Zone into the United States must regular tariff duty be paid. The Zone includes ample shipside warehouse facilities with efficient cargo handling equipment.
INTERNATIONAL HOUSE is devoted to the cultivation of commercial and cultural relations between this city, the Mississippi Valley, Latin America and the world. Its secretarial and translation services, research facilities, library, conference rooms and many other advantages can help you achieve closer relationships with your foreign customers.
INTERNATIONAL TRADE MART, "your show case to the world", will be completed this year. It will provide both foreign and domestic manufacturers with an ultra-modern, air conditioned display center in which to market their products. Both importers and exporters will find the Mart to be of great value.
We will gladly prepare, without cost to you, any specific information you wish about New Orleans as a location for you, your factory, warehouse or office. For this personalized service, write: Industrial Engineering and Utilization Department, New Orleans Public Service Inc., New Orleans 9, La.

SECURITY COUNCIL TO HEAR BRITAIN'S CASE ON ALBANIA

Decision to Take Up Charges Voted, 10 to 0, Over Gromyko's Vigorous Objections.

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Jan. 20 (AP)—The United Nations Security Council, overriding the vigorous objections of Soviet Russia, voted today to consider the British charges against Albania. The voe was 10 to 0 with Russia abstaining.

Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko argued when the British case was brought up that the British had not exhausted all attempts at direct settlement.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate, promptly said all steps had been taken before the case was brought to the council.

The British charge that Albania was responsible for mines in Corfu channel which blew off the bows of British ships and killed 44 sailors last Oct. 22. Albania has disclaimed all responsibility.

The debate stalled temporarily council consideration of an American motion to postpone discussion of world-wide arms reduction plans for two weeks. However, the American motion appeared assured of passage.

Elsewhere on the U.N. front, the Economic and Employment Commission and the Social Commission, both arms of the Economic and Social Council, were called together to start discussions on a wide range of problems, including reconstruction of war-torn countries and the housing shortage. Meetings were scheduled to continue approximately two weeks.

The employment agency elected Ragnar Frisch of Norway as its first chairman. Frantisek Kraus of Czechoslovakia was elected chairman of the Social Commission.

Isador Lubin represented the United States on the employment group and Arthur J. Altmeyer on the social body.

MARVIN JONES NAMED TO POST

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—President Truman today nominated Marvin Jones, former Democratic Representative from Texas, to be Chief Justice of the United States Court of Claims. Jones has been a member of the court since 1940. As Chief Justice, he will succeed Richard S. Whaley of South Carolina, who is retiring.

In the war Jones took a leave of absence from the court to serve as War Food Administrator for two years.

EXPENDITURES OF $2,084,183 CALLED FOR IN COUNTY BUDGET

A budget for St. Louis county calling for expenditures of $2,084,183 this year out of anticipated revenues and cash on hand of $2,084,344 was adopted today by the St. Louis County Court.

Included in the appropriation figure set up by County Auditor and Budget Director Clarence H. Hackmann was $70,000 in increases for the clerical employes of the county. This would add about 10 per cent to the current payroll. Hackmann's original figure of $1,974,607 was raised by the County Court after hearings indicated the need of two new offices—a Department of Building Code and an Office of License Inspection—and five new deputies for the sheriff's office. The budget for 1946 was $1,905,478.

Hackman estimated the 1946 valuation of real and personal property in the county of $354,901,140 would be increased this year by $20,000,000. He estimated the county had $12,000,000 worth of new buildings on the books this year with another $8,000,000 accounted for by increases in value of existing property.

CLAIM FOR $50,000 AGAINST INSURANCE FIRM IS UPHELD

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20—The claim of Charles B. Morris, former St. Louis agent for Chicago Lloyds, an insolvent insurance firm, for $50,000 damages against the firm was upheld today by the United States Supreme Court in a 6 to 3 decision.

Following dismissal in 1933 of an embezzlement suit against Morris brought by the firm, Morris sued for damages. He was awarded $50,000 damages in 1942 in Circuit Court in St. Louis.

The Illinois State Director of Insurance, appointed liquidator for the company in 1938, refused to recognize the claim, and his decision was upheld by the Illinois Supreme Court.

struggling frantically to save their lives," he said.

"Not a single woman was in our lifeboat when it dropped into the water. I learned that when we were pulling away from the ship, and I checked as best I could in the pitch darkness."

Mytakis said the ship's master attempted to beach the vessel, but was prevented from doing so by a broken rudder control.

Survivors said that scores of panic-stricken passengers leaped into the icy waters of the gulf as the ship lurched about before sinking. Others, trapped below decks, screamed in terror as the vessel settled beneath the surface.

Wireless Operator George Freris said the fear-maddened passengers fought so madly to get into one lifeboat that it capsized and "I believe all aboard were drowned." Freris, the master of the ship and the first and second mates were the last to leave the sinking ship. They wore lifebelts.

"We swam for several hours before we managed to get a hold on some barrels," Freris said. "This helped save our lives. Later we were picked up by a caique (a rowboat). There were about 30 survivors on the caique, which was heavily loaded."

Five ships were dispatched to the scene when news of the disaster reached the Marine Ministry. Planes also aided in the rescue.

Among the passengers aboard the vessel were some 50 political deportees en route to an island exile.

3 Hurt in Alton Car's Derailment.

AUBURN, Ill., Jan. 20 (AP)—Three persons were injured slightly Saturday night when the rear wheels of a rear coach of an Alton railroad mail and passenger train were derailed. The three were treated at an Auburn physician's office and released. Thirteen other passengers were unhurt. The train, including four mail cars and two day coaches, was southbound from Chicago to St. Louis.

BROAD BUSINESS SURVEY SYSTEM SET UP BY U.S.

Officials Hope SEC and FTC Figures Will Be Aid Toward Smoother Union Bargaining.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—Two federal agencies have pooled facilities with White House help to arrange for the most complete business condition reporting system the Government has yet devised.

Roger E. Barnes, chief economist for the Federal Trade Commission, told a reporter today that the Budget Bureau aided his agency and the Securities and Exchange Commission in working out the co-operative statistical plan.

Officials hope that detailed figures on industrial costs and profits may eliminate some of the argument on the subject between employers and unions and lead to smoother collective bargaining.

1. An analysis of OPA records to supply a picture of wartime business profits.

2. A survey of industry's 1946 financial position.

3. Similar surveys for 1947 and future years made in abbreviated quarterly statements followed up by comprehensive annual reports.

The OPA records already have been transferred to the FTC. The FTC collected somewhat similar data before the war but let OPA do the job beginning in 1942.

Barnes said industry and labor advisory committees were consulted and gave their approval to the project.

"This will give us for the first time a general over-all report on what happens in our industrial economy," Barnes said.

The SEC will share in the job with FTC in collecting data from approximately 10,000 concerns in 532 types of industry. Previously FTC surveyed about 4500 firms in 86 industries.

Both agencies have powers to require answers to their questionnaires. First forms are due to be mailed out in the next few weeks. They will seek data on 17 cost items rather than two, as did the FTC's prewar form.

The FTC-SEC plan apparently is the first indication of the Administration's expressed aim at greater teamwork among the various Government agencies which keep statistics.

President Truman has written Harvey W. Brown, president of the International Association of Machinists, an independent union, saying he hopes eventually to consolidate "all statistical activities of the Government."

Radio Courtship.

PATCHOGUE, N.Y.—Patsy Andrisani, Veterans' Administration employe in Northport, N.Y., and the girl he met while a service man, Miss Gwen Rose of Colchester, England, are continuing their courtship, with a pair of amateur radio operators assisting.

His cousin, Michael Maletta, made radio contact from here with Denis Heightman of Clacton-on-the-Sea, England, not far from Miss Rose's home.

"He's trying to fix it," Maletta says, "so she can come over here and they can get married."

Hasty Burglar.

HASTINGS ON HUDSON, N.Y.—Mrs. Elizabeth Harvey surprised a burglar in her home. The man held her at gunpoint and fled in haste with several pieces of jewelry.

The burglar left behind a valuable motion picture camera, expensive opera glasses, a set of binoculars and a bottle of wine, all apparently stolen elsewhere.

Window Shopper.

FARGO, N.D.—A student at North Dakota State College found that his G.I. allowance wasn't quite enough. He went window shopping, introduced himself to the manager of a department store and said:

"Your store has the poorest looking windows in town."

Now the student has a part-time job—instructing the store personnel in window decorating.

ATOM TARGET SHIPS TO BE TOWED TO HAWAII, WEST COAST

Journey of Possible Hazards to Be Undertaken for Examination of Vessels.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—The Navy is planning to tow some of the atom bomb target fleet without crews to Hawaii and the West Coast for thorough radiological and mechanical examination.

This will require seamanship of the highest order since no man can live aboard the still radioactive ships and set their courses. Bad weather could break the tow lines and send the empty warships blundering wildly across the Pacific.

R. Adm. William S. Parsons revealed last night that Navy yards at Pearl Harbor, San Francisco and Puget Sound will be given experience in handling ships that survive atomic bombardment. Some "sample" ships will remain at Kwajalein, where the fleet is now anchored, he said.

The Admiral denied reports that some of the ships which rode out two atom bomb blasts last summer at Bikini will be scuttled soon as too "hot" to handle.

"These ships are very valuable as radiological studies," he said. "No decision will be made as to scuttling or final disposal of any of the ships for quite a few months—six, anyway, and probably longer."

Adm. Parsons, chairman of the joint "cross-roads" committee, said the bulk of the technical report on the atom-bombed ships has been completed and given to the joint chiefs of staff evaluation board. What steps will be taken to protect the United States fleet from A-bombs will be decided by this board.

ACTS AT ONCE TO RELIEVE "SOOTHE" COUGHS (DUE TO COLDS)
First spoonfuls must bring RELIEF —or money back!

For years thousands upon thousands of Doctors have prescribed PERTUSSIN. It must be good!

PERTUSSIN acts at once to relieve coughs caused by colds. In fact the first spoonfuls of PERTUSSIN must bring relief from such coughing or your money will be refunded.

PERTUSSIN is scientifically prepared to work internally. It lessens severity and frequency of coughing. It increases natural secretions in respiratory tract to soothe dry, irritated membranes. It also relieves tickling and night coughing.

PERTUSSIN is entirely free from chloroform, creosote and narcotics. It's safe yet mighty effective for both old and young. Pleasant tasting! Inexpensive. All drug stores.

REA DISAVOWS FUND PROPAGANDA TO CONGRESSMEN

Says It Does Not 'Condone' Drive by Co-ops and Has No Control Over Their Efforts.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—The Rural Electrification Administration told Congress today that, while it does not "condone" efforts to "unpressure Congressmen by propaganda," it has no control over such activities by borrowing co-operatives.

The REA's position was stated to the House Executive Expenditures Committee by William J. Neal, deputy administrator, in questioning about a form letter sent out by the O. and A. Electric Co-operative of Newago, Mich.

Neal's testimony was in response to a request from Chairman Hoffman (Rep.), Michigan, of the committee for information on the extent of REA loans and where and how the money was being spent. Hoffman had said that rural electric co-operatives were "propagandizing" Congress to expand appropriations for the REA.

Hoffman cited a letter which he said had been written by Earl Murley, project manager of the Newago co-operative. Addressed to consumers in 13 counties, the letter contended the co-operative's program might be "sabotaged" by the Republican-dominated Congress.

It described Representative Taber (Rep.), New York, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, as a "hard-boiled, economy-minded" legislator who had as one of his objectives the reduction of REA funds.

Urges Letters to Congress.

"Write to your Senators and Congressmen," the letter advised, "tell them that funds will be urgently needed for rebuilding power lines and installing new generating units so that proper voltage can be furnished."

"What we must find out," declared Hoffman, "is whether the people back of this propaganda are Government employes, and whether Government money is being used or whether it is that of the co-operatives."

The Michigan Republican added that if Government funds are being used, "we'll amend the law to stop Government loans."

"And if they have so much income that they can spend money for propaganda to try to tell us what to do, then they don't have to borrow from the Government," Hoffman asserted.

Big Demand for Service.

Farmers made an "unprecedented demand" for electric service in the fiscal year ended last June 30, the Rural Electrification Administration declared yesterday in its annual report.

Administrator Claude R. Wickard reported $290,000,000 was allocated to borrowers in 45 states and Alaska, twice as much as in any previous year. He added that the backlog of applications which stood at $240,000,000 at the beginning of the fiscal year amounted to $205,000,000 at its close.

Hoffman's once minor House Expenditures Committee has been packed with power and converted into the Republicans' main investigating agency in the new House.

House Republican Leader Halleck, Indiana, told a reporter, "This committee is going to have much to do with scrutinizing executive departments, spending, and what can be done to improve the government."

"Our committee," said Representative Clarence Brown (Rep.), Ohio, "never paid much attention to expenditures under the Democratic regime. But we are going to check up and see if the money is being legally and wisely spent."

As another member, Representative Chenoweth (Rep.), Colorado, sized things up, the idea is to "do away with a lot of special investigating committees and let this committee do most of the work."

Committee Makeup.

The G. O. P. turned the committee into a powerhouse by assigning to it six of the eight Republican members of the key Rules Committee. These six—Brown and Chenoweth among them—can use their talents on legislation and investigations in the Expenditures Committee while blocking creation of special investigating bodies as members of the Rules Committee.

Besides Brown and Chenoweth, the Rules Committee Republicans assigned to the expenditures group are Rich, Pennsylvania; Wadsworth, New York; Rizley, Oklahoma, and Harness, Indiana.

The Rules Committee has to approve creation of special committees. Its main job is to direct the flow of legislation through the House.

LOOT OF $1653 REPORTED IN FOUR BURGLARIES HERE

Four burglaries, in which jewelry and merchandise valued at $1653 and $100 in cash were taken, were reported to police yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Lincors reported a man entered their apartment at 4605 Lindell boulevard Saturday night while they were asleep and took a wallet containing $100. The empty wallet was later found at the rear of the building. Bernard Nefsky reported theft of whisky value at $700 and a radio valued at $10 from a grocery he operates at 1329 Pendleton avenue.

Cigarettes, chewing gum, two hams and four boxes of candy of a total value of $97, were taken from a grocery and meat market at 1410 North Grand boulevard, Cloyd Rhodes, co-owner told police and theft of jewelry valued at $746 was reported by John Halvsa of 4238 Thirty-eighth street. Halvsa said the valuables were taken Saturday night by a burglar who entered his home after breaking a rear bedroom window.

SIGHT LOST IN WAR BLAST REGAINED IN FURNACE EXPLOSION

Eye of Service Man Had Been Blind Since Battle in Germany.

CHICAGO, Jan. 20 (AP)—Richard Hebert today credited a flame from a coal gas explosion with restoring sight to an eye that was blinded two years ago in a war blast in Germany.

Hebert, 22 years old, lost all vision after a combat explosion in Germany. Medical treatment restored the use of his right eye. Physicians told Hebert that neither of his eyes had been physically damaged. The blindness had been caused by shock. The doctors said he might some day regain full vision, or he might be completely blind in 10 years.

Hebert said that Saturday night he was firing the boiler in his father's tavern and "suddenly an explosion occurred. A ball of fire shot out of the boiler door and burned me on the arm and on the lid of my left eye, the one that has been blind two years.

"I didn't realize anything had happened until I started back upstairs. When I reached the top, I put my hand to my right eye to close out he light, and found I could still see. Then I realized why."

We Are Reducing Prices of All Ford Cars

"As Much as $50 on Some Models" Effective Immediately

A Statement by Henry Ford II

"ALTHOUGH more than one million of our customers are waiting for delivery of their cars at present prices, we are immediately reducing the price of every Ford car—some models as much as $50.

"This is our 'down payment' toward a continued high level of production and employment in the months ahead. We believe that the 'shock treatment' of prompt action is needed to halt the insane spiral of mounting costs and rising prices and to restore a sound base for the hopeful period of post-war production we are now entering.

"Let me review briefly the considerations which have led us to take this important step.

"The Ford Motor Company is in the mass production business. Mass production depends upon large markets. It will continue to succeed only if it can produce more and more at lower and lower cost so that more and more people can buy. Large markets begin to disappear when prices rise.

"The un-American spiral of mounting costs and rising prices has hurt everybody—some groups more than others. Many have not benefited from post-war wage increases, but have had to share the burden of resulting higher prices. Already, millions of American families are unable to buy the things which, in normal times, make up their standard of living. In the short view, we can see inflation. In the long view, there is danger of depression.

"The period since V-J day has been an unhappy and costly period of reconversion to peacetime production. Ford Motor Company has lost millions of dollars since V-J day, even after all tax adjustments.

"But the crisis of this wild aftermath of war seems to have been passed. Our own production, though still limited by material shortages, is now steadier. Productivity of our employes, which hit a new low during the period, seems to have started its return to normal. Ford Motor Company made a modest profit for the last three months of 1946, and we intend to continue to operate in the black.

"The American economy now stands at a turning point. Mounting costs and rising prices have warranted caution and hesitancy. There is even general fear that this dangerous, un-American cycle cannot be corrected without an economic recession. We think this fear can be dispelled by common sense and action. And among free men that becomes an individual responsibility.

"The Ford Motor Company therefore proposes to accept its losses since V-J day as an item of the cost of a great and victorious war. We are closing our books on that phase of our production history. We have decided that now is the time for us to make an investment in the future.

"Because they must build up depleted cash reserves or because they are still losing money, many businesses may not be able to follow suit. But we hope that our suppliers, our employes, and our other economic partners will back, each to his own ability, our attempt to return to the economic pattern which has helped to make America great—the principle that higher wages and a higher standard of living for all depend upon lower costs and lower prices through increasingly efficient large-scale production.

"We hope, as we move forward, that we will be able to reduce prices further, and that we will not be forced to raise them again to compensate for cost increases."

Figures in Tavern Stabbing

WOMAN IS STABBED BY REJECTED SUITOR

Mrs. Louise Smith Brake in Serious Condition—Assailant Being Held.

Mrs. Louise Smith Brake of 1717 Edison avenue, Granite City, was in a serious condition in St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Granite City, today after being stabbed four times by a rejected suitor in the Tip Top tavern, Eighteenth and State streets, Granite City, Saturday night.

Delmar Cottrell of 2106 Dewey avenue, Granite City, the rejected suitor, was being held in the Granite City jail pending the filing of charges. Cottrell, a 31-year-old taxicab driver, also stabbed Victor Neece of Mitchell, Ill., Mrs. Brake's companion, and Charles Charter, 2146 Cleveland boulevard, Granite City, in the altercation. Neece was in St. Elizabeth's Hospital with a severe cut in the back and Charter was released after treatment for four stab wounds in the back.

Neece said he was standing at the bar in the tavern with Mrs. Brake when Cottrell entered and began slashing at her with a pocket knife. Charter, who was seated near Mrs. Brake, was stabbed when he grappled with him. Neece said he was stabbed when he also attempted to restrain Cottrell.

Cottrell was knocked unconscious in the resulting fight, Granite City police reported, and was lying on the floor when they arrived.

East St. Louis and Granite City police co-operated to rush six units of blood plasma from Christian Welfare Hospital in East St. Louis to St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Granite City for Mrs. Brake. The blood was requested by the physician attending Mrs. Brake who had bled profusely from her wounds, police reported.

Mrs. Brake, 24, is the mother of two daughters who live with her husband in Tennessee, police said. Mrs. Brake has been separated from her husband for about two years, police reported. Police said Cottrell had occasionally been a companion of Mrs. Brake since the separation, but that she refused to accept him as a suitor.

IRISHMAN IN ALIEN LAND PHONES 'LOVE TO PURPLE HILLS'

CAPETOWN, South Africa, Jan. 20 (AP)—Don O'Reilly, who hasn't seen Ireland for 51 years, was one of the first to call Dublin when radio-phone service between Capetown and Eire was resumed.

"I want to speak to anyone in Dublin," he told the Capetown operator. After some confusion, an operator with a Dublin accent came in.

"Give my love to the purple hills of Wicklow," said O'Reilly, 78 years old. The Dublin operator promised to do so, and O'Reilly happily put down the receiver.

Dr. E. V. Cowdry Pledges New Fight For $100,000,000 Cancer Program

St. Louisan's Six-Point Plan Includes 'Pilot Center' Here — Previous Experience in Congress Cited as Lesson.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP) — Dr. E. V. Cowdry of St. Louis, internationally known cancer authority, today promised a new fight to win congressional approval for a $100,000,000 research program aimed at finding a cure for the disease.

Senator Pepper (Dem.), Florida, has reintroduced a bill to allot that sum over a five-year period.

Writing in the magazine Science, Dr. Cowdry said the measure—despite the almost solid backing of public opinion—died last year because experts didn't agree in the advice they gave congressional committees.

There was divided opinion on whether a medical project could be set up to solve cancer as the Army's Manhattan Project was created in the war to build atomic bombs.

"We must profit now by experience and frame a new cancer bill which will pass unanimously," Dr. Cowdry wrote.

"First, it is essential to show to the satisfaction of cancer experts how $100,000,000 can be advantageously spent on cancer research with the single purpose of overcoming the disease as quickly as possible."

Dr. Cowdry outlined this six-point program:

1. Thirty million dollars for creating "pilot cancer centers" at St. Louis and on the West Coast, to extend cancer research and facilities regionally, and for expanding existing cancer facilities in the East and other regions. He estimated $5,000,000 as the cost for each of the two new regional centers and $20,000,000 for expansion.

2. Open a campaign for the mobilization of cancer experts and other personnel. Scientists, he said, should not be "expected to labor merely for the love of it" but should be "paid high salaries all along the line."

3. Sixty million dollars as long-term grants for cancer research. "Obviously the largest item in the expenditure should be in the nature of sustaining grants for salaries, annuity payments and operating expenses," Dr. Cowdry wrote. "These should be made to non-profit institutions of recognized standing. . . ."

4. Twelve million dollars for building and operating an institute that would produce the supplies and special equipment the project might need.

5. Four million dollars for setting up research panels. Dr. Cowdry estimated it might cost $200,000 a year for 20 years to pay the expenses of such panels. Panels would be set up on a regional basis and would consist of leading cancer specialists, each panel studying a different type of cancer.

6. Three million dollars for promoting international cooperation in cancer research.

Dr. Cowdry said the administration of the plan should be under the United States Public Health Service, the national Cancer Institute and the National Advisory Cancer Council.

While the total exceeds $100,000,000, Dr. Cowdry noted that the program contemplates work over a 20-year program, and that the base sum would be needed for the first five years.

Dr. Cowdry is head of the Department of Anatomy at Washington University and director of research at Barnard Free Skin and Cancer Hospital. Last December he was named president of the Fourth International Cancer Research Congress which will meet at Hotel Jefferson next Sept. 3 though Sept. 6. He lives at 5044 Westminster place.

Wounded on Hunting Trip.
Roy Lay, 2013 Arsenal street, suffered an accidental wound of the right ankle on a hunting trip yesterday near Laddonia, Mo., when a .22 calibre rifle in the hands of his wife, Dorothy, was discharged as she fell while handing it to him. After treatment in a hospital at Mexico, Mo., Lay was brought to Alexian Brothers Hospital.

$500 Award to "Guinea Pig."
WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—First Sgt. Lawrence Lambert of Dayton, O., who volunteered to be the guinea pig for the Army Air Forces first test of its equipment for "shooting" parachute-equipped pilots out of a crippled high speed plane, has been given the annual $500 Cheney award. The award is bestowed for an act of valor or self-sacrifice in a humanitarian interest.

NEGRO NATIONAL GUARD UNIT PROPOSED FOR ST. LOUIS

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 20 (AP)—Gov. Phil. M. Donnelly has the recommendation of the Missouri Military Council today that several units of Negro troops be recruited for the National Guard.

Donnelly, as commander-in-chief of Missouri's military forces, will make the final decision, Adjutant Gen. John A. Harris reported. He said a brief telephone conversation with the Governor indicated he would favor the move.

The council's resolution, adopted Saturday, suggested "several units" of Negro National Guard troops be organized in Kansas City and St. Louis. It would be the first time Negroes were permitted to participate in the state's military affairs, Gen. Harris commented.

The council decided to complete deactivation of the war-born State Guard by April 1, when it is hoped at least 2000 officers and men of the new National Guard will be in uniform.

WHITE DENIES RUMORS HE IS QUITTING ANY SENATE POST

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—Senator White of Maine said today he has no intention of resigning any of his three official places in the Senate Republican setup, including the majority floor leadership. He also is chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee and a member of the Foreign Relations Committee.

"I don't know who is responsible for circulating these rumors," White told a reporter. "I have not resigned any post and I have no intention of resigning any of them."

Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the Republican Steering Committee, said there had been no thought among other Republican leaders that White would withdraw from any of his activities. Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the Republican whip, agreed.

INDOCHINA PEACE IS PROPOSED BY VIET-NAM LEADER

President Ho's Offer Made in Broadcast Message to New French President.

PARIS, Jan. 20 (UP)—Immediate peace in Indochina was proposed by Viet-Nam President Ho Chi Minh in a congratulatory message to Vincent Auriol, newly-elected President of France, the French Press Agency reported today from Hanoi.

The news agency quoted the text of Ho's message, as broadcast by Viet-Nam radio.

"Knowing your great generosity and high principles, I approach you to propose immediate peace in order to avoid death and ruin for our two countries and re-establish the former friendship and co-operation between our two peoples," the message said.

"I declare again that Viet Nam wants nothing but its independence within the family of the French Union. We must make peace to save the lives of many young Frenchmen and Viet Namese."

Meanwhile, French troops were reported closing in on the Indochina town of Hue in an effort to relieve the isolated and embattled garrison, which has been holding out against repeated Viet-Nam attacks since Dec. 19.

Launching of the relief operation was announced in a communique yesterday which said a French column already had advanced more than 15 miles in the direction of Hue from the naval base of Tourane, situated about 50 miles southeast of the besieged town, capital of Annam Province.

French press dispatches described the situation in Hue as "difficult," with the entire French population gathered in a small triangular area southeast of the citadel under the protection of a French battalion. The small garrison was reported standing off incessant attacks by Viet-Nam forces numbering as many as 5000 men.

French forces in Indochina were augmented by the arrival of the cruiser Duquesne carrying elements of the Twenty-fifth Airborne division.

KANSAS CITY STAR CARRIERS IN FOURTH DAY OF STRIKE

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 20 (AP)—A strike of contract carriers against the Kansas City Star moved into its fourth day as representatives of the newspaper management and the AFL Printing Pressmen and Assistants' Union failed to reach an agreement in their dispute in a three-hour meeting yesterday. The newspaper has not printed an edition since the strike began Friday.

The striking carriers are seeking recognition of the union as a bargaining agent. The union plans to seek a decision today from the city's Central Labor Union as to what recognition other unions will give the dispute. The central organization represents 130 AFL unions.

After yesterday's session, United States Labor Conciliators Irving Pickett and Robert H. Moore said: "The main question still is the recognition of the carriers as employes. The union contends that the carriers are employes of the Star and the management contends that they are independent contractors and not employes."

AVC BREAK FOLLOWED TALK WITH UNIVERSITY OFFICIALS

Washington University officials and officers of the university chapter of the American Veterans' Committee decided a a meeting last week with Charles Bolte, AVC national chairman, that the university chapter "could function more effectively as a campus organization without becoming involved in off-campus activities," Chancellor Arthur H. Compton said today.

"Since the interests of the chapter on the campus are primarily scholastic ones, our veterans have found that they do not have enough off-campus time for very active participation in the general AVC program of the community," Dr. Compton said.

The campus chapter decided to sever its connection with the Greater St. Louis Area Council of the AVC at a meeting last week. Alex Efthim, chairman of the area council, today decried the "storm in a teacup" at the university. "Liberal vete.ans should not waste precious time squabbling among themselves when veterans are in such desperate need—especially for housing," he said.

PLANE WRECKED, PILOT SAFE

A two-place training plane owned by Kaufmann Flying Service, Sylvan Beach Airport, was demolished yesterday when the pilot, John W. Moore Jr., 2029 Alameda avenue, overshot a field in an emergency landing and crashed between two trees in southern St. Louis county.

Moore, who has a student pilot certificate, was attempting to land in a field east of Lindbergh road and north of Watson road, southeast of the airport, at the time of the accident, the State Highway Patrol said. Moore is 18 years old and a student at Maplewood High School. He was not injured.

'DAY OF MOURNING' IN EGYPT ON SUDAN PACT ANNIVERSARY

CAIRO, Jan. 20 (AP) — Egypt yesterday observed the forty-eighth anniversary of the establishment of British-Egyptian condominium over the Sudan as a "day of mourning."

Divided authority over the Sudan was set up by a convention between the British and Egyptian Governments signed here Jan. 19, 1899.

Some Egyptians wore black ties and others black ribbons. Flags were flown at half staff. In Port Said, the flags were bordered with black. All except English-language newspapers were black bordered and gave most of their space to articles condemning the 1899 convention, declaring it was "signed under British pressure and therefore is void."

Loeffler's 'Wear 'Em Down' Strategy Clicks as Bombers Win Again

Providence Weakens in Stretch and Loses, 69-53

By Bob Broeg

The Bombers today were en route to Toronto, where tomorrow night they will play one of the two teams they haven't beaten. And they must have enjoyed the train ride as a chance to get off tired feet.

The western division leaders of the Basketball Association of America won another game last night, defeating Providence, 69 to 53. But the Steamrollers, playing here for the first time, tested the St. Louis squad's stamina with a swift style of play that produced an interesting contest.

The Rhode Island team doesn't have enough height, and that's why Providence is three games below .500, but it has speed and condition, two qualities of which Ken Loeffler was aware. And so, as a precautionary measure that the Bombers would have enough fire at the finish, the local coach started his second team.

Strategy Pays Dividends.

As a result, the first five—with Don Putman filling in for John Barr of the hobbling charley-horse—were fresher than Providence's perpetual motion kids in the second half.

St. Louis's shock troops held a one-point lead when the regulars come in, and at halftime the margin was the same. The score was tied twice early in the third period, bringing to eight the number of times the teams were deadlocked, and a long set shot by lean, lanky Hank Beenders, the Steamrollers' center, occasioned an eleventh exchange of the lead. But from the time Putman hooked in a basket and Bob Doll scored with a one-hand try, the Bombers went in front, 32 to 30, and stayed there.

St. Louis, in fact, was ahead by 12 points and pulling away as that quarter ended. Even so, 5-foot 10 Ernie Calverley and 5-8 Dino Martin, products of Rhode Island State's famed 100-point-a-game race-horse basketball, still were scurrying rapidly from one end of the Arena's floor to the other.

Everybody Gets Into the Act.

Providence's Beenders was the leading scorer, with 20 points. For the well-balanced Bombers, points were spread on a share-the-wealth basis that has paid off in the victory column before. John Logan scored 12, all in the third quarter; Gifford Roux tallied 12; Doll 11 and Putman nine.

Bombers' Notes.

A crowd of 4484, the third straight over 4000, saw the game, which increased St. Louis's western division lead to four lengths over Chicago.

After the game at Toronto, against a quintet which won the two teams' only previous contest by four points, the Bombers will be idle until they play Detroit's Falcons here Sunday night.

An association referee, new to St. Louis, was Brooklyn's Lou Eisenstein. And as a player's lateral momentum would carry the athlete off the hardwood, Eisenstein blew a furious whistle, denoting a dead ball, and yelled repeatedly:

515 Teams to Seek Title in State High School Basket Event

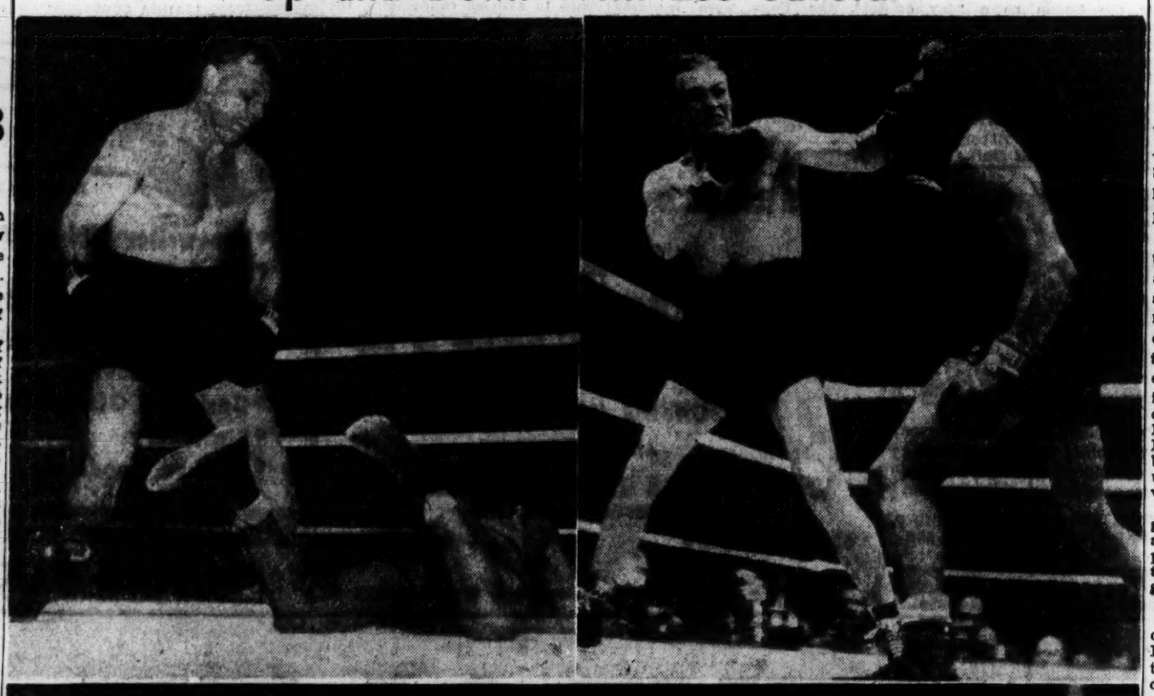

Secretary Carl Burris of the Missouri State High School Athletic Association announced last night that a record number of 515 schools would compete for the state basketball title in a series of tournaments starting Feb. 24.

The finals will be held at the state college field house in Springfield March 12-15.

Fifty-four sub-regional tournaments will be played the week ending March 1. The field will be narrowed to 16 the following week in 10 regional tournaments to be played at Elvins, Cape Girardeau, Dexter, Kennett, Lebanon, Joplin, Warrensburg, St. Joseph, Hannibal and St. Louis.

St. Louis University High won the championship last year.

Up and Down With Lee Savold

Savold Outweighs Richie 16 Pounds

By W. J. McGoogan

Lee Savold, probably the greatest in and out battler in the heavyweight division, will show his wares here for the second time when he tackles Jim Richie, St. Louis Negro, tonight in the 10-round main event of Hans Bernstein's 5-bout card at the Auditorium. The first contest is slated to start at 8:30 o'clock.

Savold has knocked out some of the best men in the class in recent years, including Lou Nova, Lem Franklin, Nate Bolden. He's been knocked out more than once himself but at the moment he's seeking his third straight kayo victory.

In Richie he'll be meeting a real good boxer who can punch, too. Jim is undefeated in his professional career and his record is marred only by a draw with Joe Maxim in a bout at the Auditorium which most ringsters thought Richie had won.

Auditorium Program

Main Event—Jim Richie 177, St. Louis, vs. Lee Savold, 193½, Paterson, N. J., 10 rounds.
Preliminaries—Milton Jones, 166, St. Louis, vs. Jack Hill, 170, Bloomington, Ill., six rounds.
Darby Dan, 177, St. Louis, vs. Elmer Holt, 174, Bloomington, Ind., six rounds.
Paul Darby, 162½, Detroit, vs. Jimmy Bull, 162, St. Louis, six rounds.
Place—Kiel Auditorium, 14th and Market streets.
First bout—8:30 p.m.

Savold will have an edge of more than 16 pounds on Richie and is possessed of a more deadly punch than the local man but Lee is so unpredictable that you can't tell anything about how he'll fight until you see him go.

Can't Afford to Lose.

He came here some six years ago to box Johnny Whiters in what appeared to be something of a cake walk for him but left with the short end of the decision due, largely, to his lack of aggressiveness.

And a victory Savold needs, because he leaves here for Los Angeles where he's due to box Fitzie Fitzpatrick next week. And a loss to Richie won't help his notices on the Coast very much just as Maxim suffered a drop from third to ninth place in the ratings after he boxed Richie here.

Either Harry Kessler or Ray Palmer will referee the main event.

Two Program Changes.

It was necessary for the promoter to remove John Gully and Mike Buha from the card as Gully was cut badly in a match in Wichita last week while Buha, who was knocked out in Kansas City, has been ill.

WRAY'S COLUMN

Winter Horse Racing Is Up in the Air

HORSE racing in 1947 got off to a "flying start." . . . That happened when the owners of Let's Dance and Buzfuz, two of the better racers at Hialeah, were airplaned to Santa Anita, and back again. . . . Between them they picked up close to $50,000 in money won, before the return trip. . . . Now, back in Florida, they'll go after some big change at Hialeah.

As one result of their experience—which showed their racing condition was not affected by the air journey—Trainer Ben Jones has just about decided to ship the great gelding, Armed, to Santa Anita for the $100,000 handicap there. . . . That, of course, depends on what Armed does in the $50,000 Widener Stakes in Florida. . . . Until Let's Dance won that big stake at 'Nita, Jones had been very dubious about cross continental flying for the ace of his stable.

* * *

With Assault and Stymie out, Armed is even now quoted at the short price of 4 to 1, though he's a couple of thousands of miles away from the Arcadia track. . . . Even with 129 pounds up, he's the logical future book choice.

Should Armed win both the Widener and the Santa Anita Handicap (which carries a $100,000 guarantee to the winner), he would be elevated to second place as a money-winner with about $580,000 to his credit. . . . Only Whirlaway would top him. . . . And with a season of rich stakes ahead, Armed might easily push Whirlaway off his pedestal.

* * *

Lady Luck Balks Savold's Title Hope.

IT seems only a short time ago that Lee Savold, who fights Jim Richie here at Kiel Auditorium tonight, was making the headlines as a prospective challenger of Joe Louis. . . . His first fight of 1940, with Jim Robinson, was looked upon as a test fight, to reveal whether Savold had big time stuff. . . . When he kayoed Robinson in the third, he pleased the Jacobs' Beach observers in New York.

Two months later, he took on Johnny Whiters of Detroit, in what was supposed to be the continuation of a victory parade which would lead Savold into the ring with Champion Joe. . . . But Whiters pained and surprised Lee and his followers by winning. . . . That was rough. . . . Savold had to begin all over again.

Savold, a game fellow with a lethal wallop, and not afraid to mix it with the best, trudged along up the highway to fame again. . . . He fought a return bout with Whiters and beat him. . . . He knocked out seven other foes. . . . And then he met Billy Conn. . . . Too bad. . . . He lost in 12 rounds. . . . All this in 1940.

That dashed Lee's hopes again. . . . But he hung on. . . . In 1941 he once more started to climb toward championship peak. . . . Again his devastating punch brought him into the picture. . . . He fought 14 battles that year. . . . He knocked out eight of his foes, outpointed four. . . . But, along came Harry Bobo, a Pittsburgh Negro who carried pugilistic atomic power. . . . Too bad for Lee. . . . Bobo first outpointed, then kayoed him.

* * *

THAT knockout, however, came in mid-year. . . . The indomitable Savold sturdily began chugging his way back into the championship picture for the fourth time. . . . He won his next six fights, knocking out five foes. . . . On Dec. 2

ARMED, greatest of all handicap horses of today, who may take to the air in order to pass Whirlaway's money-winning record. Trainer Ben Jones says that if Armed wins the $50,000 Widener Stakes at Hialeah, he'll be flown across the continent to Santa Anita for the $100,000 handicap one week later.

Flyers Trade Allum to Barons For Three Men

The Flyers announced this afternoon the trade of Defenseman Bill Allum to the Cleveland Barons for Wendell Jamieson, forward, Doug Lane, a defenseman, and another player to be named later. The St. Louis club also threw in a small amount of cash.

Allum came to Flyers early last season from Buffalo in a trade for Goalie Connie Dion.

Jamieson is a five-year veteran of the American Hockey League and has always been a consistent scorer. With Providence last year, he made 25 goals and 28 assists for 53 points. The year before, he scored 22 times and assisted on 35 points for 57 markers. So far with the Barons this season he has been credited with 10 goals and five assists.

Lane, who turned pro only last fall, came up from the Calgary Stampeders, who in 1945-46 won the Allen Cup, emblematic of Canadian senior amateur supremacy. He is 26 years, weighs 190 and stands six feet one inch. Having recently been loaned by Cleveland to Minneapolis, Lane is expected to join the Flyers here in time for tomorrow night's game at The Arena against Springfield.

Jamieson will not report by tomorrow because of a minor shoulder injury he suffered in Cleveland's game with Buffalo last night. He is due here Thursday, officials have announced.

Tonkovic Bowls 1614 to Lead In the Petersen

CHICAGO, Jan. 20 (AP)—Christ "Buzz" Tonkovic, of St. Louis, held a 36-pin lead in the $54,400 Petersen individual bowling classic today as the event went into a five day recess. Tonkovic posted a 1614 total Saturday on the opening day of the meet. His closest competitor was Norm Pusey, Lima, O., with a 1578 total.

Eight squads of 16 men each rolled in the first two days of the tournament. The firing will resume next Saturday with the rest of the 2176 entrants scheduled to bowl between then and Feb. 9.

Rudokas Takes Lead.

Joe Rudokas, with a total of 1201, took the lead in the five-game individual bowling classic at the University Lanes, yesterday. Elvis Bryant is second with 1145.

The tourney winds up with sessions on Saturday and Sunday.

Fogarty's Goal Puts DeAndreis On Top in Big Nine Soccer Loop

By Dent McSkimming

Despite the fact they have proved a very poor national cup team, the DeAndreis club is setting a fast pace in the Municipal Soccer Association's Big Nine Group. A 1-0 victory over El Borracho, at Sherman Park yesterday, put Eddie Begley's team on top in the league race. Heavy mud tended to spoil the games at most of the public parks fields.

Those spectators who watched the first game at Sherman Park and then hopped north to see the second game at Fairground Park must have been struck with the difference in style of play. Both the DeAndreis and El Borracho clubs used the outmoded system in which wing halfbacks try to cover opposing wing forwards. At Fairground, both the Raftery and Drivers teams played their fullbacks wide, letting wing halves go up field to help their own forwards.

Neither game provided very good entertainment, but the fault at Sherman Park was with the players and their poor ball control. Ankle deep mud ruined the game at Fairground.

No System Guarantees Win.

Of course, no particular system of play is a guarantee of victory. In the last analysis, the team with the better players usually comes out on top, but, where a couple of teams are very evenly matched the club with the more orderly plan would have a great advantage over the disorganized team. So, with all their nice system, Rafterys failed to score a goal and were held to a draw by the speedy young Drivers. But it is a safe bet that Dick Lodderhose or one of the other youngsters would have hit the target were it not for the tight man-for-man defense headed by Leo Lange. This "third fullback" game is new for the Rafterys and both starting fullbacks, Mike Montani and Harry Desmuke, were frequently sucked away from their marked men. The same was true of the Drivers. Bob Kehoe, the center halfback, likes to be the center of the act, so he too often went far up field and neglected the opposing center forward, Ed Corbett. But the sticky mud was a great asset for the defenders and mistakes that might have been fatal on a dry field resulted in no damage.

Bill Fogarty, who was anything but a brilliant player, came up with the only goal of that kick-and-stumble game at Sherman Park. He slammed his left foot against the ball for a clean goal early in the first half. Joe Stratmann, likewise a poor performer on the whole, gave Fogarty his scoring chance when he retrieved a ball at the very goal line and hooked it across the goal mouth.

Carondelet Leaders Triumph.

Except for some nice efforts on the part of Gus Alberici, the DeAndreis halfbacks made a mess of their job. Bob Fuchs took his team out of many tight spots with good covering tactics and strong kicking. Bill Schuler was a total loss at center forward. But the whole team might play much better football if Manager Ed Begley would switch over to the three-backs style of game. Henderson was outstanding at right fullback for the very sober El Borrachos, who lost several opportunities because Outside Left Ike Menendez allowed himself to be caught offside six times. Ike had better take an afternoon off to study the offside rule, for he proved yesterday he doesn't understand what it's all about.

The going was gooey at Carondelet, too. There a couple of good halfbacks, Bill Gonzalez and Jack Rooney, scored useful goals as Carondelet S.M.A.C. whipped Nebcos, 4-0. Under the "three backs" game, which Manager Mossmann uses, the wing halfbacks are close enough to their forwards to get a goal now and then, something that can't be done under the other system.

St. Mark's 2-0 victory over Little Flower gave the victors their sixth win of the season and the C.Y.C. Intermediate league championship. St. Mark is undefeated in 11 games.

Carondelet-Correnti Winner Will Oppose Dallas Soccer Club

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 20 (UP).

THE BANKSTON - HALL SOCCER TEAM today held the district championship in national amateur cup competition after defeating the Latin-American Legion team yesterday, 3 to 0.

John McCulloch, former Scottish star, paced the Bankston-Hall team to victory, scoring two of his team's goals and turning in an all-round outstanding performance on offense and defense.

The winner will represent Texas against champions of the Missouri district.

Carondelet club will oppose Correntis next Sunday at Sportsman's Park in the local final of the National Amateur Cup series. The winners will face the Dallas champions. Preliminary to the Carondelet-Correnti game will be the local Junior cup final between Hoppes and Schumachers.

Guernsey Beats Tuero In Tennis Meet Final

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Jan. 20 (AP)—Frank Guernsey of Orlando, Fla., defeated Jack Tuero of New Orleans, 6-4, 5-7, 6-4, to win the Florida West Coast tennis championship yesterday. Guernsey was seeded first and Tuero second.

Ada Wing of Daytona Beach, Fla., the tournament dark horse, continued her succession of upsets by outlasting Laura Lou Jahn, 9-11, 7-5, 7-5. Miss Jahn, the 14-year-old state women's champion from Fort Lauderdale, was seeded No. 1.

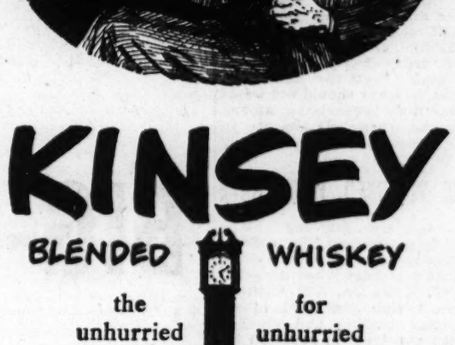

Guernsey and Billy Pou of Tampa won the men's doubles title from Tuero and Tom Burke, Rego Park, N.Y., 6-4, 6-2.

Browns Given More Time to Get Park for San Antonio

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 20 (AP)—St. Louis Browns officials were in San Antonio today renewing their efforts to obtain a park so their Texas League ball club won't have to open the 1947 season as a road outfit.

The Texas League club owners met here yesterday in an effort to iron out the Browns' troubles, expressed a desire to see the franchise remain in San Antonio, voted confidence in the ability of the present operators to carry forward the successful operation of Texas League baseball in San Antonio and granted additional time in which to work out the problem of a suitable site.

The San Antonio club has been parkless since the close of last season during which the Missions set an all-time Texas League record for home attendance with 295,000 paid admissions.

The San Antonio Transit Co. bought Tech Field, home of the Missions, from the city school board five days after the 1946 season opened but the club was allowed to finish the baseball campaign there.

The city of San Antonio planned to construct a new park at the site of Alamo Stadium, the high school football field, but the CPA would not grant priorities on materials. Transportation was ruled more essential than baseball, thus the transit company was able to go ahead with construction of a garage and repair shop.

The Browns reported they could not obtain a suitable site although the transit company offered them the stands and sod from Tech Field. Neither could the transit company obtain another site so it might sell Tech Field to the Browns.

President J. Alvin Gardner of the Texas League, who called the special meeting yesterday announced at its conclusion that the Missions would remain in San Antonio unless they failed to obtain a park by April 10, in which event they would become a road club and remain so until such time as suitable playing quarters had been secured.

Several cities have been seeking the franchise, for instance, a Waco delegation was here yesterday ready to guarantee $150,000 for a new park and offering use of Katy Park, a small field but which once was used for Texas League ball, until the new park could be built. Wichita, Kan., also had been mentioned for possible removal of the San Antonio franchise and Omaha, Nebr., had expressed a desire to enter the league.

But Charles W. Dewitt, traveling secretary of the Browns, told the club owners here that the Browns wanted to stay in San Antonio and would make every effort to do so. He said several sites were under consideration, that it was hoped the stands and sod from Tech Field could be moved to a place where baseball might be carried on.

Record a Week For Carol Pence

A third straight record by Carol Pence and a second mark for Jackie Williams featured yesterday's third round of the Ozark A.A.U. women's all-round swimming championship meet at the Y.W.H.A. pool.

Miss Pence lowered her own 220-yard free style record from 2:52.8 to 2:50.8 Miss Williams swam the junior division 60-yard breast stroke in :46.7, breaking the record of :48.4 set by Peggy McIntyre in 1942.

The results:

OLYMPIC DIVISION.

220-YARD FREE STYLE—Won by Carol Pence, Y.W.H.A., Virginia Peterson, Y.W.H.A., second; Berbadine Kessler, Y.W.H.A., third; Alfrieda Kiel Shaw Park, fourth. Time—2:50.8 (new record, old record 2:52.8, set by Carol Pence, 1946).

JUNIOR DIVISION.

60-YARD BREAST STROKE — Won by Jackie Williams, Y.W.H.A., Mary Jane Eichelberger, Y.W.H.A., second; Diane Schetzer, Y.W.H.A., third; Dorothy Shone, Y.W.H.A., fourth. Time—:46.7 (new record, old record, :48.4, set by Peggy McIntyre, 1942).

60-YARD FREE STYLE—Won by Esther Smith, Shaw Park; Mary Jane Eichelberger, Y.W.H.A., second; Jackie Williams, Y.W.H.A., third; Dorothy Shone, Y.W.H.A., fourth. Time—:42.7.

JUVENILE DIVISION.

40-YARD BREAST STROKE — Won by Jane Frollchstein, Y.W.H.A., Shirley Koch, second; Pat Zook, Y.W.H.A., third; Gerry Tabashnick, Y.W.H.A., fourth. Time—:38.3.

20-YARD DRY TOWEL — Won by Jane Frollchstein, Y.W.H.A.; Shirley Koch, second; Pat Zook, Y.W.H.A., third; Lynn Kuehne, Shaw Park, fourth. Time—:19.8.

MacPhail Is After Star First Sacker

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP)—If Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, is desirous of picking up an easy $150,000, all the eminent gray-haired gentleman has to do is hand over James B. (Mickey) Vernon, his much-sought after first baseman, to the New York Yankees.

This became obvious today following Yankee president Larry MacPhail's oratory yesterday explaining the reason why the club permitted Hank Greenberg to be waived out of the American League.

Pointing out that he had tried three times since last fall to land the major league's home run king from the Detroit Tigers, MacPhail said:

"We are in the market for a first baseman and have tried repeatedly to acquire Greenberg. We approached Detroit about Hank last fall, again at the Los Angeles meetings in December and again last week. Each time we were turned down. We also have offered and are willing to pay $150,000 for a major league first baseman satisfactory to manager Bucky Harris."

Although he did not mention any names, it was apparent that he referred to Vernon, for whom he reportedly had offered Joe DiMaggio, his star outfielder, in exchange, at the end of last year's baseball season.

Vernon would fit in well with the new Yankee plans which stresses inside baseball, speed and hustle over the fence-pulling habit which the Yankees have become accustomed to in recent years. MacPhail and Harris believe the Yankees made a mistake in swinging so often for the fences instead of hitting to opposite fields last year. It was doing just that—hitting to opposite fields—that enabled Vernon to lead the American League in batting last season.

Greenberg Brands as 'Silly' Rumors He May Retire.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (UP)—Hank Greenberg today branded as "silly" reports that he might retire from baseball as result of being sold by Detroit to Pittsburgh and at the same time expressed disappointment that he was leaving the club with which he had spent his entire major league career.

As American League clubs were busy explaining why they allowed him to be waived to the National League, Greenberg told the United Press that he would confer soon with Pirate officials and that it made "no difference" to him whether they wanted him to play first base or in the outfield.

Greenberg also said that reports he might buy into the Pittsburgh club were "merely speculation."

"The news that I was traded to Pittsburgh came as a complete surprise," Greenberg said. "I first heard of it over the radio. I signed with Detroit immediately upon my graduation from high school. I've played with the Tigers continuously for 14 years except for my four years in the Army. When I received my discharge in 1945 I returned to Detroit and have been with the Tigers since.

"My whole major league career has been spent in a Detroit uniform," Greenberg added. "I've always given them my best efforts and I think my record speaks for itself. Naturally, after this long and pleasant relationship, I am disappointed at being waived out of the league. I also regret leaving my Tiger teammates, many of whom are my close friends."

The 1946 home run king said he anticipated "no salary difficulties" with the Pirate management.

Longson Beat Thesz Last June; Handbill Says 'Not in 4 Years'

The question of how often or how recently Bill Longson wrestled Lou Thesz is the subject of a letter to the Sports Editor from Tom Packs Sports Enterprises. After calling attention to the fact that Thesz will meet Longson at the Arena, Thursday night, the communication adds:

"It was stated in Wray's Column of the Sunday Post-Dispatch that Longson and Thesz met 'a few days ago in Houston,' but the actual date was June 7, 1946."

This admission that Longson met and defeated Thesz in Houston last summer is strangely absent from the Pack Enterprises' publicity handbill which makes it appear the two men have not faced each other in four years. Here are some phrases appearing in the handbill:

"Longson vs. Thesz, FOUR YEARS IN THE MAKING!"

"When Longson and Thesz agreed to meet at the Arena, Jan. 23, the climax of a four-years effort was reached."

"Longson has used every dodge in the book to avoid a finish match with Thesz."

"Wild Bill has very carefully avoided meeting Thesz in all these years."

Silents Win Another.

The St. Louis Silents, a basketball team composed of deaf players, again defeated the Indianapolis Deaf Club, 49-33, over the weekend. Walter Gregory was high scorer with 19 points. The Silents are scheduled for two more home games before they will play in the Midwest tournament for the deaf at Omaha Feb. 28.

Lauman Beats Schalk, Retains Tenpin Title

Hank Lauman retained the city match-game bowling title, defeating challenger Frank Schalk by 390 pins in the 40-game match completed on the Delmar alleys, last night. Lauman won the final block, 2079 to 1973 and finished with an aggregate of 8338 to 7948 for Schalk.

New Recruiting Rule Opposed by Southwest Loop

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 20 (UP)—The Southwest Conference yesterday rejected the National Collegiate Athletic Association principle against recruiting of athletes.

Southwest Conference officials suggested adoption of a modified form of the principle, confining recruiting to the state in which a school is located.

The Southwest athletic officials also suggested a joint meeting of southern, southeastern, Big Six and Missouri Valley School sports heads to study the recruting problem.

The Southwest Conference faculty committee meeting heer accepted all of the N.C.A.A. "pure sports" proposals except two—the one dealing with recruiting, another dealing with jobs for athletes.

The Southwest Athletic representatives agreed it was impossible to ignore the service an athlete renders by participation in the school athletic program and went on record in support of the theory that he discharges at least part of the obligation for board and room and laundry expenses. The conference will require, however, that athletes work at a campus job for at least 200 hours each year. The N.C.A.A. would allow a job equal to the service rendered by the athlete and would require full working time on his part in earning the amount.

Lester Burge Named Fort Worth Manager

FORT WORTH, Tex., Jan. 20 (AP)—Lester Burge, powerhitting first baseman, today was named playing manager of the Texas League Fort Worth Cats for the coming season.

Last season Burge reported to the Contreal Club after being discharged from the armed service. In 101 games he hit .285 for the International League and little world series champions. He played his last full season in 1942 with Montreal.

During his three years in the service he piled up an enviable record as a manager and player.

Originally, Reeves said, Catcher Herman Franks was scheduled for the Fort Worth post. However, he will remain in AAA ball as manager of the St. Paul team, it was announced.

New Zealand Star Defeats U.S. Runner

AUCKLAND, New Zealand, Jan. 20 (UP)—D. M. Harris, New Zealand's national half-mile champion, ran the fastest half-mile ever clocked in New Zealand as he was timed in 1:52 yesterday.

He was 20 yards ahead of John Fulton of the United States. Two other Americans, Al Hershey and D. Campbell, also competed. It was the first race of a scheduled tour in which the Americans will run against Anzac stars.

Duck Hunters Meeting.

Conditions relative to duck propagation, a matter of interest to all duck hunters, will be the subject of a talk by Ed Russenhold, Ducks Unlimited director of operations, at a dinner meeting tonight at the DeSoto Hotel.

The occasion will be the annual gathering of the Missouri Duck Hunters Association. J. W. McAfee, president of Union Electric, is to serve as toastmaster.

Ducks Unlimited's 1946 motion picture will be shown following an election of officers and dinner at 6:30 p.m.

What's Ahead in '47?

There are big things ahead for the South!

How do we know?

Because the Southern Railway "Serves the South." Because our 50,000 officers and employees get around and talk to Southerners. Because our trains carry Southern products in ever-increasing volume and variety.

All signs point ahead to an era of tremendous growth and prosperity. Factories are going up everywhere, and many more are being planned. Towns and cities are thriving. Best of all, Southerners are facing the future with optimism and confidence.

By continuing to spend millions of dollars for new equipment and for improvements of all kinds, the Southern is preparing today for the traffic of tomorrow ...keeping pace with the growing demand for economical, efficient, dependable railroad mass transportation.

With all Southerners continuing to work together, we enthusiastically believe that what's ahead in '47... and in the years beyond...spells even greater prosperity and growth for the Southland.

Puzzler Sends Cagers to Rule Book

Question of Possession After Fouls

McBride still was the only undefeated team in the Prep League today, but St. Louis U. High's tie with Central Catholic for second place, one game behind the Colonnaders, still was subject of confusion if not dispute.

McBride's fourth consecutive league victory was a 47-to-29 decision over C.B.C., but St. Louis's 27-to-25 overtime triumph over South Side Catholic, in the second game of last night's doubleheader at St. Louis University's gymnasium, provided an unusual puzzler.

In the overtime period, the Junior Billikens were leading, 25 to 24, when their Ed Hilton was fouled in the act of shooting and awarded two free throws. He caged the first, giving his team a two-point lead, and St. Louis then elected to take the ball out of bounds to retain possession in the final seconds.

However, as the ball was taken out to the side boundary, Coach George Hasser of St. Louis inserted a substitute who failed to report to the scorer, giving South Side a technical foul, on which the Green Dragons' Lou McKenna scored. That conversion brought the score to 26 to 25, St. Louis, and the ball was given back to the Junior Billikens. They then elected to try for the free throw Hilton previously had coming to him—and he made it.

Under basketball rules, a team awarded a technical foul shot is given possession of the ball out of bounds at midcourt after the free throw, no matter whether the goal is made or not. And Section 6 of Rule 8, covering a situation in which a personal foul and technical are involved simultaneously, indicates that the team awarded the technical—in this case South Side—is entitled to possession of the ball after the free throw.

More Honors for Musial.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 20 (AP)—The Philadelphia Sports Writers Association says Stan Musial, hard-hitting St. Louis Cardinals first baseman, is the outstanding athlete of 1946. The Donora (Pa.) diamond star won the honor in a poll of 93 Quaker City sports writers.

Rupprecht Qualifies For Olympic Trials

OCONOMOWOC, Wis., Jan. 20 (AP)—Ken Henry, Chicago, and Sonny Rupprecht, St. Louis, yesterday qualified for the nation-wide United States Olympic ice skating trials at St. Paul, Feb. 4-9, by winning regional tryouts in the 1500 and 10,000 meters events, respectively.

Henry traveled the 1500 meters over the Lake Fowler course in 2 minutes 38.4 seconds, while Rupprecht's time for the 10,000 meters grind was 20 minutes 43 seconds.

RUPPRECHT.

George Fischer, Buddy Solem, Marvin Thomson and Tom Baacke, all of Chicago, are other members of the six-man team chosen at the tryouts. Fischer and Solem qualified by winning the 500 and 5000 meters events, respectively, yesterday. Thomson and Baacke were selected on the basis of their times in the various events.

Other results and times yesterday included:

1500 Meters—Rupprecht, 2:40.7; Thomson, 2:49.4; Bud Handlon, St. Louis, 2:50.2; Harold Tenebaum, St. Louis, 2:50.3; Ed Shimek, Cedar Rapids, Ia., 2:50.8; Bob McCarthy, St. Louis, 2:52.4; Jim Hawkins, St. Louis, 2:55.4.

10,000 Meters—Baacke, 21:17.5; Shimek, 21:39.3; Art Winkle, Chicago, 22:06.

Bartholomew and Lamb Tie.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 20 (AP)—Two Minneapolis skaters won places yesterday on the Wisconsin-Minnesota district team which will compete in the Olympic skating trials but a tie in the average time for the 500-1500 meter events between Ken Bartholomew, Minneapolis, and Del Lamb, Milwaukee, delayed selection of the winner in that section.

Bartholomew and Lamb both turned in average times of 3:11.25 for the two events.

Bartholomew, however, will race in the 10,000-meter race tomorrow night and the judges said a victory by him there would put him on the team and permit naming of Lamb from the 500-1500-meter section.

John Werket with an average time of 2:25.0 in the two heats of the 1500-meter event had sufficient margin to win the race from Lamb whose average time was 2:27.3 and from Bartholomew with an average time of 2:27.6.

Arthur Seaman, also of Minneapolis, raced over the 5000-meter course in 10:29.5 to clinch his berth on the team. His closest competitor was Bartholomew with a time of 10:41.6.

The team being chosen here will compete in the National Olympic Trials in St. Paul Feb. 4-9 with skaters from three other districts in the nation.

Blum and Hanley Winners.

NEWBURGH, N.Y., Jan. 20 (AP)—Ray Blum of the Paterson (N.J.) Skating Club and Miss Marion Hanley of the Grossinger (N.Y.) Skating Club swept the senior divisions of the twenty-sixth annual Middle Atlantic outdoor speed skating championships held at the Delano-Hitch Memorial rink today.

The 27-year-old engineering student and war veteran won the 220, 440 and one mile races to account for 90 points, beating out Frank R. Briggs, of Pompton Lakes, N.J., who had 40. Blum fell in the 880 and failed to finish. He was left at the post in the 220, but he skated a thrilling race to barely nip Herman Van Putten of Paterson.

Miss Hanley, 1945 champion, scored again by winning all events, the 220, 440 and 880. She defeated Mary Lynch of Newburgh, Marion Davis of Flushing, N.Y., and Beatrice Amann of Meriden, Conn.

More than 5000 fans watched the races which were conducted under ideal conditions.

Blum won the Hudson Valley championship at Troy on Saturday. He also captured the Silver Skates this year.

Bills Have Light Week, but Bears Won't Hibernate

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 20 (UP)—Missouri Valley basketball teams divide their attention evenly between conference and non-conference foes in a six-game schedule this week.

League leading St. Louis University meets Washington University, its neighbor, in the feature conference game Saturday night, with second-place Drake taking on Creighton at Omaha in another important loop meeting the same night. Tulsa and Wichita, neither serious contenders for the Valley title, play the only other conference game at Wichita on Friday.

Oklahoma A. & M., a surprise victim of St. Louis two weeks ago and loser of only one other game all season, tests its skill against Arkansas of the Southwest Conference in a non-league game at Oklahoma City Friday night. Washington plays Missouri of the Big Six at Columbia Wednesday and then entertains Chicago Friday at St. Louis. Tulsa travels to Moline, Ill., to take on Bradley Tech Saturday in the only other game.

St. Louis's stock went up last week, even in a defeat. The Billikens bowed to Long Island University at New York, 44-46. Long Island had conquered Oklahoma A. & M. for the Cowpokes' only other reverse of the season by a 47-46 score. In a dizzy season when comparative scores are of little value, those two—put side-by-side — do, however, make the St. Louis victory over the Aggies seem less than a tremendous upset.

St. Louis won three games in a bus week. After losing to L.I.U. the Bills knocked off Georgetown, 52-42, and two Missouri Valley rivals, Creighton, 57-34, and Drake, 49-42.

The Valley standings:

TEAM.	W.	L.	PCT.	PTS.	OPP.
St. Louis	5	0	1.000	251	183
Drake	3	1	.750	216	153
Oklahoma A. & M.	2	1	.667	113	107
Tulsa	1	1	.500	82	95
Creighton	1	3	.250	158	195
Washington	1	4	.200	197	239
Wichita	0	3	.000	113	158

Games this week: Wednesday, Washington at Missouri. Friday, Chicago at Washington; Tulsa at Wichita; Oklahoma A. & M. vs. Arkansas at Oklahoma City. Saturday, Drake at Creighton; Tulsa vs. Bradley Tech at Moline, Ill.; St. Louis at Washington.

Results last week: Drake 46, Creighton 40; Long Island 46, St. Louis 44; Southwestern Kansas 43, Wichita 42; Phillips University 46, Tulsa 36; St. Louis 52, Georgetown 42; St. Louis 57, Creighton 34; Oklahoma A. & M. 47, Wichita 38; Drake 61, Washington 27; St. Louis 49, Drake 42; Washington 54, Creighton 40.

Trippi Home, Says That His Baseball Future Is Clouded

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 20 (UP)—Georgia's Charley Trippi was back home today after signing a four-year pro football agreement with the Chicago Cardinals, but he indicated his baseball future was clouded with doubt.

Trippi, reputedly due to receive over $100,000 from Card owner Charley Bidwill during the next four National Football League campaigns, said it would take a good diamond offer to get his services.

Unknown Beats Top Golfers in Richmond Open

RICHMOND, Calif., Jan. 20 (AP)—George Schoux, a boy who learned his golf on the public links of San Francisco and graduated into the professional ranks just a year ago this week, developed into another threat to the scoring kings of the PGA yesterday by winning the $10,000 Richmond Open Golf Championship with a 16 under par score of 268.

SCHOUX

Schoux, who jumped four strokes ahead of the field with a third round total of 197 Saturday, stood off the challenge of two to golf's all-time greats in the final round—United States Champion Lloyd Mangrum and the nation's leading money winner Benny Hogan—without cracking.

In the final threesome of the tournament, Schoux played cautious, consisting golf for a par 71 aginst a 70 scored by Mangrum—who posted a final total of 271 to tie for third with Hogan—and Chick Harbert of Farmington, Michigan. Hogan scored a final round of 68 and Harbert had 66.

Demaret Takes Second.

Jimmy Demaret of Houston, Texas, whose sartorial splendor as well as his golf continued to "wow" the spectators, slipped in with an early threesome to post a final round 67 for a 269 which was good for second place.

Scoring throughout the tournament was the lowest ever in California competition or in PGA tournament golf. Playing in excellent weather, over the Richmond course, only 6209 yards long and short to a par 71.

The pro's began to take the layout apart in the first round and continued throughout the tournament. The 54 who finished the four rounds turned in 142 sub-par rounds. The low round of 64 was set by Mangrum opening day to equal the course competitive record. Lew Worsham, young Washington (D.C.) pro, and Harbert collected the low nine hole scores of 29.

Schoux, whose $2000 winnings here will enable him to continue with the winter tournament tour, will start Thursday in the Phoenix open, where he turned pro last year. At Richmond, a year ago, George was fifth amateur and collected a $25 war bond for his efforts. In shooting for the two-grand pro prize this time he lost 12 pounds.

Riegel Is Low Amateur.

Behind the five leaders were Jim Ferrier of Chicago, Jim Turnesa of White Plains, N. Y., and Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Sanford, Me., tied with 273s. Dale Andreason of Los Angeles and Lew Worsham of Washington, D. C., both youngsters, and Ed Furgol of Detroit, followed with 274s.

Next at 275 was William Fritz of Colma, while Skee Riegel of Glendale, Calif., the low amateur of the tournament and Ted Kroll of New Hartford, N. Y., tied at 276.

Riegel was the only amateur who placed among the money-winning professionals whose lowest paying score was 278. Tie for second and third in the Simon-pure ranks were Marvin (Bud) Ward, former national amateur champion of Spokane, Wash., and Bob Silvestri of Daly City, Calif., who were in a tie with three professionals at 180.

According to the monthly bulletin of the Thoroughbred Racing Associations, the spring race meeting at Fairmount Park will open on Friday, May 30, and close July 12, a total of 32 racing days.

The fall meeting of 27 days will run from Aug. 30 to Oct. 1.

British Scientists Call on U.S., Canada and England to Set Up Atom Plants in Other Countries

Say Reactors for Research Would Have Little Military Value — Baruch Plan Criticized as Maintaining American Monopoly, at Least in First Stages.

By TOM WILLIAMS

LONDON, Jan. 20 (AP).

THE British Atomic Scientists' Association urged today that the United States, Britain and Canada immediately give other nations help in setting up atomic research plants.

"It would be a generous and helpful measure if the nations now possessing the most advanced knowledge of atomic energy were to offer to other nations collaboration in setting up small atomic reactors," a 2400-word statement by the association's council said.

Atomic reactors are ovens which produce heat, radioactive rays and new atoms. The association said they "are of little use for military purposes, but are valuable for the purposes of scientific research and for the production of tracer elements for research in medicine and other fields."

It suggested that plant and personnel be offered by the "know how" nations—defined by officials of the association as the United States, Britain and Canada.

The council expressed belief that lending of plans and personnel "would offer immediate advantage to all the nations concerned which would far outweigh any contribution they make to the dissemination of technical experience of some value also for military applications."

"We believe that the chance of agreement and the rate of development of the beneficial uses would, in fact, be greatly improved if a generous view were taken of the definition of 'basic scientific knowledge' which can immediately be exempted from secrecy rules," it said.

Purposes of Association.

The Atomic Scientists Association was organized recently "to enlighten public opinion" in Britain "on the dangers and prospects of atomic energy and to press for effective control," said an announcement enclosed with the council report.

Two members listed in the announcement were Dr. G. O. Jones of the Clarendon laboratory, Oxford, and Dr. N. Kemmer of the Cavendish laboratory, Cambridge.

Dr. W. J. Arrol, official spokesman for the association, said it was organized less than a year ago and had a membership of about 150—all of them scientists who had worked in the development of atomic energy. The members, he said, include Prof. M. L. E. Oliphant, chief of Britain's research team which co-operated in the atomic bomb project. N. F. Mott of Bristol university is president of the association.

A foreword to the council's statement noted the final version of the memorandum was determined on Nov. 28 and "no account could, therefore, be taken on the recent encouraging moves tending to treat atomic energy as a part of the wider problems of disarmament."

Two members of the council, the foreword added, "have felt unable to support the whole of the memorandum." The dissenters were not named.

Atom Control Plans.

The council examined both the American and Russian proposals for international control of atomic energy and the memorandum observed:

"The most important objection to the (Bernard M.) Baruch plan from the point of view of other nations is probably that it envisages in its first stages measures which may be construed as maintaining the dominance of the United States in the field of atomic energy, whereas the concessions which are to be made by that country appear mostly in the later stages. If these later stages are not to be ratified until the previous ones have been achieved, technically Congress could withhold ratification at any stage."

Noting United States proposals to postpone immediate destruction of atomic weapons, as demanded by the Russians, the statement declared:

"We think it would be reasonable to ask at least for a declaration by all countries of the amounts of fissionable materials in their possession and of the production rates in existing or projected plants.

"Such a declaration might materially contribute to a spirit of confidence, while not appreciably impairing the security of the United States."

It recommended that Baruch's proposals be "amplified by making it clear that a definite succession of steps should be laid down from the outset and be accepted by each nation participating in the scheme."

As for military control of atomic knowledge, the association said:

"We are impressed with the strength of the case made in the (David E.) Lilienthal report for giving to ADA (Atomic Development Authority) positive responsibility for production and ownership (of atomic plants)."

On Veto Issue.

The council said it was unfortunate that the question of United Nations veto powers "reached such prominence" so early in the discussion of schemes for atomic energy control, "before other features of the plans had been adequately considered."

The scientists said they saw the need of an atomic development authority free to conduct its own day-to-day management, but added:

"The line between administrative problems which are the province of the ADA and policy problems to be settled by the Security Council is, of course, difficult to draw. There remain borderline cases in which the question of procedure will have to be settled by the Security Council, or possibly by the General Assembly of the U.N."

The report said "it is an important feature of the Baruch plan that all 'dangerous production facilities,' i.e., all those that are easily adapted to the production of military weapons, should be owned by ADA."

"The positive functions of ADA," the report declared, "will be further strengthened if it is accepted that ADA should itself undertake research on all problems of atomic energy.

"The existence of ADA research organizations need not exclude national research, provided the latter is carried out openly and its results made available to ADA.

"We do not believe that it is necessary to class research on atomic explosives as a dangerous activity: the danger does not come from research as such, but from the application of the results. The knowledge of the possibilities of atomic weapons is essential to make effective plans for preventing their illicit manufacture or use."

Planning Group Urges Abolition Of Filibuster

Association Proposes Other Reforms to Speed Legislation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—URGING abolition of the filibuster, the National Planning Association said today the modernization of Congress is only half done.

Removal of barriers to rapid legislation is particularly urgent now, it declared, to prevent a stalemate resulting from a Republican Congress and a Democratic administration.

Of "vital necessity," said the report, is the creation of a majority policy committee in each house made up of the Republican chairmen of each major standing committee, and a minority committee made up of the ranking Democrats on the same committees.

"The present steering committee system is not strong enough to assure productive co-operation between the Republican and Democratic leaders, no matter how well-meaning they may be," the report said. It suggested that a prime task of the proposed bodies should be to determine policy on taxation, appropriations and the national debt.

Written by Robert Heller.

The report was written by Robert Heller of Cleveland, industrial engineer, who drafted the association's 1945 recommendations for congressional streamlining. Many of the earlier proposals were embodied in the reorganization act.

The association is a private, non-profit planning organization having representation from labor, business and agriculture.

The report applauded the changes made so far as "no small achievement," particularly the reduction of the number of Senate committees from 33 to 15 and House committees from 48 to 19.

In releasing Heller's report, the association noted that "events following the convening of the Eightieth Congress" — presumably the dispute over seating Senator Bilbo (Dem.), Mississippi—"re-emphasize Mr. Heller's point that 'it is time for the elimination of the filibuster'."

Legislative Stalemate.

"The primary danger in the next two years is that of legislative inactivity resulting from a Democratic presidency and a Republican Congress," the association said. "It therefore becomes imperative that any obstructions to the enactment of legislation by majority vote be removed.

"It is noteworthy that the filibuster or threat of filibuster has been used in recent years almost entirely for the obstruction of legislation generally regarded as desirable and progressive."

Heller criticized the seniority system of picking committee chairmen and suggested that some means of choosing chairmen for their ability be worked out "within the congressional family."

Desirable Measures.

He listed these as "extremely desirable" measures:

1. Self-government for the District of Columbia, to "reduce the workload of a Congress still burdened with time-consuming details."

2. More help for Congressmen and establishment of an Office of Congressional Personnel to modernize staff operations.

"Less pressing but still desirable" are several recomemndations made in the 1945 report, Heller said, including:

1. Greater use of "provisional legislation," which empowers the President to propose actions some time in advance of their effective date, with Congress retaining the right to veto them.

2. "Question periods," in which government officials would be interrogated on their operations and plans by either house in full session.

3. Formal inquiries into basic national affairs — such as the study of labor-management relations asked for by President Truman.

1,750,000 IN BRAZIL TO BE FINED FOR FAILING TO VOTE

$5 to $15 Penalties Provided by Law Making Balloting Obligatory.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 20 (AP)—Chief Justice Jose Linhares announced today that some 1,750,000 qualified voters who stayed away from the state and city elections in Brazil yesterday would be fined $5 to $15 under the law which makes balloting obligatory.

Tabulations were to begin at noon in the election which in effect tested the strength of the Communist party, larger and more aggressive in Brazil than in any other American country. Each of the 20 states selected a governor and a third Senator and the Rio de Janeiro federal district chose 50 alderman and a Senator.

Early estimates indicated that only 5,250,000 of the eligible 7,000,000 voted. The Communists were bidding for 1,000,000 votes and 20 of the Rio de Janeiro aldermanic seats. President Eurico Gaspar Dutra appealed to voters earlier this month to vote against the Communist party, whose legality is under challenge from the chief of federal police.

Contesting the Communist's bid for power was former President Getulio Vargas, whose Labor party backed Hugo Borghi for Governor of Sao Paulo. Borghi ran against Ademar Barros, who accepted Communist support.

The voting was reported generally orderly. Two persons were killed in the Amazon river town of Obidos and police broke up quarrels in the states of Paraiba and Minas Gerais.

LONDON, Jan. 20 (UP)—Wing Commander John Baldwin reached an altitude of 51,200 feet—nearly 10 miles — on a routine experimental flight in a jet plane, it was reported today.

Small Firms Did Better in War Than Big Ones

Probably in More Liquid Position Than Ever, Says Reserve Board Report.

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP).

SMALL business which survived fared better financially than big companies during the war, a Federal Reserve Board report indicated today.

By the end of 1945 small and medium-sized concerns were "probably in a more liquid position than they had ever been in the history of the country," said the study.

It was written by Albert R. Koch and Eleanor J. Stockwell of the Federal Reserve staff. It covers the financial condition of 2708 corporations and unincorporated firms from 1940 through 1945.

The small and middle-sized firms showed a "relatively greater increase in sales, profits and assets" than the larger companies, said the report published in the current issue of the Federal Reserve Bulletin.

Differences in Findings.

This finding, Federal Reserve officials told questioners, does not necessarily conflict with the reference to the "concentration of power in the hands of a small number of giant organizations," by President Truman in his state of the union message to Congress.

Declaring that the concentration had been accelerated by the war, Truman called for a more vigorous anti-monopoly policy and for larger appropriations to the Federal Trade Commission and the Justice Department's anti-trust division.

The Koch-Stockwell report, Federal Reserve officials noted, is limited to financial matters. It does not attempt to measure the extent to which big corporations have absorbed small ones, nor the extent to which big business might have increased its dominance by acquisition of surplus Government plants and equipment.

Economists of the Smaller War Plants Corporation, now absorbed by the Commerce Department, have estimated that the 63 largest manufacturing corporations increased their net working capital by ten billion dollars from 1939 through 1945—a gain large enough to permit their purchase of the assets of 71,700 smaller corporations.

Business Outlook

By J. A. Livingston

ALL the talk about the 1947 recession is beginning to yield dividends. Men and women are proving, once again, that they are adaptive animals, that when it comes to simple economics of getting in and out of storm cellars, they use their heads.

Reconversion is over. Peacetime production is rolling. People know supplies are going to be more plentiful and that prices are going to come down. And they have been planning for that contingency since the middle of last year. It was then that talk of a 1947 recession gained headway. As an example, in June this column forecast that Christmas 1946 would mark the retail sales top for some time to come.

More for Your Dollar.

Now along comes Henry Ford II with the dramatic announcement of a $15 to $50 cut in the price of Ford cars. It's a reassurance that competition still plays its part in the economy. Ford undoubtedly wanted to steal a march on General Motors, Chrysler, and other rivals in the postwar rush for public favor. He also probably wanted to dampen union demands for wage increases.

But perhaps there was another and more subtle factor. Perhaps Ford feared that automobile companies were pricing cars out of the reach of lower-income customers and that these customers, seeing prices so high, were perhaps turning to other products — refrigerators, or stoves, or washing machines. So to hold his market, to be sure that the Fords continue to roll by, Ford takes the precautionary action of saying to on-the-fence buyers, "Look, we're going to give you more value for your dollar." And he says that in the face of orders for 1,000,000 cars on his books!

Thus automobiles have now joined furs, jewelry and foods in price come-downs. True, the cut in autos is not major. The postwar car is still 30 to 50 per cent higher than prewar. Yet the Ford action is significant in this sense: it puts a crimp in the theory that prices of "hard goods" would hold up in the face of drops in "soft goods." Historically, that never has happened for long. Usually, commodities move together. If farm prices start falling, sooner or later the weakness spreads to other products, to the metals, say, which in recent weeks have been reaching for the sky. Copper, up from 12 to 19½ cents in seven months, is an outstanding example.

Horns Pulled In.

Ford is not alone. Nor by any means the first. Department stores for months have been getting ready for the buyers' market and possible price declines. Back in July, department store orders for goods amounted to nearly $1,100,000,000; in November such commitments had been pulled down to $690,000,000. This contrasts decisively with what happened in 1942, 1943, 1944 and 1945 when stores replaced their orders as fast as manufacturers could fill them.

The implication is that established stores this time are not overcommitted and overstocked and hence may avoid the drastic readjustments of 1920-21 when inventory losses were heavy, when orders were canceled right and left, when bank loans were called, and when bankruptcy petitions kept lawyers busy. And as a corollary, manufacturers and wholesalers won't find the bottom—the orders—dropping right out of their future.

Yet it doesn't follow that the United States is recession-proof. On the contrary. In the last six years, prices have been going steadily up. And in the last year, the advance has accelerated unevenly, as if in the topping off phase of a boom. This shows up in the 2¼ per cent per month advance in commodity prices the last year, the 40 per cent increase in business loans, the sharpest one-year rise on record, and the 25 per cent jump in inventories. At the same time consumer credit has gone up 45 per cent. Yet installment sales credit has only just begun to rise rapidly.

Whatever Goes Up.

Whenever the economy jumps forward like that, some inventories go too high relative to other inventories; farm prices push out of line with industrial prices, and, in turn, industrial prices in going up, get out of line with one another. Banks get overextended in some types of loans and begin to cut down. And it's those maladjustments that ultimately force readjustment—that is, a decline in prices, production and employment.

It's significant that the wholesale price rise this time, 76 per cent since September, 1939, is only about half the 148 per cent advance from August, 1914 through April, 1921—the top. And it seems reasonable to presume that the early talk of a recession—aided and abetted by the break in the stock market—helped to (a) prevent the price rise from going faster that it has, (b) cause the readjustment to come sooner than it would have otherwise and therefore (c) moderate the length and depth of the ultimate recession.

Dulles Attacked by Pravda For His 'Slander' of Russia

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, Jan. 20 (AP)—Pravda, Communist party newspaper, yesterday accused John Foster Dulles of using "cheap, slanderous phrases hostile to the Soviet Union" in a New York speech.

G. A. Viktorov, Pravda commentator, said that Dulles—a member of the American delegation to the United Nations and foreign affairs adviser to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in the 1944 presidential campaign—employed such phrases as "Soviet expansion" and "territorial seizures."

"This speech," Viktorov continued, "will not surprise those who know this is the same Dulles who was closely connected with the German banking firm of Schroeder. In 1939 Dulles enthusiastically greeted Fascist regimes in Germany, Italy and Japan.

"The question arises, what prompted Dulles to disdain elementary decency to give vent to a wrathful speech against the U.S.S.R.? The orator himself gave the answer. He was forced to acknowledge that the Soviet delegation at the General Assembly convinced the majority of the necessity of general arms reduction and that 'the United States should disarm in the interest of international peace.'

"The chief cause of Dulles's wrath is that the General Assembly unanimously advocated a general arms reduction regulation. Apparently such a course of events does not correspond to the plans of Dulles and those monopolist circles whose interests he represents."

In New York, Dulles said his only comment on the Pravda article would be a reference to the statement on Soviet-American relations incorporated in the Oct. 11, 1946, report of the Commission on a Just and Durable Peace issued by the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. Dulles quoted the statement by the commission, of which he was chairman, as saying: "We believe that every effort should be made to apply the provisions of the United Nations charter for the regulation and multi-lateral reduction of national armaments."

Dulles pointed out that the commission's report was released prior to the disarmament proposal made by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov before the U.N. General Assembly Oct. 29.

In the Friday address to which Pravda referred Dulles said that 1946 saw the bid of the Soviet Union for world leadership "deflected into channels more compatible with peace." He described Soviet policy as "double-barreled," with one barrel aimed at social revolution throughout the world and the other aimed at nationalistic expansion. American foreign policy in 1946, he said, had two main elements: "Negation toward Soviet expansion and relief of those suffering privation." He added that "in 1947 we shall still need the ability to say 'no.'"

Funerals Are Memorials

One of the most trying and tragic circumstances coming to any family is the funeral.

An adequate expression of love and esteem is due, not in rate of expenditure, but in that seemliness in which respect and reverence are inseparably associated with the environment and sympathetic service.

Neighborhood allegiances cease, if over the years obsolescence has not been replaced. Neglect is betokened and in turn, carelessness in deportment and service.

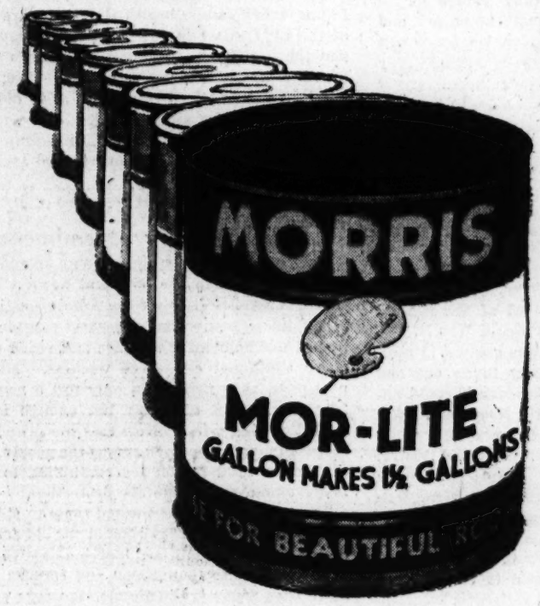

A funeral is a memorial. Let it be held where the premises are clean, the surroundings in good taste and interpretive of the dignity and beauty of the occasion, the organization quietly efficient, and all of the attending circumstances in keeping with the spiritual values.

The greater number of funerals entrusted to this Mortuary makes for a wider distribution of operating costs, and as a consequence our charges are less than those by the obsolete type with a smaller number of funerals.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare; never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

This Way to Depression

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Henry Rathburn, president of the Dairymen's League Co-Operative Association, defends the action of the league in the recent price-pegging of butter by saying that it saved the farmers more than $500,000. Thus he appeals for the support of a class of producers already highly prosperous, failing to recognize that during a period of inflation it is the harassed consumer who should have been saved the $500,000.

This predatory policy on the part of producers and business enterprises generally is what eventually brings on serious depressions. There is a limit beyond which the consumer cannot be exploited without disastrous results. To look upon the market as an impersonal, inexhaustible source of profit is a serious mistake. During a period of excessively high prices the purses of the people soon become incapable of absorbing all the goods it is possible to produce. The result is the curtailment of production, throwing men out of employment, starting the cycle of business depression which gathers momentum as more and more men become unemployed.

To forestall a depression it is highly important that every effort should be made, not to peg prices, but to reduce them. Unfortunately this is not the policy of business in general. There is an old saying that you cannot get blood from a turnip. Neither can you take resources from the people when, because of prolonged high prices, they no longer have resources to give.

A Pupil Looks at Teachers

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Every week I hear some of my teachers griping about their pay, which I am sure more than a third of our population would be glad to receive for their own hard work.

The teacher who makes $4350 a year and is still trying to make more money by extra jobs earns as much as the average middle-class family man, if not more. So I don't see why we can't say to the teachers, "Eliminate this griping. If you don't like the pay, get a better job—there are plenty more—and pay more attention to your teaching than to your salary."

To Legalize "Horse-Play"

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

The newspapers are now harping on the fact that the Capone gangsters are setting up a cut-rate turf news service. Since the newspaper reporters stuck their long noses in and assisted in closing the local service, something like this was to be expected.

The only remedy for the situation is to license off-track wagering in this backward state. This will allow people who like to play the ponies to do so, which is their American right. Hypocrites and others who do not wish to play can simply keep their long noses out of the turf-speculating places. Playing the races is legal at the track and in the State of Nevada, so why should it not be legal elsewhere?

Licensing off-track wagering will provide revenue for the state and city. Of course, the politicians will waste the money anyway, but at least it will be a cleaner set-up. Playing the ponies is not half as bad a habit as drinking or smoking, and these two habits are legal.

Let's quit being hypocrites and license playing the ponies.

The Dumb GI

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

A lot of credit has been given the GI for his courage on the field of battle. Great generals have classified him as the world's greatest soldier. Throughout the North African campaign and the landings on the Normandy beaches he fought his way to inevitable victory in Europe. The fierce battles in the Pacific found him always the victor. It has been said no obstacle was ever too great for him to overcome. Don't you agree with me that the GI is very much overrated? Why, he can't even find a home for his family. A VETERAN.

A Rent Control Dodge

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Why people elect men like Cole and Ploeser to represent them in Congress is something I'll never be able to understand. On every issue they vote against the interests of the people.

Their latest attempt to place rent control under state or local government is lobbying for real estate interests.

There is considerable talk by well-organized and vociferous landlord groups about the injustices they suffer under OPA rent control. But the simple truth is landlords today do not have vacant property on their hands. They can rent the most run-down house or apartment now 12 months out of the year. They do not have to make repairs or improvements to keep tenants because their tenants have no other place to move to.

A Tax Reduction Formula

Congress seems determined to reduce income taxes in spite of the great need and golden chance to reduce the national debt instead. Hence it is time to find a better formula than the two undesirable ones that are now contesting for favor.

1. Representative Knutson contends that his uniform 20 per cent reduction would probably produce more revenue than the existing rates because the lower tax would act as a production and investment incentive. However, business is already running near the peak, so the bill would inevitably curtail revenues sharply.

His formula would leave the family with $5000 gross income paying 9.81 times its 1939 tax and the $100,000 family paying only 1.56 times its 1939 tax. Thus, it would shift burdens from larger to smaller taxpayers.

2. There are also flaws in the counter-proposal to "help the little fellow" by increasing personal exemptions sharply—such as Representative Engel's plan to double them. Doing so would take great numbers of taxpayers off the rolls. It is much better to leave them on and let them feel the direct stake they have in their government and its policies.

Exemptions could be increased very little without cutting even deeper than the Knutson formula into government revenue. Incomes are concentrated toward the lower end of the scale. No matter how hard the rich are soaked, the greater part of the total levy must come from the lower parts of the income pyramid.

3. If Congress insists on reducing taxes, it can be done simply, fairly and without eliminating taxpayers. It can be done by reducing the rate a uniform number of percentage points in each bracket. If the rate were lowered four points, for example, the first $2000 of taxable income would pay 16 per cent instead of the present 20, and the over-$200,000 bracket 87 instead of 91.

Tax reductions for 1947, first under the Knutson flat-20 per cent bill and second under the four-points-per-bracket formula, would be as follows:

Taxable Income	Flat 20%	Four Points
$2,000	$76.00	$76 or 20.0%
4,000	159.60	152 or 19.0%
8,000	372.40	304 or 16.3%
20,000	1,379.40	760 or 11.0%
50,000	5,095.80	1,900 or 7.5%
200,000	29,795.80	7,600 or 5.1%

Under the Knutson bill, the $200,000 man would get 392 times as much reduction in dollars as the $2000 man—which is unfair to the smaller taxpayer. But under the Engel formula or any other uniform rule to increase personal exemptions, the $200.000 man would receive only 4½ times as much reduction as the $2000 man—which is unfair to the larger taxpayer.

In contrast with both inequitable schemes, reducing the bracket rates by any uniform number of points would give the $200,000 man precisely 100 times as much reduction as the $2000 man. That is in exact proportion to their incomes. It is fair to both. It is the surest way to reduce without shifting taxes either from larger to smaller taxpayers or from smaller to larger—that is, without wrecking the carefully balanced existing distribution of the burden.

The Knutson bill swings far to the right, favoring large incomes and breaching the ability-to-pay principle. The Engel plan swings far to the left, unduly favoring small taxpayers and penalizing large ones. Congress, we trust, will shun both extremes and follow the straight, fair and safe road which lies between them.

A Dangerous Breach

The Army, the Air Force, the Navy and the State Department indulged in excessive mutual reticence, shall we say, at a time when split second information and the most complete lateral exchange of intelligence was necessary.

In these words Brig. Gen. Willoughby, Gen. MacArthur's intelligence officer, described one of the most costly weaknesses of the United States intelligence service in World War II. The Office of Strategic Services was created to remedy the defect, with authority to go out and dig up the facts for itself whenever it could not ascertain them from Army, Air, Navy and State.

OSS was dissolved after the war and in its stead President Truman has erected the Central Intelligence Group, which could not really have done anything about the evils Gen. Willoughby mentions. It is a paper agency of "coordination," dependent for its intelligence upon the voluntary proffer of it by these same agencies, which can be relied upon to continue indulging in "excessive mutual reticence."

The Central Intelligence Group is a straw man set up to do a real man's job. The security of the country requires a genuine intelligence service, independent of all departments of Government, able to get tough with Army, Navy, Air Force and State about divulging what they know, and empowered to search out information on its own initiative. Until such an intelligence arm is created, there will be a dangerous breach in the nation's defense.

The A.M.A.'s Turn to Talk

Edward F. Stegen, associate director and registered lobbyist of the National Physicians' Committee, does not deny that he offered to donate money to pay for clerical help for a Senate committee working on the Wagner-Murray-Dingell medical service bill. He does not deny that when the offer was refused, he offered to provide the money under cover as a donation to the Republican National Committee. Both offers were rejected.

He and Mrs. Marjorie Shearon, a research employe of the Republican National Committee who is assigned to the Senate committee in question, and who denounced him, agree on these salient facts. Mrs. Shearon says further that Stegen's National Physicians' Committee is the propaganda branch of the American Medical Association set up to defeat the Wagner-Murray-Dingell bill. Mrs. Shearon hates the bill as much as the A.M.A. does, but she doesn't like the A.M.A.'s tactics in fighting it.

All this obviously makes it the American Medical Association's turn to say something. Does it condone the offer of money from a private organization to a Senate committee which is working on a bill in which the private organization has a profit interest? Does it condone an offer to do this secretly when an offer to do it openly has been rejected on the grounds of propriety? Does the A.M.A., instead, repudiate such questionable tactics, and if so, when is the National Physicians' Committee going to say so and fire Mr. Stegen?

Needed: Another Statement

Joseph A. McClain Jr. made some good points in his statement Saturday accepting chairmanship of the committee to campaign for a $10,000,000 bond issue and an increase in the tax rate for the St. Louis city schools. He said:

> We cannot have successful planning for the modern city of tomorrow without including modern schools in the picture. . . . Nor can we as homeowners expect that our properties will retain their values if neighborhoods are allowed to decline because of the decadence of school properties.

The three great essentials to stabilize property values in St. Louis and to provide a sound base for city taxes are (1) smoke elimination, (2) a sound zoning code soundly administered, and (3) good schools. The lack of these three things played havoc with property values in the '30s.

An outstanding job has been done on smoke control. The City Plan Commission has just brought forward a master planning code which should be the basis for sound zoning laws. And progress is being made in the schools.

In one respect, however, Mr. McClain's statement will stand amendment. Modern school properties are important to residential values, but the main consideration is not the modernity of the buildings but the job they do in imparting knowledge and building character and personality.

This is not as good as it should be, as was shown by the survey of the Columbia University authorities here in 1939. Drs. Strayer and Engelhardt found, for example, that the quality of the teaching staff in the Negro elementary schools was measurably better than that in the white elementary schools.

Why? The Negro teachers at that time were chosen, for the most part, from the best applicants for the jobs, without monopolistic restrictions as to where they trained. But the white elementary teachers were chosen then—as they are now and as they have been for more than 30 years—only from graduates of the city-supported Harris Teachers' College.

The result is that the white elementary schools are ingrown, inbred, lacking in freshness, diversity and vigor. Supt. Hickey and the Board of Education are making overtures toward doing away with the Harris monopoly, and also the ban on the employment of married women teachers, but they are moving slowly.

These are not the only shortcomings on the instructional side. St. Louis would like to hear what Supt. Hickey and the Board of Education are planning to do to improve the schools beyond renovating the physical properties.

C Ratings for Country Clubs

The cleanup of restaurants and other eating places in adjacent St. Louis County communities is moving ahead with commendable dispatch. Two weeks ago Clayton rigorously graded 33 establishments, found 16 unsatisfactory, so posted them and gave their proprietors one month to comply. Now Ladue is applying its model ordinance.

Among Ladue kitchens rated as C, which means falling below public health standards, are those of the St. Louis Country Club, the Bogey Club and the Log Cabin Club. These ratings follow monthly inspections since Jan. 1, 1946; each club has been advised repeatedly as to deficiencies. People who attend country clubs, no less than those who patronize the shining white hamburger stands, are entitled to eat food sanitarily prepared.

Social Security Amendments

Missouri needs two social security amendments which came up in the weekend news.

The Federal Social Security Administration renewed its suggestion that the states provide more liberal unemployment benefits and reach out to cover additional classes of workers. Missouri now pays, as a maximum, only $20 a week for 20 weeks. It is obviously not enough in this period of high prices. Now that the principle is overwhelmingly accepted among the people, there can be no valid reason for continuing to leave many employes outside its protection.

The Legislature will be asked again to straighten out the property requirement for old-age pensions. Under present law, individuals with property worth more than $2500 and couples worth more than $3000 are ineligible. It works serious hardship on a number of old people who have nothing but their homes. As Curtis A. Betts writes, "They can't eat their houses." It is proposed, therefore, to require pensioners to give the State a first lien on their property at death. That would take care of deserving cases. Furthermore, experience in other states argues that it would eliminate many of the undeserving from the rolls. Such a law, unlike the present one, would make able relatives support their old people rather than lose the chance to inherit from them.

Both matters lie entirely within the province of the State Government. It's up to the Legislature.

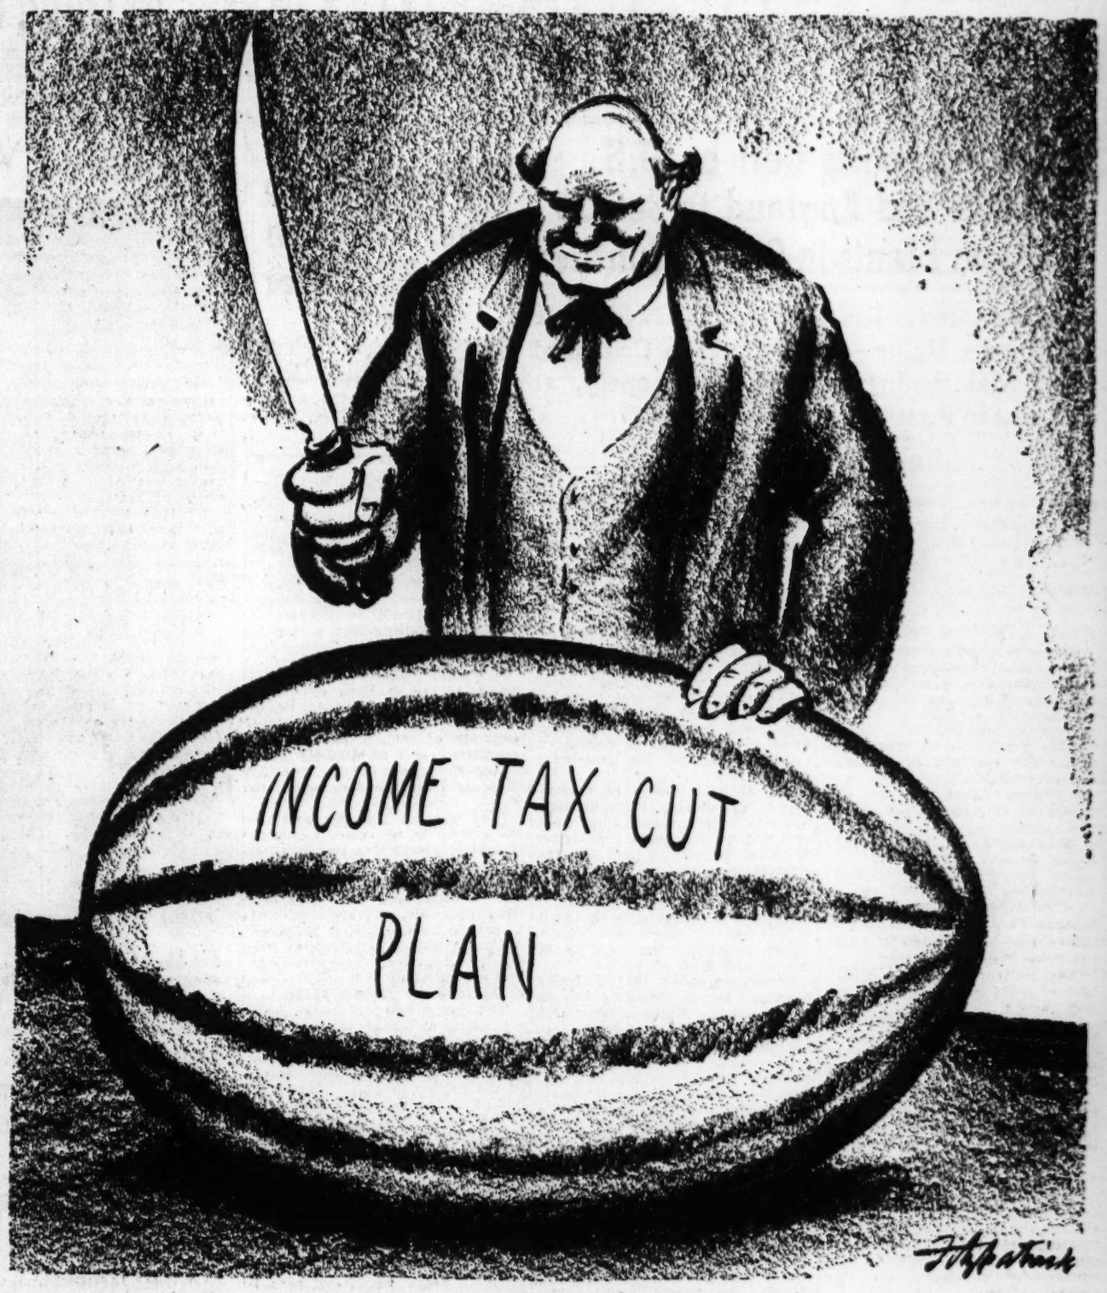

Economy in a Defense Union

There is no question but that a proper integration of our armed forces will result in economies and the Republicans who are seeking to reduce President Truman's excessive budget proposal have every right to look for savings in that direction.

The old rule of armed services independent to the extent of having as little to do with each other as possible has meant the maintenance of separate establishments many places where one would have been more efficient and more economical.

In World War II it became necessary to assign Army personnel to the Navy and Navy personnel to the Army. Headquarters around the globe frequently demonstrated how successfully the services could work together. Economies in messing and handling of such personnel may have been incidental but they were nonetheless real.

The first reason for a genuine wedding of the services is security. Economy is also a sound reason.

No Mandate for Trade Walls

The Mirror of Public Opinion

G. O. P. would be mistaken to regard election as a demand for relapse into economic isolation, Republican newspaper says; opposes high tariff barriers to commerce; says Senator Butler's attack on reciprocal trade policy is "a direct affront to the popular will."

From the New York Herald Tribune

In the present chaotic state of world trade, with abnormal conditions prevailing in every major producing country, the question of tariff barriers is only one among the many which must be answered if there is to be a full, free flow of goods and services among the nations. But it is an important one and will grow more significant with each step that the world takes toward recovery.

The Administration has called for a 19-nation conference to be held next spring on reciprocal tariff reductions, under the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, and public hearings will be held to ascertain American views on the subject beginning Jan. 13.

The policy of tariff reciprocity embodied in the Administration program is primarily associated with the name of Cordell Hull, who initiated it. But it is not exclusively Mr. Hull's policy, nor exclusively the policy of the Democratic party. It is one which the great majority of the American people have come to accept as a sane path toward an expanding world economy from which the United States has so much to gain.

A Contribution to Peace

For example, on June 7, 1945, when Congress was debating the extension and amplification of the Hull tariff legislation, Gov. Dewey said, in discussing the contribution which America might make to economic peace:

> High tariffs are one barrier which we ourselves can lead in reducing, as we have done in recent years and as we shall continue to do under the renewed Reciprocal Trade Agreement Act when the Congress completes action upon it.

Therefore, it is more than a little disconcerting when Senator Hugh Butler opposes the plans for further reciprocal reductions as "a direct affront to the popular will" expressed in the recent congressional elections, and goes on to say that the Administration program, if persisted in, "in defiance of the wishes of the people," will make co-operation between the President and the Republican Congress "almost impossible."

Not a Republican Tenet

The tariff was not an issue in the recent elections. Opposition to the reciprocal trade pacts is not a Republican tenet. In fact, Senator Butler has admitted that he is probably in the minority in opposing reciprocity in Congress; that he had not consulted other Republicans and did not know how many of them shared the views which he set forth so confidently as an echo of the voice of the people.

This incident would probably be unimportant if it were not for the fact that there are a great many people who are anxious to anticipate the effects of Republican control of Congress and to establish, in the public mind, their own conception of Republican policies.

With the world watching intently the course of political and economic events in the United States, it should be made quite clear that whatever the November elections portended, they did not constitute a mandate for re-erecting tariff barriers or for a relapse into isolation, economically or in any other sense.

Tallyho the Professor!

From the Birmingham News

So Mississippi's second greatest statesman has gotten around to investigating "pink professors"! One wonders at his temerity. If Rankin gets a series of professors in the witness chair before his Committee on Un-American Activities, we as citizens of this circus-loving nation are to be treated to the greatest spectacle since Barnum & Bailey joined up with the Ringling Brothers. And the star performer may seem to be a clown made to look as ridiculous as any with painted face and big feet.

We do not know what professors are to be investigated as yet, but we're willing to lay a bet on any of them, sight unseen, against the intellectual wiles of the man from Tupelo. He is likely to encounter his bete noire when he takes on the learned gentry of Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Columbia, et al. For one who purposely tangles in a public exhibition of brain power with a university professor is likely to get the worst of it, as Rankin himself should know. It wasn't too long ago that he clashed horns with Prof. Harlow Shapley and retired from the arena licking his wounds.

Some of the men he is after receive a large part of their pay from "so-called foundations and are spreading subversive propaganda among the students of this nation." We wish Mr. Rankin had identified these professors and the perfidious foundations paying them to destroy America.

We have a fairly large personal acquaintanceship with college professors, and we think we know about most of the foundations which contribute either directly or indirectly to their research projects. Most of those foundations were established by wealthy men who dislike the word "Communist" about as much as Mr. Rankin does.

Mr. Rankin will not do either himself or the country any good if he seeks to smear as a group the professors of the nation. Any effort to do so indicates a fear that truth brought to light may endanger a cause, as it always did in totalitarian countries of Europe. The suppression of intelligent and learned men of a nation is always a first step toward a sort of government which America will not accept.

War, Wit and Wisdom

PRIVATE ANGELO, by Eric Linklater. (The Macmillan Co., New York)

There is a rough but pleasing similarity between the witty Linklater's "Private Angelo" and the sardonic Voltaire's "Candide." Just as the unfortunate wanderings and disastrous adventures of the medieval Candide revealed such a "horrible amount of evil in the world" that he almost renounced optimism, so do the journeys and joltings of Private Angelo in World War II almost bludgeon him permanently blue.

Angelo was the kind of soldier of which Italy had so many that it could only take the measure of the Ethiopians. He joyfully deserts when Italy surrenders, but soon finds himself drafted into the German army. Finally escaping, minus considerable skin, Angelo is picked up by British troops who find his rendition of operatic numbers so charming that they can't get along without him. In addition to his martial misadventures, Angelo finds his love life in a distressing but at times pleasant snafu.

* * *

As his philosophic master, Count Piccologrando, remarks: "To be in love is to suffer a perpetual torment for the sake of relieving it, from time to time, with a dab of delicious ointment. It is a ridiculous state of affairs, and the only cure for it is to grow old. But you have to grow very old."

Angelo also is a bit of a philosopher. As he sees American GIs send prices sky high with their wads of money, he asks if it might not be easier just to let them loot. As the physical ruin of his land progresses during the German retreat, he comments, "We are very grateful to you for coming to liberate us, but I hope you will not find it necessary to liberate us out of existence."

In fact, the book is full of philosophers, including the Britisher who admits: "We're in something of a muddle, and that is just what you would expect if you knew us better. We have been in a muddle for so long that most of us now regard it as our normal environment. And probably it is."

A Novel of Cults and Isms

THE FACE OF THE CLAM, by Luther Whiteman. (Random House, New York.)

In his first novel, Luther Whiteman tells of the carefree life of the clam diggers of California's San Luis Obispo County. In the dunes, Frenchy, nudist and believer in the Ascended Masters of Mount Shasta, studied the clam to see if it had a face, for, if so, his religion forbade him to eat it.

Friend of Frenchy's was Old Man Daggett, who picked winning ponies on a tip from the Swami Pandarma, a visiting prophet, who punctuated his "messages" with shots of Bourbon. Among the dunites, including Dunker, who believed that the secret of all power lay in correct breathing, Author Whiteman has included disciples of all of California's cults and isms.

An entertaining little volume, "The Face of the Clam" is simply the story of a colony of vagabonds who rejoiced that they had not been trapped into rent paying, regular jobs or matrimony, and were left free to believe in such things as the coming of the Lemurian Empire and the wisdom of the Mighty Masters of the Himalayas.

Imaginative Story for Tots

ANGEL CHILD, by Val Teal, illustrated by Pelagie Doane. (Rand McNally & Co., Chicago.)

Imagination to rival a child's own is evident in this delightfully written and illustrated book. Finding a baby angel in a tree, buttoning his wings inside the familiar "sleeper" and seeing him sail into space on the seat of a swing—these are some of the happenings to delight the under-6 set.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Backstage in the Newsprint Shortage

IN the dispute over whetner the Senate should continue the War Investigating Committee, the life of another special committee was also at stake. That was Senator James E. Murray's small-business group, which has been both an economic and a political forum attracting national notice.

Small business is a phrase to conjure with. It invokes the hopes and fears of small industrialists and businessmen who are feeling the pinch of big-business competition. That is particularly true now, since the centralizing force of the war and the spending of billions of Government money made the big boys bigger and more powerful.

Murray, shortly after Congress convened, was all ready to go ahead with an inquiry into the newspaper business. The committee counsel, Dewey Anderson, had prepared the way for a series of hearings which would have shown how smaller papers are being squeezed by the newsprint shortage.

North of the Border.

The committee had in its files a potent document charging monopolistic practices in newsprint production. Thurman Arnold's last act before he resigned as head of the Anti-Trust Division of the Department of Justice was to ask the Federal Trade Commission to make a newsprint investigation.

The Commission's report charged firms in the United States and Canada with fixing a uniform price throughout the country. Decisions by the combine, according to the Trade Commission report, were taken in Canada in order to escape the penalties of the anti-trust laws in this country.

Shortly before the small-business committee's hearings into the newspaper business were to start, the Republicans ordered a halt. They pointed out that there was some doubt whether the committee would be continued. Later, Senator Kenneth S. Wherry of Nebraska, the Republican who would probably fall heir to the chairmanship, indicated that while the Republicans might eventually approve a newspaper inquiry, it would take a somewhat different direction than the one planned under the former Democratic majority.

One-Paper Towns.

In planning the committee investigation, Anderson had had the help of Morris L. Ernst, New York lawyer who recently published a book, "The First Freedom," attacking the growing concentration of control over press and radio. Ernst had in turn enlisted the help of several expert researchers, who have completed a study showing the way in which the number of newspapers had steadily declined and showing the number of towns and cities in which only one newspaper is left.

This was the negative aspect. On the positive side the committee was ready to present witnesses who would give the details of a plan for increasing the supply of newsprint.

Relief in Alaska.

One of these witnesses was to have been Secretary of the Interior Julius A. Krug. He had prepared the outline of a plan for tapping the vast forest resources of Alaska as a source of newsprint. In Alaska are the last great stands of timber readily available to United States consumers.

The hitch in Alaska is the need for low-cost power. Power was part of Krug's plan. He was prepared to present the committee with a scheme for public power production in Alaska. This would be done by present Government agencies working under the unifying direction of an authority. In this same way, the Missouri Valley is at present being developed, although followers of the TVA idea insist that such a compromise will not produce low-cost power and other TVA benefits.

Considerable effort went into the Krug plan. An agreement had been worked out with the Forestry Service which was acceptable to the Department of Agriculture. There has always been conflict between Interior and Agriculture, and the agreement smoothed the way for co-operation.

Hail or Farewell?

The plan contemplated not merely wood-pulp production in Alaska but the possibility that newsprint as well would be manufactured there. Two large private corporations had shown definite interest in constructing wood-pulp plants to use the power produced under Krug's proposed Alaska authority.

It is possible that the Krug plan will still be made public. The newsprint shortage is as acute as ever. Big publishing firms are scrambling to buy newsprint mills. The price of newsprint is $85 a ton on the open market, with reports that up to $140 a ton is being paid in black market.

But whether the plan will be unveiled before the small-business committee is a question. No matter what happens to that committee and the newspaper investigation, the Federal Trade Commission report on newsprint will soon be made public. While it may be the last act of those who now direct the committee, they are determined to get it out.

EDGAR ANSEL MOWRER

Report From Eastern Europe

A BASIC change in the Eastern European situation is reported to me by an American expert in international affairs who has just returned from two years in that region. I quote: "At the bottom of the new situation lies the vast devastation inflicted upon the Soviet Union by the Germans. The Nazis systematically went about their work of making the areas they abandoned unliveable. In parts of southern Russia, the Ukraine and White Russia they did.

"Not only is there no industry or machinery or tools left in vast areas but in some regions there is no housing at all. In parts of White Russia, thousands of poor people are living in primitive, improvised shelters. In some Soviet cities the level of food available has temporarily dropped to 800 calories a day—hardly more than half of that of "starving Vienna."

"More than at any time since the Bolsheviks took over, they need aid from abroad and they need maximum man-power. For this reason, they are: (a) concentrating on getting every single scrap of available "reparations" from the countries they occupy; (b) angling for American assistance by showing how sweetly reasonable they can be, and (c) withdrawing their gigantic armies from occupied countries in order to put the men to work.

"Made in Russia."

"Within Russia the new five-year plan is meeting horrible difficulties, because there is so little left to start with. Hence the repeated purges. Moreover, Soviet soldiers are returning from abroad with open eyes and a disruptive spirit of independence. Former Soviet marshals have been deprived of their commands and cannot get civilian jobs where they might influence people. The infamous NKVD has been divided into two organizations so that each should watch the other.

"In a pathetic effort to satisfy the soldiers' demand for consumer goods, the Government has recently opened a 'watch factory.' What this 'factory' really does is to put new dials on the Swiss watches confiscated from returning Red Army men. The Government then sells them as 'made in Russia.'

"The morale of the Soviet Armies abroad, with the exception of that in Bulgaria, is frankly bad. Soviet soldiers go AWOL into other occupied zones. They fraternize with Russian-speaking foreigners and grouse about home conditions to them.

Tito and Cleopatra.

"Within a reasonably short time, the Red Armies should be completely out of Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary and Austria. Therefore they are seeking feverishly to consolidate in these areas before they leave Communist-dominated 'friendly' governments that can stand by themselves. This explains the recent wave of terror in Bulgaria and the present terror in Hungary. Whether, without direct Soviet support, such regimes can stand in any of these countries is anybody's guess.

"In Belgrade, handsome Marshal Tito has found a new Cleopatra in the person of Olga Ninchitch, daughter of a former bourgeois Foreign Minister. Tito lives in great state in the Royal Palace and leaves governing mostly to Secret Police Chief Rankovitch and to Mosha Pijade.

"The overshadowing fact in each and every country where the Red Army has been—excepting Czechoslovakia — is hatred of Moscow and of the Moscow-made regime.

Need of Reparations.

"The Red Army will not pull out of Poland or relax its hold on Czechoslovakia—deemed necessary for defense against Germany.

"To sum up the situation—the Soviet Union has emerged from its victorious struggle strong in appearance, triumphant in spirit—but terribly weakened in fact."

So far the report from the returning American expert.

Conclusion: For the first time, the Western powers are going into negotiations with the Soviet Union—over Germany and Austria—holding the high cards. We no longer have to buy Russia to "stay in the war" (as we did in Eastern Europe) or to "enter the war" (as we did in the Far East). This time the Soviets are on the asking end. They want what only we can give—maximum reparations, maximum assistance in the way of credits and merchandize, maximum tranquility in all areas capable of contributing to Soviet reconstruction.

Yankee Traders.

This time, the democracies need nothing from Russia. They should be able to obtain a great deal in exchange for positive contributions toward Soviet reconstruction. They might, for instance, aim at obtaining guarantees of a non-Communist Gerany, a truly independent Austria, a truly independent, non-Communist Korea, a non-Communist China and no armed interference in the Balkans.

If our representatives are in no hurry and realize that the Soviets, need for a German and an Austrian treaty is far greater than ours, they should be able to drive with the Russians the kind of bargain Stalin drove with us at Tehran and Yalta—pretty much on a take-it-or-leave-it basis.

For alone in the world, we have what Russia must have if recovery is to be swift or sure—credits, machinery, industrial know-how, a larger slice of German reparations. The problem is to produce Yankee traders.

CARL C. MOSE QUITS AT WASHINGTON U.

Carl C. Mose, sculptor, resigned from the faculty of Washington University Art School today, effective Feb. 1. He said he would devote his entire time thereafter to creative work in sculpture, after having given much of his time for the last 20 years to teaching. He is having a new studio built in the rear of his home at 4478 Maryland avenue.

Both Mose and Dean Kenneth Hudson of the Art School said today that the change was due wholly to the sculptor's wish to give his time to creative work. Dean Hudson said Mose would be replaced as an instructor for the second semester, by Richard Duhme, a part-time teacher at John Burroughs School. Duhme, a Burroughs graduate, studied at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts with Walker Hancock, former St. Louis sculptor. He won two foreign travel scholarships and taught in the Pennsylvania Academy's summer school at Chester Springs, Pa.

Mose joined the university faculty in 1936. He had been an associate professor at Carleton College, Northfield, Minn., and an instructor at the Chicago Art Institute and the Corcoran Gallery, Washington, D. C. He served as an Army Air Forces captain in the Pacific in the war. He is 44 years old. Duhme, 32, served in the European theater three years as a sergeant.

Mose studied for 16 years with Lorado Taft, and for three years with Albin Polasek in Chicago, in addition to study in New York, Paris, Amsterdam and Copenhagen. In 1928 he was one of five finalists in the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier competition, was in charge of sculpture for Washington (D. C.) Cathedral, executed the relief on the baptistry doors of Christ Church Cathedral here and won a national competition for large figures for the Post-office and Federal building at Salina, Kan.

Mose's head of Ithe Frank B. Kellogg, former Secretary of State, is in Corcoran Gallery, Washington. Others who have been his subjects are the late Supreme Court Justice Pierce Butler; the late William Holland Wilmer, Johns Hopkins University eye surgeon; the late Charles Nagel and Dr. Evarts Graham of St. Louis.

DR. LOUIS C. ROHLFING FUNERAL

Funeral services for Dr. Louis C. Rohlfing, a retired physician who had practiced in St. Louis for more than 55 years, will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Lupton undertaking establishment, 7233 Delmar boulevard, University City. Burial will be in Lake Charles Cemetery.

Dr. Rohlfing, 81 years old, died of infirmities of age Saturday at Bethesda General Hospital. He had been retired for about 10 years and lived with a daughter, Mrs. Walter Funk, 7420 Teasdale avenue, University City. He is survived also by a sister, Mrs. Anna Meyer of Kansas City, Kan.

FUNERAL OF H. L. GROSSWILER

The funeral of Harry L. Grosswiler, treasurer of the Webster Publishing Co., was held today at St. Michael's Catholic Church in Shrewsbury, with burial at SS. Peter and Paul's Cemetery.

Mr. Grosswiler, who was 39 years old and lived at 7523 Lansdowne avenue, Shrewsbury, died Friday at St. Mary's hospital of a liver ailment. He had been associated with the publishing firm, at 1808 Washingtoon avenue, for 20 years, and had been active in youth organizations in his parish. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Eleanor Grosswiler, and four daughters.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

MISS PATRICIA JANE KENNEDY, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Robert Kennedy, became the bride Saturday morning of Terry Francis McAuley. The ceremony, which took place in a simple setting of white flowers and greenery arranged on the altar of Christ the King Church, was performed by the bride's uncle, the Rev. Ralph W. Warner S.J., pastor of St. Malachy's Church. Afterward the families and relatives were invited to breakfast at the Kennedy home, 7155 Washington boulevard.

The bride wore an emerald green suit complemented by a beaver hat and muff. Her flowers were white orchids. Her sister, Miss Jeanne Kennedy, as the only attendant, chose a sapphire blue suit, with which she also wore a beaver hat. Her corsage was of white gardenias.

Mr. McAuley, son of Mrs. Joseph A. Tyghe, 6023 Waterman boulevard, and the late Terry Francis McAuley, had his brother, Joseph Tyghe, as best man. The bride's brother, Robert W. Kennedy, and Thomas Shea served as ushers.

Mrs. Kennedy wore an atom blue dress with black ostrich feather hat and a gardenia corsage. Mrs. Tyghe's gray suit was complemented by a navy blue hat trimmed with a green taffeta bow. She also wore gardenias.

Present from out of town for the wedding were the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Edwin T. MacCamy, who came here from Seattle, Wash., and the bride's aunt, Mrs. Paul J. Kennedy of Oxford, Ind.

The former Miss Kennedy attended Sacred Heart Academy, St. Charles, and Maryville College. She is the sister of Mrs. John J. Bick, Miss Florence and Miss Carroll Kennedy. Mr. McAuley teaches logic at St. Louis University, of which he is a graduate. A lieutenant in the Navy in the war, he served in the Pacific. He is also the brother of Mother Nancy McAuley of the Sacred Heart order, and Raymond Redden McAuley, who is studying for the Jesuit priesthood.

The couple will live in St. Louis after a wedding trip to Chicago.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Kline and their daughter, Patricia, sailed from Rio de Janeiro Dec. 31 and are expected here the latter part of the month to visit Mrs. Kline's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Ritchie, 7221 Balson avenue, University City. After a short visit here Mr. Kline will proceed to Washington, where his wife and child will join him the first part of April and accompany him to Cairo, Egypt, on his new appointment to the American Embassy there.

MISS MARY HERSCHEL DRABELLE and Frederick Theodore Luke will be married Saturday, Feb. 8, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herschel John Drabelle, 7118 Maryland avenue. Only members of the bride's immediate family will be present at the ceremony, to be performed at 5:30 o'clock by the Rev. Dr. James W. Clarke, pastor of Second Presbyterian Church. A few close friends of the bride and bridegroom, invited informally, will call afterward to offer their congratulations.

Miss Drabelle's cousin, Miss Marcia Toensfeldt, will be maid of honor and James Adams the bridegroom's best man. Mr. Luke and his bride will leave after the reception for a wedding trip and will occupy an apartment on Bartmer avenue on their return.

Mr. Luke's parents, Col. I. A. Luke, U.S.A. (retired) and Mrs. Luke, will be unable to come to St. Louis for the wedding, but the bride and bridegroom plan to visit them next summer at their home in Palo Alto, Calif.

* * *

Miss Patricia Niedt, debutante daughter of Mrs. Edwin R. Meyer, 4540 Lindell boulevard, will return home from Mills College, Oakland, Calif., early next month following the first semester's end.

Mr. and Mrs. Meyer, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Harold MacCarthy, 625 South Skinker boulevard, plan to depart Feb. 25 on a late winter excursion in California. Stopping first in San Francisco, they will call for Miss Niedt's automobile and drive to Los Angeles and Palm Springs. They will be away until the first part of April.

Mrs. Meyer's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bard French, are the parents of a son, who was born Jan. 10 and named for his father. The Frenches (she was Arleen Niedt) are occupying the carriage house at 1 Washington terrace, where her father, George E. Niedt, and Mrs. Niedt, live.

* * *

Mrs. Smith Looney of Memphis, Tenn., has arrived to visit her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Montgomery See, 41 Kingsbury place. She will be here several weeks. Mrs. See gave the first in a series of luncheons for the visitor Tuesday afternoon at her home. Other parties will begin later this month.

Mrs. Otto G. Tinkey, 5835 Bartmer avenue, was hostess at a small buffet supper Friday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Penn of Goshen, Ind., who were in St. Louis for a few days en route to their winter home in Los Angeles.

CONFERENCE OF CARTAGE FIRMS OPENS HERE TODAY

General sessions of the Local cartage National Conference, representing more than 1000 trucking companies, opened today at Hotel De Soto. Reports of committees which worked yesterday on recommendations for future conference policy were presented to the delegates, including more than 50 from St. Louis.

J. N. Bauman of Detroit, Mich., vice president of the White Motor Co., will speak on control of trucking operations. The conference, affiliated with the American Trucking Association, also will consider industry problems including labor relations, legislation and traffic control systems.

Frank Floyd of Washington, D. C., executive secretary of the organization, said hauling rates, air cargo and radio equipment for delivery trucks also would be discussed. The conference closes after tomorrow's general session.

MRS. WARREN BRUCE FUNERAL

Funeral services for Mrs. May Cobine Bruce, wife of Warren Bruce, a St. Louis insurance broker who died in 1936, were held today at the Lupton undertaking establishment, 7233 Delmar boulevard, University City. Burial was in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

Mrs. Bruce, 81 years old, died of infirmities of age Friday at Deaconess Hospital. Surviving are a son, Warren C. Bruce, with whom she lived on Spoede road, St. Louis county, and a sister, Mrs. Leonard F. W. Stuebe of Danville, Ill.

S. R. M'CORMICK DIES; INVENTOR CYRUS'S SON

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., Jan. 20 (AP)—Stanley R. McCormick, youngest son of Cyrus McCormick, inventor of the harvester, died yesterday of pneumonia at his estate in Montecito. He was 72 years old.

McCormick was graduated with scholastic honors in 1895 from Princeton University. Ten years later, after he had begun what promised to be a brilliant career in business, his mind failed. Some of the world's leading physicians studied his strange mental affliction and more than $500,000 in medical fees were spent prior to 1929 in futile attempts to cure him.

Although adjudged incompetent in 1906, he was heir to the estate of his father, valued in excess of $50,000,000, and had an income in 1941 of $2,508,313. Of that, his expenses were $829,039, including a $300,000 allowance for his wife, Katherine Dexter McCormick.

In 1931 Mrs. McCormick lost, by decision of the Supreme Court of Illinois, her long fight to e appointed sole conservator of the person and estate of her husband. The battle was waged through Illinois and California courts, with Mrs. McCormick opposing her husband's brothers, Harold and Cyrus J., who were appointed co-conservators with her by a California court.

She alleged that the brothers and their sister, Mrs. Anita McCormick Blaine, had placed her husband under the c are of psychiatrists whose methods she did not approve. Psychoanalysis—the psychology of Sigmund Freud—became one of the central issues of the court case.

FUNERAL OF MISS EMILY SCHMID

Funeral services for Miss Emily M. Schmid, sister of the late Adolph E. Schmid, who was chief accountant in the Post-Dispatch advertising department, will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Alexander undertaking establishment, 6175 Delmar boulevard. Burial will be in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

Miss Schmid, who was 82 years old, died of cerebral hemorrhage yesterday at the Bonhomme Restorium, 9564 Old Bonhomme road, Olivette. She is survived by a brother, A. Charle Schmid, 6249 Northwood avenue.

MISS LIGIA RAMIREZ

TEACHER FROM ECUADOR STARTS SCHOLARSHIP HERE

Miss Ligia Ramirez, a tiny, dark- haired, 22-year old schoolteacher from Quito, Ecuador, began to get acquainted with St. Louis schools today as she embarked on a two-year scholarship at Harris Teachers College. She arrived late Saturday by plane and will make her home in St. Louis at 6142 Simpson avenue, with Miss Carol Pickering, a teacher at Horace Mann school.

Miss Ramirez was selected for the scholarship by the Institute of International Education from among many applicants. She put in her application more than two years ago, but was required to become fairly proficient in the English language before it could be approved. "Many, many teachers dream of coming to the United States," she said, "because we know about your advanced methods of teaching and the fine schools you have for all people."

Population growth is outstripping the educational system in Ecuador, she said, and the country needs many new schools and teachers, particularly in the rural areas. As in the United States, teachers are poorly paid in Ecuador, she said. Miss Ramirez's scholarship is made possible by the St. Louis Board of Education, which grants tuition, and Stix, Baer and Fuller department store, which provides for her subsistence.

Chevalier Returning to Broadway.

PARIS, Jan. 20 (AP)—Maurice Chevalier is going back to Broadway. The straw-hatted comedian said he would sail for New York Feb. 28 and appear in a two-hour, one-man show.

REVOLVER TO BE USED IN SYMPHONY CONCERT

It Will Be Instrument in Number on Kostelanetz Program Tonight.

A revolver will make its local debut as an orchestral instrument this evening when Andre Kostelanetz appears as guest conductor of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra in a special concert in Kiel Auditorium Opera House at 8:30 o'clock.

The weapon will be fired during the performance of the ballet music from "On Your Toes"—also known as "Slaughter on Tenth Avenue"—by Richard Rodgers. A blank cartridge will be used.

Kostelanetz, whose concert tonight will be his last appearance with the local orchestra this season, will offer Tschaikowski's "Pathetique" symphony as his major work. Also listed for the first half of the program is the ballet suite from "Cephale et Procris" by Gretry.

The second part of the program will be given over to all-request numbers. These will include, in addition to the Rodgers selection, an orchestral transcription of Addinsell's "Warsaw Concerto"; the conductor's own arrangement of Debussy's "Claire de Lune"; "Lotus Land" by Cyril Scott, and "Cloudburst" from the "Grand Canyon Suite" by Ferde Grofe.

MAYORS URGED TO OPPOSE HOSPITAL, SCHOOL FUND CUTS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—Former Mayor Walter C. Chandler of Memphis, Tenn., urged the United States Conference of Mayors today to request Congress "most earnestly" not to curtail federal aid for airports, highways, hospitals and education.

"Any drastic curtailment of projects designed for the security and protection of the nation can not be justified on the theory that the budget must be balanced at once regardless of the consequences," he said. Chandler said a nation-wide campaign must be organized to obtain passage of long-range legislation for federal aid to housing. He asserted enactment of such a measure was being stalled by "the powerful lobby organized by private interests."

"Serious blight and slum conditions already have overtaken approximately one-fifth of the area of cities, creating tremendous health and social problems affecting the well-being of more than 25,000,000 people," he said.

THIS IS IT!...THE FLAVOR THAT STARTED A NEW COFFEE CUSTOM IN AMERICA!

THE FLAVOR CAN'T BE MATCHED BECAUSE ONLY NESCAFÉ KNOWS THE SECRET

Just put a teaspoonful of Nescafé in a cup and add hot water. Instantly you get the best cup of coffee you ever tasted. No messy grounds—no waste! Nescafé costs only about 1¢ a cup!

More people drink NESCAFE than any other instant coffee

Nescafé (pronounced NES-CAFAY) is Nestlé's soluble coffee product, composed of equal parts of skillfully brewed soluble coffee and added carbohydrates (dextrins, maltose and dextrose), added solely to protect the flavor. Nestlé's Milk Products, Inc., New York, U. S. A.

How to Hold
FALSE TEETH
More Firmly in Place
Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass by slipping, dropping or wabbling when you eat, laugh or talk? Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This alkaline (non-acid) powder holds false teeth more firmly and more comfortably. No gummy, pasty taste or feeling. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH today at any drug store.

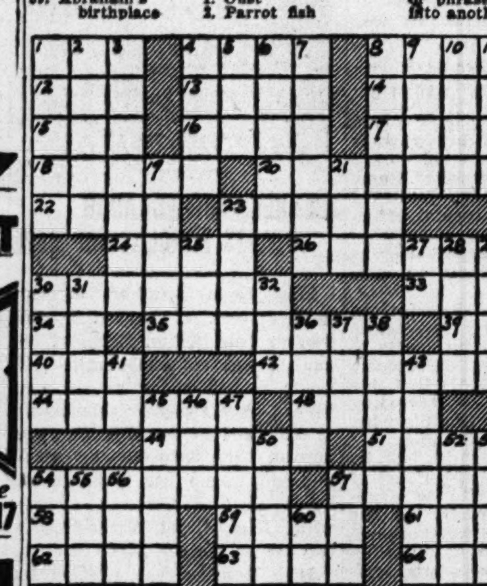

Comfort for the Baby
Favored by generations of mothers for its gentle effectiveness. They also like pure, mild Resinol Soap for baby's bath. Use both.

THREE BOYS MISSING FROM BOAT, SOUGHT

Three boys, last seen when the rowboat they were in was swept against the bow of a barge moored in the Mississippi river at the foot of Victor street, were the object of an intense search by police and Coast Guard late yesterday afternoon.

Police were called by John Bivens, a watchman employed by the Mississippi River Sand and Material Co. at the foot of Victor street, after he saw the rowboat, apparently out of control, disappear behind some barges moored along the shore. The boat, which belonged to the material company, was found afterward banging against the bow of a barge anchored about 100 feet out in the stream. It was empty except for some crude fishing tackle.

The only means of escape from the boat was the barge nearby whose deck was 10 feet above the water, police said. No wet foot prints were found on the deck and the current was believed too swift to permit the boys to swim ashore.

LINEMAN TAPS WIRE, HEARS WIFE, OTHER MAN; KILLS HER

CAPE MAY COURTHOUSE, N. J., Jan. 20 (UP)—Ernest H. Corson, accused of choking his wife to death, told authorities yesterday that he learned of his wife's unfaithfulness when he accidentally tapped a telephone line over which she was talking to another man.

Corson, a telephone company installation man, said she was working on a line about a week ago when he recognized his wife's voice and listened to the conversation.

He said he went to live with his parents after that while his wife, Eleanor, 28, remained in their home at Wildwood Villas with their four children.

Corson told state police he took his wife for a ride and strangled her when she refused to promise to give up the other man. He was ordered held for action by the grand jury.

So. Pac. Wreck Death List Now 8.
BAKERSFIELD, Calif., Jan. 20 (AP)—The death list reached eight yesterday in last Friday's wreck of a Southern Pacific passenger train. Two-year-old Joe L. Jackson of Doyline, La., died in Kern County General Hospital. All the dead have been identified.

LOW GRADE ORE TO SAVE TRI-STATE MINE FIELD

High Grade Lead and Zinc Reserves No Longer Large, Bureau Reports.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP) Production of lead and zinc from high-grade ores in the Tri-State District of Oklahoma, Missouri and Kansas is expected to decline, but millions of tons of low-grade ores can be mined if conditions are favorable, the Bureau of Mines says.

"Lead and zinc are listed among the critical metals in the United States and production in the tri-state district is expected to decline," Dr. R. R. Sayers, bureau director, said in a report on productive output of the region. "Reserves of high-grade ore are no longer large.

"However, bureau investigations have revealed millions of tons of low-grade ore, which could be mined under conditions of high prices, large-scale mechanized mining, efficient labor, and the best metallurgical treatment methods."

During the past century—from 1850 through 1945 — production from the area totaled 20,755,020 tons of zinc concentrates and 3,334,057 tons of lead concentrates, valued at a total of $1,110,058,581, the report said. In terms of recoverable metals, 10,609,408 tons of zinc and 2,529,121 tons of lead worth $1,691,282,419 were mined.

The output decreased gradually during the war, the report said. In 1941 it was 258,837 tons of recoverable zinc and 41,080 tons of recoverable lead, while in 1945 it was 139,274 tons of recoverable zinc and 23,556 tons of recoverable lead.

Annual output of the district from 1907 through 1945 varied from 23 to 66 per cent of the national zinc output and from 5 to 18 per cent of the national lead total with normally about 7000 men employed in mines and mills.

The largest annual output was in 1926 with 423,800 tons of zinc and 102,117 tons of lead—54.7 per cent and 14.9 per cent of the national totals, respectively. In 1945 the area mined 22.7 per cent of the nation's recoverable zinc and 6.1 per cent of the recoverable lead.

Prices of lead concentrates were $49.43 a ton and zinc concentrates $11 from 1870 to 1897. They reached a record high of $124.65 for lead concentrates and $109.60 for zinc concentrates in 1945.

Discovery of lead near Joplin, Mo., in 1848 first aroused interest in the tristate section. Large scale zinc mining began near Granby, Mo., in 1871.

M'ARTHUR REPORTS PROGRESS TOWARD SELF-RULE IN KOREA

TOKYO, Jan. 20 (AP) — Despite a wave of civil disturbances which cost the lives of at least 44 policemen and 39 rioters, southern Koreans made "real progress in October toward greater participation in their own government," Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported today in the latest of his monthly occupation reports.

Summarizing United States military government activities in Korea during October, MacArthur noted "violence and disorder in widely scattered places during the early days of the month." He accused "agitators and propagandists" of promoting riots, attacking police stations and stealing arms and ammunition.

In several places police were overthrown and martial law had to be declared.

In the same month, however, he said the southern Koreans (the northern half of the country is Russian-occupied) held their first elections since the Japanese annexation of 1910, with rightists winning 31 of the 45 elective seats in the legislative assembly. Independents won 12 and leftists two.

SMALL FIRMS DID BETTER IN WAR THAN BIG ONES

tions or 94 per cent of all the manufacturing firms in the country.

Increase in Acquisitions.

Commerce Department officials reported also that the end of the war brought a large upturn in acquisitions of smaller plants by large companies. But they agreed with the Federal Reserve officials that the absorptions of small companies might have taken place despite a general betterment in the financial position of the smaller firms.

Many a prosperous small company sold out rather than fight its way through the shortage problems of reconversion, Commerce aids said, and many large companies paid high prices for small establishments which could supply materials or provide sales outlets for finished products.

The Federal Reserve study showed that 1945 earnings—before federal income taxes—were "much larger than before the war" for companies of all sizes, although smaller than in 1944 and 1943.

"For example, in terms of return on net worth, they more than tripled between 1940 and 1945 in the case of very small non-durable goods manufacturing concerns, large wholesale trade firms, and medium and large retail trade firms," it added.

Increase in Rate of Return.

"Even after deduction of federal income taxes . . . very small concerns in manufacturing and wholesale trade and concerns of all sizes in retail trade in the aggregate showed a rate of return on net worth in 1945 which was from one and one-half to two times as high as in 1940.

"In general . . . this rate of return in 1945, as well as its increase over 1940, was greatest for concerns with assets of less than $250,000."

As a result of this wartime earnings trend, the study reported, the growth in working capital by the end of the war "usually was greater among small than among large concerns."

The study showed a five-year increase in total assets of small durable goods manufacturers (those with less than $1,000,000 assets) or about 140 per cent; of medium-sized firms ($1,000,000 to $10,000,000 assets) of about 90 per cent, and of large firms, about 40 per cent. Non-durable goods manufacturers—those in the textiles, leather and similar lines—showed a roughly corresponding relationship.

Among trade concerns—as distinguished from manufacturers—small wholesalers (those with less than $250,000 assets) showed an increase of about 60 per cent in assets between 1940 and 1945, while medium and large companies increased about 45 per cent.

Among small retailers the picture was reversed: their assets gained about 45 per cent, while those of large retail establishments increased by more than 50 per cent.

U.S. Cotton Arrives in Japan.
TOKYO, Jan. 20 (AP)—A total of 777,--1 bales of raw cotton has arrived in Japan from the United States as of last Sunday, the Japan Raw Cotton Import Association reported today. By the end of February Japan should have received the full 890,000 bales allotted from the 1946 crop, the association said.

PROFIT-TAKING LOWERS QUIET STOCK MARKET

Inclination to Hold Aloof Pending Light on Wage-Price Situation, Taxes, Labor Problems.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP)—The recent stock market upswing, following restoration of margin trading, ran into profit cashing trouble today and leaders, with scattered exceptions, retreated to the casualty division.

Aside from an occasional active flurry, dealings were relatively slow throughout. The direction was downward from the start but timid support eventually arrived and reduced extreme losses of two or more points in assorted cases. Most recoveries failed to hold and many pivotals closed at or around the day's lows, with a few "thin" issues off 3 or so.

Of 920 issues traded 590 closed lower, 195 higher and 135 unchanged. There were no 1946-47 new highs but 5 made new 1946-47 lows.

On the Losing Side.

N.Y. Central enjoyed a bulge in the third hour but was unable to retain all of its better than a point advance. The company announced it had laid off some 7000 maintenance workers, due to seasonal conditions and in accordance with a broad policy of cutting expenses. It also was recalled that on Jan. 8, the Alleghany Corp., revealed it had bought 162,500 shares of this road.

On the losing side were U.S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Chrysler, U.S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, International Harvester, Caterpillar tractor, American Telephone, Kennecott, American Smelting, Dow Chemical, du Pont, Union Carbide, Johns-Manville, U.S. Gypsum, Schenley and Great Northern.

A little reinvestment demand was a steadying influence for the list as a whole. Commission house clients, however, inclined to trim accounts or hold aloof pending more light on wage-price situations, taxes and labor legislation. A sharp drop in the price of silver served to accentuate speculative caution.

Trend On the Curb.

Among curb laggards were Cities Service, Electric Bond & Share, Gobel Inc., Mesabi Iron, United Light, Raytheon and Aireon.

Those who view an expanding short interest as bullish—customers who borrow stocks to sell must eventually repurchase them—hardly were enthused by the latest Stock Exchange figures which revealed that, as of Jan. 15, the short aggregate stood at 798,081 shares, a drop of 95,097 from the Dec. 13 position.

Among the widest short reductions during the month were Baltimore & Ohio to 33,210 shares from 47,980, Equitable Office Building to 3600 from 14,400, N. Y. Central to 22,100 from 30,159 and U. S. Steel 12,914 against 15,304.

WILSON & CO. 1946 NET EQUALS $3.43 A SHARE

CHICAGO, Jan. 20 (AP)—Edward Foss Wilson, president of Wilson & Co., Inc., said that the company in the last fiscal year had a net income of $8,311,560 and described the year as "one of the most profitable" in the concern's history. The 1945 net was $5,036,602.

Wilson attributed the company's earnings "largely" to the "wide diversification of our business." Besides meat and other food processing, Wilson included the Wilson Sporting Goods Co. and United Chemical Division.

Wilson said that "meat production in 1947 is expected to be somewhat larger than in 1946" and that "consumer incomes at or near present levels should continue to provide the demand for a large volume of meat at reasonable prices."

Net earnings, the report disclosed, amounted to 1.89 per cent of sales, against 1.07 the previous year. After deducting a full year's dividend requirements on the new $4.25 preferred stock, net earnings for the year applicable to common stock amounted to $3.43 a share, compared with $1.64 in 1945.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP)—Colorado Fuel and Iron Corp. and subsidiaries today reported for six months ended Dec. 31 a net profit of $1,901,436, equal to $1.46 a common share, compared with a loss of $410,018 in the corresponding 1945 period.

Catalin Corp. of America in a preliminary report for the year ended Dec. 31 showed net profit of $793,681, or $1.40 a share, compared with $198,740 or 36 cents a share, in the preceding year.

CHICAGO, Jan. 20 (AP)—Celotex Corporation today reported net income for the fiscal year ended Oct. 31, 1946, totaled $3,824,325, equal to $4.17 a common share.

In the preceding fiscal year, net income was $605,525 equal to 57 cents a common share.

STEEL INDUSTRY OUTPUT THIS WEEK POST-WAR PEAK

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP)—The steel industry will touch a postwar production peak of 91.8 per cent of capacity during the current week, the American Iron and Steel Institute forecast today.

This will mean an output of 1,617,900 tons, against production at 91.2 per cent of capacity, or 1,607,300 tons last week, the institute reported.

A month ago, the industry operated at a rate of only 72.8 per cent, or 1,283,000 tons, primarily because of the soft coal strike.

COTTON MARKET CLOSES 65C TO $2.60 LOWER

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP)—Cotton futures were reactionary today under heavy pressure of general liquidation and hedging, apparently inspired primarily by deflation sentiment among traders. Prices slumped more than $3 a bale in early dealings, but in later trading recovered almost $2 a bale from the lows on mill buying, along with short covering, and a little replacement demand.

Later afternoon prices were 15 cents to $1.65 a bale lower than previous close. March 30.09c, May 29.35c, July 27.90c.

Shipping Pepper by Air.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP)—To meet a pepper shortage which the American Spice Trade Association said was more acute on the west coast than in the east, thousands of pounds of the commodity are being shipped to Seattle, Wash., by air. United Air Lines said today 11,000 pounds, first part of a shipment of more than 30,000 pounds, were transported Saturday.

SILVER PRICE IS 19¾C BELOW TREASURY BASIS

The decline over the weekend was almost as sharp as that registered during the entire preceding week, when prices were reduced by 6 cents to 76 cents an ounce.

Bullion dealers have reported some evidence of a "buyers' strike" in the silver market against prices regarded as too high.

When silver trading was resumed last August for the first time in nearly four years, the price was maintained at 90½ cents.

In a digest of its annual review of the market today, Handy & Harman said the decline which began late in December "was brought about not by actual or threatened excess offerings but by the dwindling of demand to the near-vanishing point."

Purchases from abroad could not be made, it added, because of lack of dollar exchange.

The December weakness, the review said, "was caused initially by London's effort early in the month to sell silver in New York as the result of a sharp decline in the Indian market, which had previously been above London."

Estimating 1947 consumption of silver by arts and industries in the United States would fall below the 105,000,000 ounces used in 1946—which was about triple prewar consumption—the review continued:

"It would appear as if the total industrial demand of North and South America would about offset western hemisphere mine production, excluding the United States' output which will be absorbed by the Treasury.

"However, there are other supplies to the extent of some millions of ounces which will be available for sale in New York."

WHEAT PRICE RALLY ON U. S. BUYING BASIS

CHICAGO, Jan. 20 (AP)—Announcement that the C.C.C. would pay $2.05 a bushel for wheat in store at Kansas City created a short-covering movement in the January wheat contract on the board of trade today.

At one time the nearby wheat delivery was up more than 3 cents. Other bread cereal deliveries were firm, receiving support from commercial interests. Corn advanced fractionally with wheat, but oats held within a narrow range.

The CCC bid of $2.05 for No. 1 hard wheat at Kansas City was based on delivery of warehouse receipts on or before Feb. 20. A discount of a cent applied for delivery from Feb. 21 to Feb. 28 and a discount of 2 cents for delivery between March 1 and 10.

Meanwhile, the Chicago CCC office offered 14 cents a bushel over the January contract price for corn delivered at Baltimore. This was a reduction of ½ cent from last week's price. This office has not been a recent buyer of wheat.

Grain men expected corn to continue to come to market in good volume. Today's arrivals totaled 582 cars. Receipts at primary markets last week were the heaviest since the 1946 crop began to move. Visible supply was expected to show an increase when the figures were announced at the market's close.

LOCAL CASH GRAIN.

MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE, Jan. 20.—In the cash grain market today corn steady, 30 cars sold and oats steady, 6 cars.

SOME RAILS LOWER IN AN UNEVEN BOND LIST

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP)—Selected lower priced rails retreated in the bond market today although corporates generally moved narrowly and unevenly.

Near the start of the final hour declines of fractions to more than a point affected Katy 4½s, St. Paul convertible 4½s and Rock Island refunding 4s. On the upside were New York Central refunding 5s, Central New York Power 3s and American Tobacco 3s of '62.

Wheat closed 1 to 3½ cents higher, January $2.17; corn, ¼@¾c higher, January $1.33¼@1.33, and oats, ¼@⅞c higher, March 75¼@⅛.

Corporates in lower ground included Missouri Pacific convertible 5½s, American Telephone 2¾s of '61, National Dairy 2¾s, Erie 4½s, Seaboard Air Line income 4½s, Lehigh Valley stamped 4s and 4½s and some Frisco issues.

Registering gains were Peoria & Eastern 4s, Third Avenue adjustment 5s, Hudson & Manhattan refunding 5s, Ontario & Western general 4s and Soo Line 4s.

Recoveries here and there in the final hour left Missouri Pacific convertible 5½s unchanged at 24, Baltimore & Ohio stamped convertibles off ⅜ at 56½, and Central of Georgia 5s Series C up 1½ at 13½. Central of New Jersey 4s spurted 4 points to close at 30 while the 5s were ahead 2½ at 35.

JOHN EVANS TO RETIRE AS SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

Head of Lincoln District Branch for 27 Years—Program Planned.

John W. Evans, principal for 27 years of Lincoln (Negro) School, 2236 Walnut street, will retire Feb. 5, the day before his seventieth birthday. The 1460 pupils of his two-building, 36-room school will take part in a program honoring him Feb. 4, and many former pupils, and friends of both Negro and white races, will join in the observance.

Lincoln School district, bounded by Washington and Ewing avenues, Twelfth boulevard and the railroad tracks, and with a section running to the riverfront, is one of the largest in the city, and one of the poorest from an economic viewpoint.

Daily devotional and patriotic exercises are maintained by Principal Evans in Lincoln School. These differ in the various grades, but in most of the rooms they include the singing of a two-verse prayer or recitation of the Lord's Prayer, singing of gospel hymns or of the Negro national anthem, and recitation of the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

The principal said to a Post-Dispatch reporter yesterday that the religious exercises, which are not of sectarian character, seemed to meet the approval of parents in the district.

"I feel," he said, "that children should come early in life into a consciousness of the Supreme Being. Many visitors have witnessed our devotional programs, lasting eight to 10 minutes. Sometimes they have asked to have the children sing special numbers, and the children have responded, usually with spirituals, though they have sung Haydn's "Creation" and Handel's Hallelujah Chorus.

"When spirituals are sung, they are the original versions, not the modernized songs heard on some radio programs. I know the songs of the Deep South, though my birthplace was in Indiana. As a youth, I sang for one season with the Fisk University jubilee singers."

Principal Evans has raised funds for several improvements in the Lincoln School plant, one of these being a broadcasting system by which he can speak from his office to all rooms in the school simultaneously. When speakers come to address the school, as firemen do in Fire Prevention Week, they use this system. In the absence of a school auditorium, the principal frequently walks among the children in the school corridors, counseling them.

Evans earned the cost of his education, mostly in Indiana schools, by working as a Pullman porter and dining car waiter, on iron steamers on the Great Lakes, and as a Montana cowhand. He is a graduate of Wabash College, Crawfordsville, Ind., and attended the dinner of St. Louis alumni of that college at the Park Plaza Hotel a few nights ago.

Business men in the neighborhood of Lincoln School have come to know of the principal's work, and merchants have donated grosses of rubber balls, jackstones, games and flags for the pupils' use.

JEWISH LEADER DEPORTED FROM BRITAIN BACK IN U.S.

BOSTON, Jan. 20 (UP)—Prof. Johan Smertenko, vice president of the American League for a Free Palestine, charged today that the British Government was guilty of using "totalitarian methods" in deporting him from England Wednesday.

Landing at Boston on his return from Europe, the Woodbury (Conn.) Jewish leader said only a "technicality" forced the British Government to act against him. He said he planned to protest his exclusion to the State Department at Washington since his visas were in order.

He said he was barred from returning to London after a visit to members of his organization in Paris and Rome because he had accused the British Government of unjustly branding all Jews from Palestine as "terrorist."

STUDENT GETS FIVE YEARS IN FRATERNITY HOUSE FIRE

FULTON, Mo., Jan. 20 (AP)—Thomas Campbell, one of two Westminster College students arrested and charged with arson in the $60,000 Beta Theta Pi fraternity house fire Oct. 26, today pleaded guilty to a charge of culpable negligence after the arson charge had been dismissed.

Circuit Judge W. M. Dinwiddie sentenced the 22-year-old Ironton (Mo.) student to five years in the state penitentiary and then took under advisement an application for a parole.

Also in court was the other student arrested after the fire in which two fraternity pledges suffered severe burns and 33 sleeping members were routed from the flaming three-story structure. He is Otto H. Grosse Jr., Granite City, Ill., whose trial is set for next Monday.

40 CONVICTED OF ATROCITIES AT NAZIS' FLOSSENBURG CAMP

DACHAU, Jan. 20 (UP)—Forty former officials and guards of the Flossenburg concentration camp were found guilty today of torturing and killing thousands of prisoners. A six-man American military court handed down the verdicts. Five men were acquitted. Sentences will be announced later this week.

Prosecutor William D. Denson estimated more than 60,000 prisoners passed through the Flossenburg camp in a year. He said at least 15,000 of them died.

There were 52 defendants when the trial began June 12, 1946. Charges against one man were dismissed. Six other defendants presumably will be tried later.

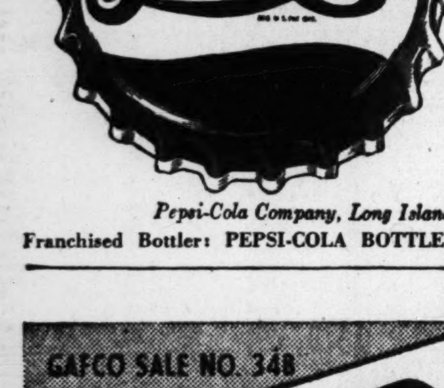

Church of Ascension Vestrymen.

As a courtesy to fellow passengers

Please don't smoke

on Public Service street cars and buses

Many folks enjoy a cigarette, cigar or pipe. But when they "light up" on Public Service street cars or buses, the "second-hand" smoke is annoying to their fellow passengers.

So, as a courtesy to other passengers, please throw away your "smoke" before you board a Public Service vehicle. And please wait until you leave the vehicle before you light up a fresh smoke. It's a small courtesy . . . but one that your fellow passengers appreciate.

YES, it's against the law

You're right. Smoking on street cars and buses is against the law in St. Louis and many suburban communities. But even if there weren't any law, strict observance of "No Smoking" on street cars and buses would be called for by courtesy.

WALTER J. BLACK, PRESIDENT OF THE DETECTIVE BOOK CLUB, OFFERS

FREE — THESE THREE GREAT Perry Mason MYSTERIES

TO NEW MEMBERS

BY ERLE STANLEY GARDNER

Complete IN THIS ONE MAGNIFICENT TRIPLE VOLUME

IMAGINE! Yours FREE—not one, but THREE baffling full-length mysteries by ERLE STANLEY GARDNER, famous creator of Perry Mason, and the man whom the Saturday Evening Post calls "The Undisputed King of Mystery Writers."

Never before have these three Perry Mason best-sellers been brought together in a single volume! And every thrilling word by the great Gardner is here—each story is absolutely complete and unabridged. Clear, easy-to-read type on quality book paper; beautifully bound and stamped. Here is a triple-decker Perry Mason "Murder-Go-Round" that every mystery fan will "eat up." And it is yours—FREE—as a membership gift from the Detective Book Club!

ALL THREE BY ERLE STANLEY GARDNER

Six Million Copies of His Books Were Sold Last Year Alone!

1 THE CASE OF THE BORROWED BRUNETTE

"BEAUTIFUL BRUNETTE wanted—colorful and adventuresome work—AT $50 A DAY!" It all starts with an advertisement worded like that!

Gorgeous Eva Martell is offered the job. She is told that all she must do is occupy a swanky apartment and receive no visitors. She accepts—but she asks Perry Mason if it's legal. The famous lawyer-sleuth decides it is within the law—until Eva's employer is found right in that very same apartment with a bullet through his head!

2 THE CASE OF THE HALF-WAKENED WIFE

IT'S the dead of night. You are aboard a yacht loaded with people who hate one another. Suddenly . . .

A scream! A splash! A shot! Then the cry, "Man Overbo-o-oard!" And you find yourself clutching a beautiful woman who is wearing a nightgown and holding a gun—from which one shot has just been fired!

The lady stands before the court. Accused of murder. Perry Mason, now her lawyer, is the ONLY person in the world who believes her innocent. So what does the lady do? She FIRES him!

3 THE CASE OF THE BLACK-EYED BLONDE

JUST ONE blonde can cause enough trouble—and Perry Mason is all tangled up with THREE! Blonde No. 1 bursts into his office wearing practically nothing but shoes, a fur coat—and a "wow" of a black eye! No. 2, an ex-trapeze artist, is having mighty suspicious "in-law" trouble. And Mason finds No. 3 sprawled in the mud, a bullet through her head!

How can No. 2 help Perry Mason prove that No. 1 didn't murder No. 3? And how can he ever keep his mind on his work with so many blondes around?

'Quick, Watson! The Needle!' Still Good

By John Crosby

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.

AFTER too many sessions with the stainless steel, highly abbreviated dialogue in the hard-boiled school of detective drama, you'll find it a healthful change of diet to turn to "The New Adventures of Sherlock Holmes" on Monday nights, where, in spite of that word "new," the conversation is as leisurely as it was 40 years ago.

TOM CONWAY

The estimable Holmes and the good Dr. Watson still address each other in a sonorous prose decorated with precise and crusty verbs, each as carefully turned as the gingerbread on a Victorian chair.

The other night Sherlock and Watson got mixed up, more or less against their will, in a little mystery called "The Devil's Foot" or, to put it in Watson's terms, they were "precipitated into the middle of gruesome and nerve-wracking events," a phrase that would never occur to Dashiell Hammett.

Mr. Holmes had a visitor, man by the name of Tregenis, who had just had a grievous experience. He had discovered his sister dead and his two brothers stark mad in the "libr'y." "They were beside the fire, the candles quite guttered out," said Mr. Tregenis, who, despite his agitation, never omitted a comma in his recital of the unfortunate affair. "It's uncanny, that's what it is! Something came into that room and killed my deah sistah and dawshed the light of reason from the minds of my two poor brothahs. It's devilish, that's what it is." Strong words, particularly that last adjective, but, of course, it was an unsettling experience.

★ ★ ★

TO THE average American, steeped in the dialogue of the comic page, this manner of discussing a rather serious breach of the law may seem redundant and even a little heartless. Just the same it adds a touch of surprise even to the most routine detective story talk. For instance at one point, Holmes asked a question which has resounded through virtually every mystery story ever written. "What time was it?" he inquired.

"The clock on the steeple was just chiming 12," said Tregenis, a man of the old school who has probably not yet recognized the word "midnight."

Anyhow, Holmes informed Tregenis that he'd let him know if any ideas occurred to him, only he didn't say it like that. "Should anything occur to me, Mr. Tregenis, I shall communicate with you." Holmes, I decided after this remark, would make an excellent writer of memoranda to the troops, an opinion that was confirmed a few moments later when he boasted: "I have every hope of bringing this affair to a satisfactory termination."

★ ★ ★

ANOTHER great difference between Holmes and the deadpan school of American mystery is that it is not considered bad form to betray excitement, providing, of course, it's put in suitable English. Even Holmes, normally an exceptionally cool customer, will ejaculate in moments of deep stress something like: "Great Scott!" Watson, a less stable personality, goes much further. "Ghahstly! Ghahstly!" he exclaimed at one point and later he emitted what sounded in phonetic English like "Haddible!"

Frankly, I like this grave, rounded talk. It gives homicide a degree of dignity notably lacking in the American production. Tom Conway of the movies has taken over the Holmes role from Basil Rathbone. He's had a lot of prior experience solving things as the Saint and the Falcon in the movies. Conway isn't as urbane as Rathbone but then virtually no one else is. Nigel Bruce has been playing Watson for years and still is.

SPEAKING of mystery stuff, there's a transcribed program called "Murder at Midnight" heard in New York on WJZ, Monday nights and widely distributed in other cities. Two things troubled me the other night about "Murder at Midnight." First, it came on at 10:30 p.m., not at midnight; second, there wasn't a murder in the thing. Apart from that it's an apt title.

The name of this particular episode was "The House That Time Forgot" and a very nice little horror story it was. I readily accepted the premise of this story which involved a young couple stepping seven years backwards in time the moment they crossed the threshhold of the house. However, my credulity was severely strained at another point. The young couple was just on the verge of purchasing the house when the real estate agent warned them there were several strange things the matter with it.

"I just thought it fair to tell you all about it before you bought it," said the real estate agent.

Now wait a minute, fellows! Fantasy is all right in its place but let's keep it within reasonable limits.

Try and Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

MME. SCHUMANN HEINK was the soloist at a Chicago concert one afternoon, and had to make her entrance via a narrow aisle between the violins and cellos.

She found the going very difficult, and one musician, endeavoring to be helpful, suggested, "Why don't you try going sideways?"

The portly diva gave him a despairing look and snorted, "Mein Gott! Don't you see I haff no sideways?"

There was a bit of high drama last year in that most unexpected of places, the annual meeting of a big Wall Street bank. The pompous chairman introduced a speaker with whom he was obviously unfamiliar as "one of the distinguished vice presidents of our institution."

The gentleman in question flushed with anger and began his address by assuring the assemblage, "I resent being called a vice president of the institution. I am the fourth assistant cashier."

A visitor from Binghamton looked at the theater tickets his broker had saved for him, and philosophized, "Z row, eh? At least it ought to be the coolest part of the house."

U. S. S. Oklahoma Heads for Scrap Pile

The U.S.S. Oklahoma, first battleship to be sunk in the Japanese sneak attack on Pearl Harbor, nears the end of its days at a Honolulu dock, where workers prepare it for a tow to the West Coast for scrapping. The 29,000-ton vessel was salvaged after the Dec. 7, 1941, assault but was ordered decommissioned in 1944. It was launched in 1914 and was a veteran of World War I convoy service. —Associated Press Wirephoto.

HOWARD CUSHMAN says they tell it about the sports copy desk at the Times. A racing story came in about a horse named Rhododendron, badly pied in transmission. The deskman (handling it) got into an argument about where the "h" should be. "Oh, I'll look it up!" he said.

ART CHILDERS' pet proverb: "Money may not be every thing, but it allows you to choose your own misery." . . . A group were groaning about "Axis Sally" (who did broadcasting for Hitler) being allowed back in the United States.

"She'll probably get a radio contract," growled Hal Horton, "and be advertised as the gal who introduced the all-night disc-jockey program to GIs." . . . The current quip-thefting fad recalls Deems Taylor's crack about song-scribblers who lifted classic melodies.

SEVERAL COMEDIANS were "frying" last night and a well-known punk was on the pan. Jackie Miles stopped the whole thing with this wise comment: "Knockin' is not a good man's racket. When you knock a louse you're doin' him some good. Let's forget the heel." . . . One of our pet Movieville quips concerns the actress who filled out a studio questionnaire. In the place marked: "Education" she wrote: "I was educated by a private tooter."

A COPY DESK VETERAN was giggling at a cub reporter, just bawled out by the city editor.

"What's so funny?" asked the cub. "Isn't that the way he used to yell at you?"

"No," smiled the ex-biggie. "That's the way I used to yell at him!" . . . Another cub asked editor Paul Sann: "Do drama editors get more money than city editors?"

No," was the reply, "but they get more sleep."

DEAR WALTER," writes Joe Fliesler, "Anent pistol-packin' reporters, I carried one on the old New York Globe; enclosed find pistol permit and reporter credentials and please return. Once I wished I hadn't. Such a red face! I was covering a longshoremen's strike and paused at a waterfront bar to see what I could pick up.

"I was nervous and dropped my nickel for the beer. As I stooped over to retrieve it, my equalizer fell out. A character picked it up, handed it to me and taunted: 'Here, sonny, you dropped yer water-pistol.'"

IN MRS. PIOZZI's theatrical memoirs she tells of an actor named Foote, who was a big hammo. He got on a Dublin manager's nerves. The manager kicked the ham in his finale. Later, discussing the incident, Samuel Johnson observed: "At any rate, he is rising in the world. When he was in London no one thought it worth while to kick him."

Economical Menus for Tomorrow

By Meta Given

HAVE you ever tried making pie out of pineapple juice? If not, and if your family is fond of pineapple, then there's a treat in store for you and them. Pineapple pie at its best is a strong competitor of the best of lemon pie. This fruit juice is now abundant on most grocer's shelves, and fortunately is not expensive. It has a wonderful refreshing flavor and with a little ingenuity, it can be put to numerous uses. One of the difficulties about using such juice in pie is in thickening to obtain a filling of the proper consistency for the pie. Any juice that contains sugar has a boiling point above 212 degrees F. and as a result, starch does not swell and cook as normally as it does in plain water. And the higher the sugar content, the greater the difficulty.

The best way to thicken the juice is to heat it to boiling, then slowly stir in the thin paste made by combining the cornstarch with water and cook it rapidly until the mixture is just thickened and clear. The desired consistency is such that when the pie is cooled and cut, the filling will sag just a bit. Of course, the consistency will depend on how soon the pie is eaten. If it is eaten in three hours after removing from the oven, it will require a little more cornstarch than if eaten four or five hours after the pie is removed from the oven because the filling becomes stiffer as it stands.

Pineapple Juice Pie.

No. 2 can pineapple juice (about one-half cup sugar, two and one-fourth cups), one-fourth cup cornstarch, one-fourth teaspoon salt, three tablespoons water, two eggs, separated, one tablespoon butter, one baked eight-inch pastry shell, cooled.

Heat pineapple juice to boiling in a saucepan. Combine cornstarch, salt and water to make a paste. Stir paste into hot juice and continue cooking over medium heat about one-half minute or until clear, stirring constantly. Stir in one-fourth cup of the sugar. Pour a small amount of hot sauce into slightly beaten egg yolks, then return to mixture in saucepan, mixing well. Remove from heat and add butter. Cool filling. Turn into pastry shell. Beat egg whites with rotary beater until foamy. Add remaining one-fourth cup sugar gradually and continue beating until mixture stands in soft peaks. Spread meringue on pie and bake in a moderate oven of (350 degree F.) about 12 minutes until golden brown. Remove from oven and cool on wire rack. Six servings. Note: If using mild-flavored pineapple juice, add one-half teaspoon lemon juice, if desired. Six servings.

Menus for Tuesday.

Sweet Sour Beans.

Pan fry three slices bacon until done. Remove slices to piece of absorbent paper. Heat drippings and blend in one tablespoon flour. Add three-fourths cup liquid from beans and stir until it boils and thickens. Add four tablespoons vinegar, one tablespoon sugar, and one-half teaspoon salt. Remove from heat and let cool slightly. Stir in one beaten egg and return to heat. Cook for two more minutes, stirring constantly. Break up bacon slices with fork and add to one pound hot cooked green or wax beans. Pour the hot sweet and sour sauce over the hot beans and toss lightly. Serve at once. Serves four.

Prune Sour Cream Drops

Five tablespoons shortening, two-thirds cup sugar, one egg, beaten, one-third cup sour cream, two-thirds cup chopped uncooked prunes, one-half cup chopped salted peanuts, one teaspoon vanilla, one teaspoon grated lemon rind, two cups flour, one-half teaspoon soda, one teaspoon baking powder.

Cream shortening and sugar. Add egg and cream and beat a minute. Lightly stir in rest of ingredients. Chill dough. Drop portions from tip of spoon onto greased baking sheet. Flatten with back of spoon. Bake 10 minutes.

Rheumatoid Arthritis

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

MORE people are disabled each year by rheumatic diseases affecting the joints than by cancer, tuberculosis, diabetes and heart disease combined. These rheumatic diseases, which stiffen the joints and cause swelling, tenderness and pain in the areas around them, are also the most common cause of long-continued illnesses.

One of the worst of these offenders, both in the severity of its symptoms and in the number of people it affects, is rheumatoid arthritis. For this reason it is a pity that the exact cause of this painful and crippling affliction has never been discovered.

Today doctors are beginning to suspect that the destructive changes which take place in the tissues surrounding the joints may be only an effect of some more generalized disorder, whose secret trouble-making begins much earlier. Dr. Roland Davison of San Francisco, takes this view, stating that many persons may be sick for months or even years, before the joint symptoms develop.

★ ★ ★

IN THE BEGINNING, the X-ray examination of the joints shows nothing abnormal but, as the disease progresses, destruction of the cartilages, which act like pads on the ends of the bone, may be seen in the X-ray.

The treatment of rheumatoid arthritis requires many months before improvement may be expected. To begin with, efforts should be made to build up the patient's general health, particularly with physical and mental rest. Pain must be relieved by the use of such drugs as the salicylates. When possible, treatment in a hospital for several weeks may be of advantage.

So-called physical measures of treatment are particularly helpful. Simple exercises, especially when the patient is confined to bed, are important. Warm baths, massage, and manipulation or movement of the joints are all helpful as the patient begins to recover. Heat applied to the joints, by means of the electrical method known as diathermy, is also of value. However, diathermy treatments may do more harm than good in the early stages of the disorder.

AS A RULE, no special diet is required. However, the diet should be well-balanced; that is, it should include all of the necessary food parts. In all instances a search should be made for infections, such as may be present in the teeth, tonsils, sinuses, or prostate gland, and if any such infections are found they should be cleared up when possible.

Dr. Davison believes that large doses of vitamin C may be of advantage in some cases of rheumatoid arthritis, and that vitamin D, used in large doses, may also be effective in certain instances. However, when the patient is taking large doses of vitamin D, he must be kept under the care of a physician so that any unfavorable reactions may be noted and taken care of.

Arthritis is not a hopeless disease, but there is need for much further search in regard to the cause and treatment. Once its cause is discovered, it may well be that measures to forestall this crippler can be instituted, so that in the future it will never reach its most painful and disabling stage.

My Day -o- By Eleanor Roosevelt

NEW YORK, Sunday.

IN the past few days I have had a number of visitors who brought me information about various parts of the world. Last Thursday I saw, first, two gentlemen from Tr'este and then a gentleman from China. Later I saw two ladies, one of whom talked about radio programs and the other about the needs of a great woman's college. Finally, I talked to a young American woman who, with her four children, has just returned from Germany, where she lived through the years of the war even though she was divorced from her husband in 1942 and he has remarried.

At luncheon I was joined by Jan Struther, who wrote "Mrs. Miniver" and who is back in the United States, Mrs. Genevieve Forbes Herrick, who is just back from Germany with a very interesting report on WAC activities, and Miss Helen Ferris, editor of the Junior Literary Guild.

• • •

IN THE AFTERNOON I went to Town Hall for a half hour of wonderful music by three singers who are just starting out on concert tours in this country. One of them was the Danish baritone, Frank Wennerholm, who has already made his reputation in opera in Stockholm; a very charming young soprano, Miss Lucy Kelston, sang two duets with him; and I was also impressed by Kenneth Spencer, a young Negro baritone who has sung in "Show Boat" and who is now starting to give concerts. To be privileged to listen to them was a pleasant break in a busy day and gave me a sense of exhilaration, because you felt new talent was going out to give inspiration to the people of our country.

To finish up a busy day, I attended the American Veterans Committee's foreign correspondents' dinner. These young foreign correspondents spoke on the theme of "The Search for World Order." Eric Sevareid, who was chairman of the sponsoring committee, made a deep impression upon me because of his very evident sincerity. Speaking on "prospects for peace," he pointed out that the war had come about not because of any one thing, but because of many things; and achieving the peace therefore was not going to be simple, but complicated.

• • •

OLIVER HARRINGTON spoke on colonies and the colored races. He dealt, of course, with one of the subjects which will affect peace very greatly in the future, for if we cannot learn to live on a basis of mutual understanding and respect with the colored races of the world, the white race, being far less numerous, has a rather serious problem before it.

Unfortunately, I had to leave before the last four speeches were made. But I have a feeling that as the evening developed there were certainly different points of view among these "men of thought," and I am sorry that I could not hear them all. A dinner of this kind is a contribution to the thinking of the country, and I hope the AVC will sponsor others.

Dutch slaves, captured by Moroccan pirates during the Seventeenth Century, introduced to Morocco the Delft type of tile so plentiful in Meknes, Fez, Rabat and Marrakech, in North Africa.

Mushrooms' principal contribution is their excellent flavor, delicate texture and the distinction they give to dishes to which they are added. This, of course, makes them invaluable in making the most of leftover foods or as a meat extender.

FIANCE AND STUDIO SEEK ACTRESS, VIRGINIA MAYO

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Jan. 20 (UP)—Actor Michael O'Shea said today he was worried over the "disappearance" of his fiancee, Actress Virginia Mayo, whom he has not seen or heard from since Friday.

"I've looked all around for her," O'Shea said. "Her landlady says that she saw Miss Mayo and her mother, Mrs. Martha Jones, leave their apartment with some bags Friday morning. They may have gone on a weekend trip without letting me know about it, but I'm going to ask for a search if they don't return pretty soon."

Goldwyn Studio said it had not heard from Miss Mayo either.

"Our casting office tried to reach her Friday without success," a studio spokesman said. "If she does not return today, we may have to ask police to look for her."

Miss Mayo's uncle, George J. Robinson, 4825 Cote Brilliante avenue, said today he did not know where his niece is.

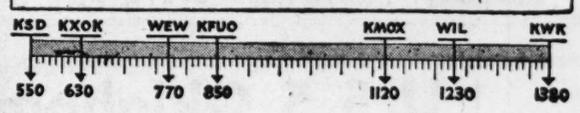

"I'm sure she isn't in St. Louis," he remarked. "If she were, she would have called me."

British to Cut Coal Ration.

LONDON, Jan. 20 (AP)—An official of the British Iron and Steel Federation said today that coal allocations for the steel industry would be cut 25 per cent immediately as a result of Britain's critical coal shortage. Automobile plants are expected to be among the hardest hit.

My OPINION

By MARTHA CARR

Dear Martha Carr:

I AM a married woman and I have got myself involved with a married man. It isn't a case of being young and silly and not knowing any better. We are both in middle life. We started out with just a very nice friendship. We had many interests in common and we had lovely times together for about a year. Then he told me he loved me. I told him I loved him too, thinking of course he was just fooling, as I was most devoted to my family and thought he felt the same about his. Now I realize he isn't fooling but is serious. He won't let me alone, keeps demanding when I intend to divorce my husband so he can divorce his wife and we can marry. But I don't want him. He is all right as a friend, but as a husband, never. He says he is getting impatient and if I don't leave my husband soon he is going to him and tell him of our friendship. He is jealous, checks on my comings and goings. I am almost afraid to go anywhere for fear he will come and tell my husband a lot of stuff in my absence. I am afraid not to go out with him when he telephones me. Once he didn't call for two weeks and I thought myself rid of him. But he came back, saying he couldn't live without me. My husband was suspicious of me for a time, but I argued him out of it. I can't have him know what has been going on. I don't want to leave him. I am getting to hate this man, and I am so afraid all the time I am becoming a nervous wreck. What can I do? IN TOO DEEP.

Letters intended for this column must be addressed to Martha Carr at the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Mrs. Carr will answer all questions of general interest, but of course cannot give advice on matters of a purely legal or medical nature. Those who do not care to have their letters published may inclose an addressed and stamped envelope for personal reply.

I am afraid I can't feel very sympathetic toward your troubles and the attendant nerves. They are by way of just punishment, it seems to me, and if they will serve to make you straighten up and not repeat this foolish incident they will have served some purpose. I strongly doubt that this man will tell your husband of your friendship, for your husband in his turn could tell the same sorry news to his wife. You are foolish to allow yourself to be intimidated. Tell the man next time he calls that you refuse to have any more to do with him. If he threatens you state that you intend to tell your husband about the affair yourself and will do so at once. Furthermore if he doesn't take warning your husband will call the police to settle the matter. As to having this man as a so-called friend now, again, or ever— I hope by now you've learned your lesson and realize that a married woman does not have men friends in the sense of going out with any man not her husband.

IN ANSWER TO "Wondering": When will you 14-year-olds learn not to take each other so seriously? Stop fancying yourself in love. Let Tommy play around as he chooses, date within the group and be your age. Of course I have party suggestions, lots of them. Why not begin with Valentine's or Washington's Birthday? I have a party leaflet for each occasion, and if you will mail me a stamped, self-addressed envelope I'll send them to you.

★ ★ ★

IN ANSWER TO "R. S.": You will find the answer to your question in the World Almanac which you may consult at the Public Library. Space does not permit me to give the list here. Yes, I know the game you mean. It is in my new Valentine Party leaflet which I'll be glad to mail you if you will send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

★ ★ ★

IN ANSWER TO "F. N.": Much depends on the individuals concerned. If you are very young for your age and the boy very mature for his, the marriage might work out, but I strongly doubt it. Better give yourselves a longer acquaintance and the matter much thought.

★ ★ ★

IN ANSWER TO "No Insurance": I am not qualified to answer questions regarding income tax. Take up the matter with the Collector of Internal Revenue, 1114 Market street.

Social Problems

By Emily Post

THE question of replacing something broken or lost is always difficult and most often unsatisfactory. A letter explains as follows: "I offered a friend an old necklace to wear when she was married. It was lovely and at the same time it satisfied the girl's sentiment about wearing something old. In dollars and cents I think the necklace was probably worth very little. After she returned from her extended wedding trip, I still did not get my necklace back. So I asked her one day and with great embarrassment she explained that she had lost it and was sorry. That was the end of the necklace. She has made no attempt to replace it or to show me any further that she is sorry. What do you think I should do?"

There is nothing to do except try to forget about it. However, you might take it as a lesson for the future and don't lend again anything about which you care very much and which cannot be duplicated if lost. This particular bride most certainly should have come to you and explained what happened. Moreover, if possible, she should have bought you another necklace, even though this could not possibly take the place of the old one.

DEAR MRS. POST: I am being married soon and am wondering how to address invitations to the married associates in my office. I do not know their husbands at all. Should I address the invitations to "Mr. and Mrs."?

Answer: If the invitations are sent to the office, you may address them to your office associates alone. But if the invitations are sent to their homes, they should be addressed "Mr. and Mrs." and if the wedding takes place on a Saturday, Sunday or any time the office is closed, it would be proper for the husbands (or wives) to come to the wedding even though they are strangers.

★ ★ ★

DEAR MRS. POST: My present mother-in-law has been very kind to me and I love her very much. She is happy that I am to marry again. (My husband was killed overseas.) Now, I wonder whether it will be right to invite her and other members of her family to my wedding? I do not wish to slight her or them. On the other hand, I do not want to force her into the position of needlessly suffering any more grief. What shall I do?

Answer: Invite her by all means and also the others. Tell them that much as you hope they will come, you will understand perfectly if they don't.

The Odd Child Needs Special Care---Patri

By Angelo Patri

THE odd pupil can be and often is a thorn in the flesh to his teacher. He is the one who comes to school in a red flannel blouse when the teacher particularly requested everybody to wear white and a tie. He is the one who gets sixty in a spelling test when the teacher has set her heart on a class average of ninety-nine and nine tenths. He is the only one absent when a hundred per cent attendance is eagerly expected. He is the last one in and out of the room; at rapid dismissals he is the one who darts back to rescue a paper bag he has cached in his desk. He never does what the others do, the way they do it. He can be relied on for doing just one thing—the wrong thing.

He is in every class in the land. Take him out and another sits in his stead for there is never a hundred per cent in this world, anywhere, any time. What is the teacher to do with this nonconformist? The only thing to do with him is to meet him where he stands and do the best we can to get him to do enough work, to learn enough of the courses assigned to promote his growth, his peculiar growth.

THIS CHILD'S growth is uneven. He will be mature in some directions and infantile in others, eager to act in one field and blind to any other, especially, the teacher believes, that field in which he should be occupied. There is no use in getting angry about him, shoving him out of the class, relegating him to the rear of the room and forgetting him as far as he will allow. That will only increase the difficulties. His condition must be faced and he must be helped to alleviate it. To do any good at all, the school will have to make a study of him, learn who he is, what he is and how to go about teaching him so that he can become a useful person.

The perfection standard so often held by the supervisors, passed down under pressure to the teachers, cannot hold here. This child and all like him will be helped only by meeting the individual peculiarities that are indicated by habitual behavior. Never mind the class averages. Average them if you must but leave this odd one out because he is not average. He looks below average but it might well be that he is really above average when his possibilities have been explored and developed.

★ ★ ★

PROGRESSIVE educational methods make the study of this odd child, and his instruction, according to his abilities, imperative. It sometimes happens, however, that theory based on the ideal becomes something less in practice. Supervisors have been known to preach and press individual instruction and yet to demand a high class average at the end of the term. The odd pupil would not be such a torment to his teacher if this matter of theory and practice was set right and this odd child given his rightful care.

Fix It Yourself

By Hubbard Cobb

THERE are as many different ways of stopping a leaky water pipe as there are cures for head colds. The fact remains that the only sure way of dealing with a pipe that spouts water around is to replace it with a new section. But plumbers can be pretty hard people to get hold of at three o'clock in the morning, so here are a few tips on making temporary patches for water pipes. And remember, we said "temporary."

An effective patch can be made by taking a section of garden hose and splitting it down one side. Put the hose around the pipe over the leaky spot and clamp it firmly in place. The type of hose clamp used for the radiator connections on automobiles is swell for this job but any other hand screw clamp should do the trick.

Tire tape wrapped around a leak will do for a short time providing that the pressure in the line is not very great and the leak is on the small side. Small cracks in cast iron pipes can be repaired with iron cement but what you want for a permanent cure is a welding job. On lead pipes you can take a nailset or similar tool and punch the metal around the leak until the opening is plugged.

A simple substitute for plum pudding is steamed fruit cake served with a hot lemon sauce. Cut in thick slices, place in a covered pie plate and heat in oven. A brandy sauce may be served instead of the lemon sauce.

In ancient times many people believed that citrus fruits were a good antidote for poisons.

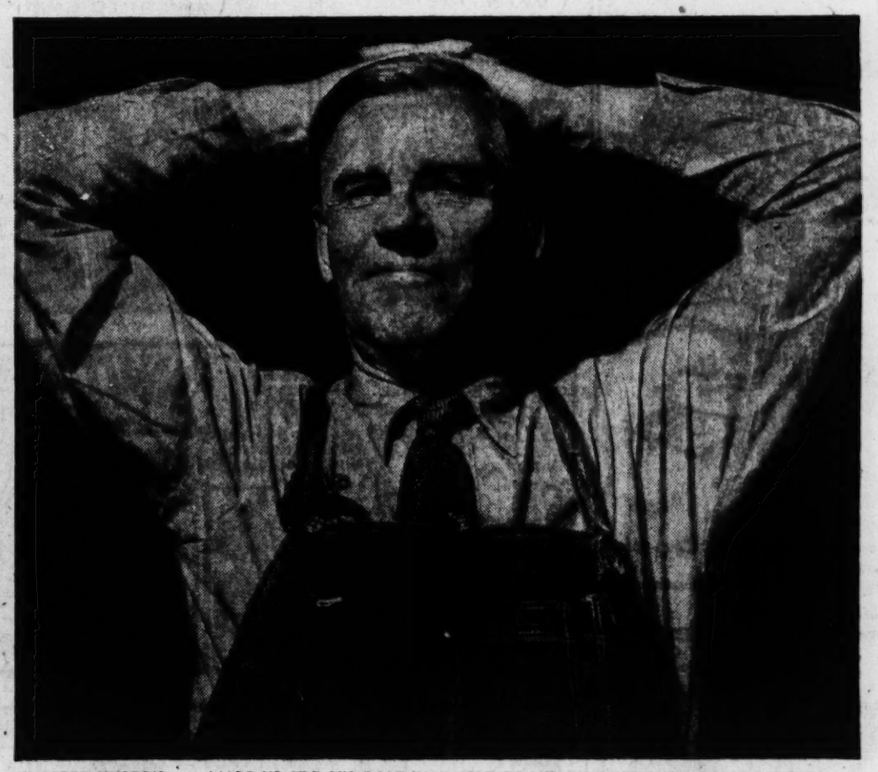

"Don't Get Set in Your Ways"

Walter Huston, Forward Looking at 62, Tells How to Keep Youthful Feeling

By Dickson Terry

A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch

CHICAGO, Jan. 20

WALTER HUSTON . . . MADE UP FOR HIS ROLE IN "APPLE OF HIS EYE" OPENING AT THE AMERICAN THEATER TONIGHT.

"BLESSED are the meek," said Walter Huston as he sat spreading brown makeup on his hands and wrists, "for they shall inherit the earth."

"What the Lord meant," he continued, still looking at himself in the mirror, "is blessed are the open minded. For they shall have all the things they want."

We ventured to suggest that we had never considered a person necessarily open-minded because he was meek. Mr. Huston seemed surprised. So surprised that he turned from his mirror and looked at us. "That," he said with finality, "is exactly what He meant. Blessed are the open-minded people."

He turned back to his mirror. "That," he said, "is from the Beatitudes."

This sojourn into scripture arose from a discussion of old age and its possible effects upon one's attitudes.

Mr. Huston, who has had a long, varied and interesting career in the movies, on the stage, and as an employe of the Union Electric Co. of St. Louis, has now reached the lively age of 62.

"Do I feel old? No."

The "no" was emphatic.

"You never feel old, unless," he added reflectively, "you're sick. Then you feel your age. But as long as you're well there's no reason to feel old."

He was now putting on a blue denim shirt, part of the costume he wears in his current play, "Apple of His Eye," opening a six-day run at the American Theater in St. Louis tonight. It's the story of a genial, middle-aged farmer who finds himself hopelessly in love with a much younger woman.

From beneath his dressing table he pulled out a pair of heavy farm shoes. He grunted a little as he leaned over to pull them on. Then he walked around the dressing room, humming to himself. Then, as though talking to himself:

He pulled a pair of overalls from a hook on the wall, stood looking at them as though deciding whether to put them on. "That," he said, referring to the lines quoted, "is from a song I sing in this play. Or rather, I sing it after the play. It's a song I originally sang in 'Knickerbocker Holiday.'" He pulled on the overalls and sat down at the dressing table again. He started putting brown makeup on his face, the face that is known to millions of movie and theater goers. Short, blunt nose, wide mouth with an easy grin, high cheek bones — the general effect that of a top of a bushel of potatoes. Yet it is one of the most expressive faces in the business.

"But the days grow short when you reach September—" he continued to quote. Then, picking up where he had left off — "Keep young thoughts in your mind. Don't get set in your ways, or become old fashioned. That's the secret."

We asked him if he personally held with the theme of his play —a May and December love affair. He grinned. "Well," he said, "it's a form of insurance for the girl, if she gets an old man who's got some dough."

We talked of movies and the stage, and recalled his first movie, "Gentlemen of the Press".

"Get out of it, boy," he almost shouted at us. "Get out of it." It was plain to see you can't keep thinking young thoughts when people keep reminding you of the past. "I travel around and I meet people," he said, "and they all recall some picture I made, and how much they liked it. 'Gentlemen of the Press' (incidentally, that was Kay Francis's first picture too) and 'The Virginian' and 'Abraham Lincoln' and 'Gabriel Over the White House' and all the rest. It takes you back and you can almost live your life over again."

He was running a comb through his hair which is now almost totally gray. It appeared to have been touched up with something to give it a yellowish tinge. It is getting thinner, but there's still plenty of it.

His last picture, he said, was "Summer Holiday" which is a musical version of Eugene O'Neill's "Ah Wilderness," in which he sings.

"Sure, I sing," he said a little defiantly. "I sang in vaudeville for years. Speaking of vaudeville, that reminds me of St. Louis. Coming to St. Louis is like coming home to me."

He recalled how, back in 1907 to 1909, he was an engineer for the Union Electric Co. at the St. Charles Street power plant. "My son, John, was born while I was living in St. Louis."

A call boy knocked on the door and sang out, "Five minutes, Mr. Huston." He studied his makeup, looked around for a bandana handkerchief which he found on a hook. He never carries a valet or secretary. "They just get in the way," he says. "I can dress myself and answer my own letters."

"The future of the stage?" he said in answer to our question. "I know some of the New York critics have been making dire forecasts, but I don't think they can ever stop anyone from producing plays, or anyone acting in them. It's too much fun. So much more fun than making pictures, for instance."

He is going back, however, to make a picture for his son John, who is now 40 years old and a writer and director. "He wants me to direct, but I like acting. I know I can act, and that's all I care about. But did you know that I've appeared in every picture John has made? Just in a minor role, of course, and as a sort of sentimental gesture. I don't get any billing, and I give the pay to the bit player who had been signed for the part. For instance, did you see 'The Maltese Falcon?' If you'd looked close you'd have recognized me as the old captain who brought in the falcon."

The call boy knocked on the door again. Houston called out, "okay," got up from his dressing table and walked slowly around the dressing room a couple of times.

We realized, for the first time, that we had been watching a gradual transformation that was little short of magic. When he had come in, wearing a homburg hat, double-breasted suit and dark overcoat he had looked more like a man of distinction than the men who hang out on the backs of magazines.

Now he was a clod-hopper of a farmer in overalls, blue shirt, plow shoes and bandana handkerchief. But it wasn't the clothes and the make-up. It was in his bearing, his manner. His shoulders stooped a little, he walked with a heavy step with slightly bended knees. The last two turns around the dressing room completed the transformation. He walked on out the door, paused a moment in the wings and walked onto the stage like a farmer walking into his own back door.

There was a moment's silence, and then the applause was tremendous.

Clergyman Expresses View Similar To Huston's on 'Blessed Are Meek'

WRITING on the Beatitudes in the Jan. 16 issue of the Christian Advocate, national publication of the Methodist Church, the Rev. Dr. Kenneth G. Rogers of Winter Park, Fla., expresses a view similar to Mr. Huston's in regard to the third Beatitude.

As the Master . . . "used the term 'meek' he certainly did not mean an easy-going, sluggish, indifferent, tame or apathetic spirit," writes Dr. Rogers. "Moses is called a 'meek' man and Jesus invited all men to study him in order to learn what meekness means. Paul admonished Timothy to 'follow after meekness' and wrote that 'the fruit of the spirit is . . . meekness.' These leaders of history were strong, independent men. They were meek, but not weak.

"The meek man is the person who is humble enough to learn. He is not constantly flouting his own knowledge before others; he listens in order to learn what others may teach him. He becomes a student of the laws of nature, before he becomes their master. . . ."

Contract Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

THERE is nothing essentially wrong about making a "fancy" bid now and then, but after such a bid it is very wise to turn conservative for the rest of the auction. Let's look at a typical case.

South, dealer.

	♠AK105 ♥KJ ♦Q96 ♣K854
♠Q7432 ♥106 ♦A843 ♣73	NORTH WEST EAST SOUTH	♠J986 ♥9873 ♦K2 ♣Q106
	♠— ♥AQ542 ♦J1075 ♣AJ92

South	West	North	East
1 heart	Pass	1 spade	Pass
2 clubs	Pass	3 diamonds (!)	Pass
4 diamonds	Pass	5 no trump (!)	Pass
6 diamonds	Pass	6 no trump	Pass
Pass	Pass

Even though the club queen was on side, and North made four club tricks, he was still one trick short of his six-no-trump contract, with four clubs, five hearts and two spades.

The three-diamond bid indulged in by North was not bad in itself (although there was very little point in it), but North's subsequent bidding was simply ghastly! Surely it required little imagination to guess that the three diamond bid had struck good support in South's hand, insofar as diamond length was concerned, but, just as surely, North should have realized that in jumping from four diamonds to five no trump (North-South were not using any slam convention) he would be virtually forcing a diamond slam that he himself could not stand. Then, of course, he could no longer support clubs, but would have to run out to six no trump.

It would have been forgiveable for North-South to reach a six club contract, because the duplication in spades was difficult to overcome. The crux, however, is that after North's own "fancy" diamond bid, he should have become extra conservative instead of barging ahead even more strongly on the next round.

Why not become acquainted with the collard green and widen your menu possibilities? Those who are familiar with this vegetable prize its delicious flavor. You can cook it like spinach, either plain or creamed, or boil it with salt pork.
